LOP 150 MILLION OFF WPA SUM IN ECONOMY DRIVE

House Group Set to Pare Other Items.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—An appropriation of 725 million dollars — a slash of 150 million dollars from the amount requested by President Roosevelt—was recommended today by a house appropriation subcommittee to finance the WPA from Feb. 1 to June 30.

Minority Leader Martin, Who Attacks Waste.

The President in a special message last week had estimated WPA needs for the five month period at 875 millions. Although the subcommittee lopped 17 per cent from Mr. Roosevelt's estimate, Republicans and a large group of economy minded Democrats were by no means satisfied. A fight on the house floor to reduce further the appropriation appeared certain.

House leaders exerted heavy pressure to keep the subcommittee, composed of eight Democrats and four Republicans, from cutting the appropriation to an even lower figure. A suggestion that only 600 million dollars be appropriated was defeated by a narrow margin.

Propose Temporary Fund.

Minority members then proposed that only 300 millions be appropriated at this time to supply work relief needs for a two month period. This proposal also was defeated but will be advanced on the floor.

"The intelligent and statesmanlike way to deal with this appropriation is to authorize a sum sufficient to carry on the WPA temporarily," declared Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin. "Congress would then have an opportunity to consider the problem in its entirety. This mad haste is typical of administration tactics when a vital issue is at stake."

The 17 per cent reduction was deemed significant as setting a precedent for considering other large appropriations at this session. One member of the subcommittee said definitly that the same rule would apply to President Roosevelt's request for 1 billion 700 millions for WPA, the national youth administration, and the farm security program during the next fiscal year. A 17 per cent reduction would mean a reduction of 297 millions in that appropriation.

President Is Irritated.

President Roosevelt was irritated when informed at his press conference of the subcommittee's action. He advised newspaper men writing the story to calculate how many persons would be thrown off the relief rolls as a result of the reduced fund.

WPA officials hastily followed up the President's lead by announcing that the 725 million fund would permit them to keep an average of 2,340,000 persons on the rolls during the five month period instead of the 2,800,000 which would have been possible with 875 million dollars.

A further rebuke to the President was administered by the subcommittee when it stipulated that 32,300 administrative employes of the WPA should not be placed under civil service Feb. 1, as decreed by the President in an executive order.

Recall Political Charges.

The administration had planned to "freeze" all the present administrative employés of the WPA in the civil service as a political move. The subcommittee decided, in view of the widespread evidence of the use of relief funds in politics, that these employés were not entitled to the benefits of civil service at this time.

It was learned also that the subcommittee urged Col. F. C. Harrington, WPA head who succeeded Harry L. Hopkins, to begin to weed out of the work relief rolls those persons who have apparently made a "career" out of the WPA. Harrington promised to do so.

The subcommittee report will be adopted by the full committee tomorrow and brought to the floor of the house Thursday. Democratic leaders hope to push the measure through by Friday night.

RADIO COMEDIAN DENIES GUILT IN GEM SMUGGLING

Freed on Bond for Trial Jan. 24.

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Jack Benny, star radio comedian, was indicted today by a federal grand jury on a smuggling conspiracy charge. The indictment, in three counts, accuses him of being involved in the illegal importing, transporting, and concealing of jewelry valued at $2,131. Each count carries a maximum penalty of two years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Mary Livingstone.

Benny pleaded not guilty to the indictment and was released on $1,000 bond. Trial was set for Jan. 24.

The jewels he is accused of smuggling were described as two diamond studded clips and a diamond bracelet—gifts for his wife, Mary Livingstone, who works with him on his radio program. The duty on the articles would have been $700 or $800. Benny is reported to earn $12,000 a week.

Indicted with Chaperau.

The radio comedian, whose home town is Waukegan, Ill., flew here from Hollywood to appear before the grand jury today. After two hours on the witness stand, where he chewed on a long cigar and gesticulated freely, he was indicted jointly with Albert N. Chaperau, self-styled commercial attaché of the Nicaraguan government. Chaperau was convicted yesterday of smuggling gowns into the United States.

Benny was surprised and indignant when told of the indictment.

"I am utterly amazed," he said. "I have never smuggled any jewelry or anything else into this country, and no one can truthfully say or prove that I intentionally committed the acts with which I am charged."

Although the indictment does not explain the details of the government's case, it is believed Benny is named merely as the buyer or receiver of jewelry which Chaperau brought into the country.

George Burns Involved.

Benny's friend, George Burns, also a radio comedian, already has pleaded guilty to a charge of smuggling $5,000 worth of jewelry into the country. The jewelry was a gift for his wife and radio partner, Gracie Allen.

Chaperau also was named in the Burns indictment, as well as in the indictment of Mrs. Edgar J. Lauer, wife of a New York State Supreme court justice, who also pleaded guilty.

Other notables of the stage and screen who have been questioned about the smuggling activity of Chaperau include Katharine Hepburn and Jack Pearl. Chaperau's plea of diplomatic immunity was rejected yesterday by Federal Judge Murray Hulbert, who convicted him without a jury.

Sentencing of Burns, Mrs. Lauer and Chaperau has been deferred until all the smuggling cases have been heard.

WAUKEGAN'S FIRST CITIZEN.

Radio listeners are not permitted to forget that Waukegan, Ill., is Jack Benny's home town. He mentions this frequently on his regular weekly broadcasts. On March 23, 1937, Waukegan claimed Benny as its first citizen, paraded him through the streets, and gave him a gold key to the city. Last night Mayor Mancel Talcott telegraphed the comedian that his home town believes in his innocence and will do anything in its power to help him.

Benny later telephoned Julius Sinykin, a Waukegan merchant and life long friend, to thank Waukegan townsmen for their good wishes. He said he would leave New York about midnight by plane for Hollywood.

THE ANGEL'S TRUMPET BLOOMS (NOT BOOMS) IN PARK GREENHOUSE

The angel's trumpet, a tree-like plant with a flower that looks like a bugle horn, bloomed yesterday at the Garfield park conservatory. The plant, which blooms regularly at this time of the year, is five feet high. The blossom is pure white, a foot long and 6 to 8 inches in diameter. The Latin name is Datura Aborea, but it is a member of the nightshade family, from which also come potato and tomato plants.

Denied Farms, Sharecroppers Sleep on Roads

Sikeston, Mo., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—More than 1,000 men, women, and children, members of sharecropper families, were homeless tonight, camping along the highway in this area. They blame their plight on the operation of the federal AAA crop benefit laws.

Shaded areas indicate roads along which sharecroppers are camped.

Many of the families fled or were rescued from their shanties during the great flood in this area two years ago. Now they again are camped in the open, their plight almost as pathetic and their fate apparently as uncertain as when nature turned its flood waters against them.

Blame Crop Control Law.

Hundreds of such families—about one-fourth whites and the rest Negroes—bundled up their few possessions this morning and trekked from their rickety homes to the highways in a mass demonstration against conditions in southeast Missouri.

Their circumstances were brought about, they asserted, by the federal farm program of restricting the growth of cotton, the principal crop in this area. They say the landlords want to keep for themselves the government crop benefit payments instead of sharing it with tenants.

Along nearly 100 miles of two major U. S. highways, 60 and 61, they made their camps. Those who had tents set them up near the pavement. Others spread blankets on the ground and gathered their children and belongings around them.

Huddle Around Campfires.

They huddled around camp fires or makeshift stoves, sharing the contents of huge steaming kettles. Men feeble with age, one woman so ill she had to be carried to the highway on a cot, and babies crying from fright and hunger added to the distressing picture.

But all was not tragic, for at supper time some camps presented scenes reminiscent of old plantation days. Strummed guitars furnished an accompaniment for singing. Some of the younger children seemed to consider the affair a lark.

The number of camps was growing at nightfall as newcomers straggled in on foot or in dilapidated vehicles. Camps dotted U. S. route No. 60 for thirty miles between Sikeston and Cairo, Ill., and U. S. No. 61 from here to the Arkansas border, ninety miles south.

WIDOW FINDS LOTTERY TICKET FOR $26,300 IN HER HUSBAND'S COFFIN

PARIS, Jan. 10.—When Alex Dupont died last summer he was buried in the white duck suit he used to wear during his years of colonial service.

At that time his widow was not worried about the national lottery ticket he had bought. It was only when the ticket drew the million franc [$26,300] prize in the September drawing that she began looking for it. Not finding it, she concluded it must have been tucked in the white duck suit.

She obtained permission of a court to open the grave. The ticket was found in the suit, and today the widow cashed it.

A BIG MYSTERY COMES FLOATING IN ON PARTY LINE

Miss Lillian Mooney and Miss Helen Zintaira, supervisors on the Albany telephone exchange, cut in on a four party line last night just in time to hear shrill screams and the noise of a struggle. The receiver was off the hook at one of the three "live" numbers on the line. They quickly summoned Austin police.

The phones were at 3660 Grand avenue, 3682 Grand avenue, and 3668 Grand avenue. Sergt. James Cunningham and his squad raced to 3660. No trouble. Sergt. Frank Horak and his squad sped to 3682. No trouble.

The squads met at No. 3668, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Quist. "Our police dogs, Bruno and Adolf, got into a fight," said Mrs. Quist. "I couldn't separate them and yelled for my husband."

The mystery was solved, but the police think it's pretty nice to have such alert telephone supervisors.

Explains Deal to Distribute Bogus Checks

An attorney, testifying as a state witness, told yesterday how he kept police and American Express company officials advised of a plot to pass $500,000 in forged checks of the company while the alleged conspirators believed he was working with them.

The lawyer is Emile V. Van Bever, who lives at the Medinah Athletic club. He was the first witness for the prosecution yesterday at the forgery conspiracy trial of George [Bugs] Moran, prohibition era gangster, and two co-defendants. The case is being heard by Judge James F. Fardy and a jury in Criminal court.

Mistrust Each Other.

Van Bever was called to the stand by Assistant State's Attorney Robert Wright. Moran and the other defendants, Frank Parker, once known as the airplane bootlegger, and Frank Hicketts, alias Ross, glanced at him dourly.

Parker and Hicketts heard the witness testify that, during the hatching of the plot, the conspirators mistrusted each other.

"Watch out for Parker," he quoted Hicketts as saying. "He'll put you in the middle every time."

Two days later, Van Bever said, Parker asked him: "What the hell are you running around with that rat Ross [Hicketts] for? He's no good."

During the negotiations for passing the fraudulent checks Hicketts offered to provide them at 15 per cent of their face value, the witness related. Parker, he said, had asked 20 per cent.

Testifies in Precise Tones.

Van Bever, a stocky, florid faced man with iron gray hair, gave his testimony in precise tones. He said he had lost his law license in California in 1932 but was never disbarred in Illinois. He admitted he had been in jail in Texas in 1934 but said there was never any charge against him and he was released after seventy-eight days.

Van Bever said he first met Parker in November, 1937. He said he also knew Hicketts and Moran.

"On Feb. 20, 1938," Van Bever said, "Parker came to my office in the Reaper Block. We found out that we both knew a Joliet convict for whom I was doing some work. Parker said there was a deal about to come off, by which some paper would be circulated and considerable money made.

Recalls Talk with Hicketts.

"Ross [or Hicketts] came to my office early in March, 1938, and asked me if I knew of the paper deal. I said I did and Ross said: 'If you want to get in, I can take care of you in the deal.' On March 14, I told Parker I was going to Savannah, Ga., to visit some people.

"Parker asked: 'Do you know any right people?.' I asked what he meant. He said: 'Some people who might be interested in handling some of this paper.' I replied: 'I don't think so. I'm going to visit Judge William Fenimore Cooper [formerly of the Cook County Superior court, now retired and living in Savannah].'

"In reply to another question, I told Parker I might be stopping at the Savannah hotel. He said: 'If some of the paper is ready while you are in the south I'll mail it to you.'"

Tells Detective of Plot.

Van Bever said that before he left for Savannah—on March 16—he had a conversation with Sergt. Walter Paradowski of the detective bureau. He was not allowed to relate this conversation, but the intimation was Paradowski advised him to tell the American Express company of the plot and the company urged the attorney to pretend to work with the gang.

"I returned to Chicago on March 23," Van Bever continued, "and three days later met Parker in the lobby of the Reaper Block. He showed me two bogus express checks, one for $50 and one for $100 and asked me how I liked the samples.

"I told him I didn't know a great deal about ink and coloring."

Ever Hear of Maine Spuds? Neither Did Federal Bureau

Bangor, Me., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The Maine potato crop, estimated at 50,000,000 bushels in 1938, is famed throughout the length and breath of the land. But the Federal Surplus Commodities corporation apparently never heard of it. That government agency, it was learned today, has been shipping southern potatoes into Maine for distribution to the needy.

BRITAIN UNITES WITH FRANCE TO STOP MUSSOLINI

Defy Italy's Clamor for African Lands.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today pledged Great Britain to support France in her firm refusal to surrender to Italian clamor for part of France's Mediterranean empire.

The two democracies strengthened their coöperation to offset the Italian-German menace to their common lifeline—the ship route through the Mediterranean and the Suez canal.

British and French statesmen were understood to have left a way open to prevent tension in the Mediterranean between France and Italy from reaching a deadlock—unless Italy is determined to force the issue.

Suggested Mediterranean Parley.

The French government, it was said, would be willing to meet Italy at a Mediterranean conference table with all other countries bordering on the great inland sea for settlement of all Mediterranean problems.

Chamberlain and Viscount Halifax, British foreign secretary, conferred with Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet. Then they left Paris for formal appeasement conversations with Mussolini in Rome.

After the brief conference—sandwiched between the arrival of the British statesmen's train and their departure for Rome—the situation appeared to be:

France will not give an inch to Fascist agitation, which Daladier has described as "blackmail." She will refuse to let her personal quarrel with Italy be brought before a conference where Germany or Britain would act as mediators.

Wins Britain's Support.

In this she has Britain's absolute support and Chamberlain will tell Mussolini so.

However, if Italy is willing to thresh out the entire Mediterranean situation, France will consent to join a conference of nations which would include Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Greece, Turkey, and Egypt.

The Paris conference, in effect, served notice on Mussolini that the two democracies stood firmly together.

Britain's position was announced earlier by Bonnet. The meeting between the premiers and their foreign ministers merely confirmed it. The outcome of the talks was so certain that the statement telling of the closeness of British and French viewpoints was inadvertently marked: "To be issued after tea." It had been written by the British on the train before they reached Paris.

Text of Statement.

The guardedly worded statement describing the teatime conversations said: "While passing through Paris on their way to Rome, the prime minister and Lord Halifax took the opportunity of calling on M. Daladier and M. Bonnet at Quai d'Orsay. In the course of conversations which took place the general identity of view previously arrived at between the two governments was fully confirmed."

The four statesmen began talking the minute Chamberlain and Halifax got off the train in Paris. They talked through tea at the foreign office and as the train pulled out for Rome at 7:30 p. m. At the station Daladier shouted after Chamberlain: "Thank you very much."

Mussolini to Present Demands.

ROME, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The impression gained ground in diplomatic circles tonight that Premier Mussolini would present his demands on France when Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain of Great Britain arrives tomorrow to enlist Fascist assistance in warding off war in 1939.

Diplomats said Il Duce feels it is time for him to collect something for his share in the "Munich peace" of last September, when Germany won the Sudetenland from Czecho-Slovakia.

The Italian press suggested the nation might be satisfied with:

1. Guarantees that the more than 90,000 Italians in Tunisia, French North African protectorate, could retain their Italian citizenship and special rights.

2. A share in control of the Suez canal, a vital connection between Italy and Ethiopia.

3. A free port at Djibouti in French Somaliland and on the Gulf of Aden, and considerable share of the French controled railroad between Djibouti and Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

The newspaper La Tribuna indicated, however, that Italy had not abandoned claims to a share in the French African empire despite French refusals to cede an inch of territory.

La Tribune declared France owed a debt to Italy under the 1915 treaty of London promising Italy territorial "compensations" for entering the world war on the side of the allies.

Boo and Cheer Chamberlain.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Shouting: "Appease the unemployed, not Mussolini!" London jobless today gave Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain a violent sendoff on his trip to Rome.

Mock pallbearers trudged into the railway station bearing a black coffin inscribed: "Unemployed! He did not get winter relief."

Women chanted: "Arms for Spain." Mounted police charged the crowd and smashed the coffin. A woman was trampled in the charge and three persons were arrested.

A large crowd of Chamberlain's supporters also was present, and cheered him and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, to drown out the boos.

NAZIS CONDEMN WRITER TO LIFE IN TREASON TRIAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Ernst Niekisch, former Socialist writer and publisher, was sentenced today to life imprisonment after a secret trial in the People's court. He was convicted of preparations for high treason and violation of the law which forbids the formation of new political parties.

Two other defendants on trial with Niekisch were sentenced to prison terms.

Dr. Wilhelm Drexel was sentenced to three and one-half years' imprisonment and three years' loss of citizenship. He was tried on the same charges as Niekisch.

Karl Troegler, the other defendant, was sentenced to twenty-one months' imprisonment. He was tried only on a charge of violating the law forbidding the formation of new political parties.

RUNS A $12,000,000 FIRM, YET DESIGNS HER OWN CLOTHES

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Maria Kramer, small, dark-haired, and vivacious, runs a 12 million dollar business and still has time to design her own clothes.

She has just become one of the leading hotel executives of the country, as operator of two large midtown New York hotels, and is one of the few women ever to manage such a big enterprise.

Mrs. Kramer bought the Hotel Lincoln for 7 million dollars half a year ago and soon brought it out of the red. Now she has been elected president of the Hotel Edison and she's running both hotels herself.

Mrs. Kramer is the former Maria De Ramirez of Tucson, Ariz., and is the wife of Max Kramer, builder of many of New York's skyscrapers.

CANAL PREPARES TO PASS FLEET TO ATLANTIC SIDE

CRISTOBAL, Canal Zone, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The base force of the United States fleet which is en route from San Diego, Cal., to war games in the Atlantic established a shore patrol with headquarters in the Canal Zone police station here today. The first three fighting ships arrived at Cristobal.

The patrol is to be increased gradually until thirteen officers and 120 men are detailed to supervise the thousands of sailors on shore leave in Cristobal and Colon during the arrival of the entire battle fleet.

CONGRESS TOLD OF WAR ALARMS BY TWO ENVOYS

Committee Is Skeptical of Danger to U. S.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Joseph P. Kennedy, American ambassador to Great Britain, and William E. Bullitt, American ambassador to France, appeared at a secret joint session of the senate and house military affairs committees today. They painted a horrendous picture of the danger of invasion of the United States, or at least of the western hemisphere, by the armed forces of Dictators Hitler and Mussolini.

Ambassador Bullitt [top] and Ambassador Kennedy.

This incident was staged by the President to provide the background for his special message to congress this week recommending increased armament costing 525 million dollars to cope with the menace of the dictators. The White House caused the committees to be assembled to hear the ambassadors who were called back from Florida holidays to bolster up the Roosevelt defense program.

Committee Not Scared.

From what leaked out of the secret session later in the day, it appears that the ambassadors were subjected to a good deal of grilling by committee members who were not impressed by the war scare talk and spent an uncomfortable hour in endeavoring to carry out their assignment to justify the Roosevelt warnings of danger from overseas.

The ambassadors to Britain and France devoted most of their testimony to depicting the menace of Hitler. Singularly enough, however, Hugh Wilson, American ambassador to Germany, who presumably possesses first hand information on this subject, was not brought before the committee, although he is in Washington. Representative A. J. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house committee, was unable to say why, confiding that the committees had not invited the ambassadors.

The information supplied by Bullitt and Kennedy was obtained chiefly from Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's report on the air strength of Germany. This report, which was made to the British government, is reputed to have been a prime factor in convincing the British cabinet that it was necessary to surrender to Hitler on the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

Tell of Lindbergh Report.

The Lindbergh report showed, said Ambassador Kennedy, that Germany possesses today 6,500 top notch fighting planes and 3,000 more that are almost as good. Hitler, said the ambassadors, had been able to terrify the whole continent of Europe because he has an air force powerful enough to wipe out London or Paris overnight and there is no telling when and where he will strike next.

Great Britain and France, according to the ambassadors, are wholly unprepared to resist Germany, though they are feverishly arming.

Senators Bennett C. Clark [D., Mo.], and Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], and several other members took the ambassadors in hand, demanding why the air strength of Germany and the unpreparedness of Britain and France should spell danger to the United States.

Repudiates Outbursts.

"What has Germany done to us that calls for insulting outbursts by officials of our government, such as the Cleveland speech of Secretary of the Interior Ickes?" one of the hecklers wanted to know.

"O, please don't associate me with anything like that," pleaded Kennedy throwing up his hands in a gesture of despair.

Pressed for an explanation as to why the United States should be alarmed about Germany's strength, Ambassador Bullitt said there was danger that Germany might obtain air and naval bases in the West Indies and South America.

"Does Germany have such a powerful navy?" Bullitt was asked. "No, Germany's navy is not so great," he said. "Great Britain has the most powerful navy in the world."

Has No Explanation.

"Then how is Germany going to grab air and naval bases in the West Indies and South America against the combined naval strength of Great Britain and the United States?" committee members wanted to know. Bullitt was unable to give a satisfactory explanation, according to his interrogators.

Some of the senators present had been informed that the real purpose of the President's armament program was to put the United States on a mass production basis so that, in the event of war, great numbers of military planes could be loaned to England and France. President Roosevelt, it is understood, has expressed such a purpose at cabinet meetings.

Bullitt and Kennedy were asked directly whether the administration contemplated lending airplanes to England and France. They denied that there was any such intention.

Following the appearance of Bullitt and Kennedy before the joint meeting of the military affairs committee, it was learned in high official quarters that President Roosevelt is backing down on his national defense program. He is said to be afraid that congress and the country will not support a rearmament program that could not be justified on the basis of the actual requirements of the national defense.

Members of the army general staff have submitted memorandums to the effect that 5,600 latest type bombers, pursuit planes and flying fortresses, would make the United States impregnable.

Navy Planes Off on Mass Flights

(Story in adjoining column.)

Routes of naval flights which started from San Diego yesterday. Forty-eight patrol bombers are flying down the west coast to the Gulf of Fonseca and thence to Coco Solo. There fifty planes will join them and the 98 craft will fly to Guantanamo, Cuba. Eighteen other smaller planes left San Diego yesterday in two divisions and are flying across the United States and then on to Cuba. They are divided into ten Sikorskys, which make long hops, and eight Grummans, which proceed by shorter stages. All will join the fleet for maneuvers in the Caribbean.

Drive Toward Sea

(Story in adjoining column.)

Spanish rebels yesterday pressed a new drive to the sea (indicated by arrow) to pinch off the loyalists' Tortosa sector. Dotted line locates the present battlefront in Catalonia. The rebels' present main objectives are the highway junctions of Falset and Montblanch.

FRANCO DRIVES TO CUT NEW SLICE OFF CATALONIA

Seeks to Trap Foe in Tortosa Sector.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PERPIGNAN, France [At the Spanish Frontier]—Jan. 10.—Spanish rebel forces today were driving a wedge which threatened to slice a sizable piece of territory from Catalonia and isolate thousands of loyalist troops from the main army.

Gen. Francisco Franco's spearhead, rebel reports said, was encircling Falset. Falset is situated 12 miles northwest of the Mediterranean coast and 20 miles west of Tarragona, chief port of southern Catalonia.

A drive to the sea from Falset would trap the loyalists defending all the territory east of the Ebro river and south from Falset to the river mouth. The principal town in that area is Tortosa. The rebels took the territory west and south of the Ebro in their drive to the sea last spring.

Loyalists Falling Back.

The rebel action in the Falset sector overshadowed that on all other fronts. The upper Catalonian front was reported relatively quiet and the rebels declared they had halted the loyalists' drive toward Portugal in Estremadura [southwestern Spain].

Rebels reported that two of their columns were converging on Falset. They already had taken Bellmunt and Pradell. Government troops threatened with being trapped were reported falling back northeastward up the coastal road toward Tarragona. A short range of mountains lies between Falset and the coastal road.

Northeast of Falset another rebel column occupied Espluga de Francoli and was within three miles of Montblanch. Montblanch stood as a barrier on a main highway southward through Valls to Tarragona, about 20 miles away.

Closer to Barcelona.

In the central Lerida sector the rebels had pushed a spearhead as far east as Anglesola, about twenty miles east of Lerida and about ten miles west of Cervera. The position is about seventy miles west of Barcelona.

In southwestern Spain the loyalist drive was halted by rebel reinforcements rushed in by Gen. Gonzalo Queipo de Llano from Seville, the rebels reported.

66 NAVY PLANES BEGIN LONG TRIP TO WAR GAMES

Two Groups Will Fly to West Indies.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Sixty-six patrol bombers and utility amphibian planes left the navy flying base here today for a flight of more than 3,000 miles to Cuba and the West Indies.

They are to take part in the navy's gigantic war games, scheduled for next May and June off the east coast of South America.

This aerial flotilla and fifty more patrol bombers from the Coco Solo air station in the Canal Zone are to join the Pacific fleet in the first naval maneuvers in the Atlantic since the world war. These games, played under wartime conditions, are expected to have far reaching strategic and international importance.

Move Fleet to Atlantic.

Participation of the navy's sea and air fleets from the Pacific is certain to make the maneuvers a great show. And it is believed here that this parade of might is intended to bolster the administration's current alarms concerning the dictator nations. The fleet recently was ordered from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Forty-eight of the planes that left here today are Consolidated twin motored patrol bombers. Planes of this type are capable of flying for 3,000 miles nonstop and nearly 50 have been flown out from the base here to Hawaii for duty there during the last two years.

They each have two Twin-Row Wasp engines developing 1,200 horse power and carry crews ranging from seven to eleven men. Their top speed is said to be 160 miles an hour.

Fly Via Mexican Coast.

The first group of 12 of these giant boats left the water of San Diego harbor at 8:20 a. m. They gathered in a loose formation and set out for Coco Solo immediately. Three other groups of 12 planes each followed during the day.

The route these squadrons will follow lies along the Mexican coast to the Gulf of Fonseca. Thence they head eastward over the Nicaraguan jungles to Chiriqui lagoon in the Caribbean. From there they wing to Coco Solo, the great navy harbor at the eastern entrance of the Panama canal.

At Coco Solo the unit of forty-eight planes will be joined by fifty flying boats of the same type already stationed in the Canal Zone.

The other eighteen planes that left here today were smaller amphibian types. Ten of them are twin-motored Sikorsky machines with 800 horse power Hornet motors. The remaining eight are twin-engined Grumman ships with 450 horse power Wasp motors.

The Sikorskys took off from the navy's island field here at dawn and headed eastward toward Florida.

FRENCH TROOPS REACH DJIBOUTI TO GUARD COLONY

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The first detachment of French colonial troops sent to reinforce the Somaliland garrison against any Italian threats arrived today.

One thousand Senegalese sharpshooters debarked from the liners Chantilly and Sphinx. A second unit of 800 is en route to East Africa from Marseilles.

French authorities were reported planning erection of a fortified line along the frontier of Italian Ethiopia.

LAWYERS TO ASK BAN ON MAIL SOLICITATION OF DIVORCE BUSINESS

H. W. Arant.

The American Bar association will ask congress to enact a law forbidding lawyers to solicit divorce business by mail. A recommendation for such a measure was made by H. W. Arant, chairman of the committee on professional ethics and grievances, and supported by the house of delegates of the association in the final session of a two day meeting in the Edgewater Beach hotel yesterday.

Arant, dean of law at Ohio State university, termed such solicitation in several states "almost a scandal," and said that as divorce laws became more lenient such methods of solicitation spread "first in Nevada, then in Wyoming, and most recently in Florida."

A widely advertised resolution condemning the persecution of religious and racial minorities in Germany and other lands was withdrawn yesterday by its sponsor, Judge William L. Ransom of New York.

A statement by Ransom said the resolution was withdrawn because the association's constitution does not empower the house of delegates to take action on international affairs involving the acts of foreign governments.

HIS $3,800 LOOT LASTS 195 DAYS; THEN HE GIVES UP

For 195 days, Carl Hugunine says, he has been spending about $19 a day of the $3,800 he stole last June 26 at the Lincoln Fields race track in Crete. When he was down to his last $1.37 yesterday his conscience began to hurt him. He surrendered to the police at Duluth, Minn., and told his story.

He was working for the Illinois Sports Service corporation, a concession concern at the race track, he said, when he opened the safe and took the company's money. Since then he has been traveling. Sheriff Joseph J. O'Neill of Will county asked Duluth police to hold Hugunine, who is 21 years old, until Will county authorities arrive.

JAPAN PREPARED FOR WAR ON U. S., TOKIO DECLARES

End Economic Pressure, Foreign Chief Warns.

TOKIO, Jan. 11.—[Wednesday.]—(AP)—Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita was quoted by the newspaper Nichi Nichi today as declaring Japan would prepare "retaliatory measures against the mainlands and dependencies of the United States and Britain" if they seriously exerted joint economic pressure upon her.

The minister, quoted in a long interview, was pictured as optimistic, however, believing that tariffs, blacklists and other instances of assistance to China at present were mere political gestures.

"Japan's intention of attaining its objective in the holy war [in China] is firm enough to break iron, and it will definitly reject whatever obstacles third parties might place in its way," Arita was reported as saying.

Advise "Extreme Caution."

"Britain and the United States are belived to be aware that should they resort to serious economic pressure against Japan, Japan would have sufficient determination and preparation to resort to retaliatory measures against the mainlands and dependencies of the United States and Britain.

"If they suppose that in that case retaliatory measures would be taken only against rights and interests in China which they so zealously are defending, they will have to be extremely cautious."

Nichi Nichi concluded its article with its own observation:

"In short, the foreign minister's intention seems to be to meet the legitimate demands of Britain and the United States regarding their China interests with an attitude of complete good will, but to cope with any restraining or threatening actions on their part with a stern policy."

Bomb Capital of China.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Japan's air force today subjected Chungking, China's provisional capital which is 1,400 miles up the Yangtze river, to bombardment by nearly 100 war planes.

A Japanese communique said Chinese military establishments were heavily damaged as the planes attacked in relays after routing Chinese planes. It was Chungking's fifth air attack.

At the same time the Japanese dominated, Chinese manned Nanking régime called on the Chinese people to yield to Japan.

Appeals to Nine Provinces.

Wen Tsung-yao, president of the legislative council of the "reformed government of China," asked the nine unconquered provinces to agree to peace terms laid down on Dec. 22 by Prince Fumimaro Konoe, then the Japanese premier.

[Konoe proposed continued Japanese occupation of strategic points in China "as an anti-communist measure," Chinese adherence to the Japanese-Italian-German anti-comintern pact, establishment of Inner Mongolia as a special anti-communist territory, and China's acceptance of a place in a Japan-Manchukuo-China economic, political, and cultural bloc.]

Hint Romance

JANET GAYNOR.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Janet Gaynor left by train for New York today, where, her press agent admitted, she will meet Adrian, the movie dressmaker. Janet's mother, Laura, will accompany the actress and Adrian to Miami and on a West Indies cruise. Janet and Adrian have been much in each other's company lately, but the press agent said he didn't have any hint that the trip might be a honeymoon.

FIND MOLESTER OF CHILD HANGING IN CELL; REVIVED

Served Term for 1930 Suicide Pact Death.

Eight years ago Donald Allison, then a Chicago interior decorator, broke a suicide pact with his sweetheart. She killed herself with chloroform he had bought; he went to prison for six years on a manslaughter charge.

Yesterday Donald Allison, now a vacuum cleaner salesman, tried to take his own life. This time he was alone, in a cell at the Fillmore street police station. There was only a memory of Ursula Lang, the 19 year old girl whose body had been found in his hotel room in Milwaukee back in 1930.

Found Hanging in Cell.

Police found him hanging in the cell, cut him down, and an inhalator squad saved his life. Allison was sent to the Psychopathic hospital as a safeguard. This time he will face a charge involving a girl 6 years old.

Yesterday noon Allison tried to sell a cleaner to Mrs. Frank Coffey, 4122 Taylor street. He left, and neighbors saw the Coffeys' daughter, Patsy, get into his car with him. They gave police a description of the car.

Allison was trapped in the rear of a dry goods store at Harrison street and Pulaski road after he abandoned his automobile while being chased by a police squad.

Allison, married and the father of two sons, had carried on an illicit romance with Miss Lang, a German immigrant girl who lived in Milwaukee.

Chloroform Sniffing Is Defense.

They registered at a Milwaukee hotel on June 7, 1930 as a Mr. and Mrs. Andrews. The Lang girl died there. Defense attorneys contended the pair were addicted to chloroform sniffing parties, getting a sense of intoxication out of a small amount, and that Ursula had inhaled too much.

The trial ended when Allison pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter and was sentenced to 5 to 10 years in Waupun prison.

Allison lives at 5526 South Trumbull avenue. His wife, who remained loyal through the Milwaukee case, obtained an attorney for him last night.

HOPKINS TO FLIT AS PEACE DOVE IN LABOR WAR

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—An important task that Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins failed to accomplish has been assigned, according to reports, to the new secretary of commerce, Harry L. Hopkins. President Roosevelt has asked Hopkins to bring about peace between the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations. He is also to obtain suggestions from business men on how the national labor relations act may be amended and made satisfactory to employers.

It is understood that the heads of the two great labor groups have expressed lack of confidence in Secretary Perkins. Her recent proposal to appoint a committee to draft a plan of settlement of their difficulties was coldly received.

TWO CAMPS WAR OVER SPANISH ARMS EMBARGO

Congress and President Put in Middle.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The administration and congress are between two fires on the issue of the embargo on shipments of arms to Spain. American supporters of the Spanish loyalists demand that the embargo be lifted as "flagrantly unneutral." Supporters of the insurgents insist that it be retained.

Both sides are perfecting organizations to bring pressure on Washington. At a meeting here last night of 836 men and women representing 274 organizations friendly to the loyalists a program was planned to get the Spanish embargo abolished.

Petition Taken to White House.

A petition signed by 100 social workers was taken to the White House conveying a request for lifting of the embargo. Delegates called on their representatives in congress and received pledges of assistance in their effort.

At the same time a massmeeting was held in Constitution hall under the auspices of the National Council of Catholic Men and National Catholic Welfare conference, which are promoting a petition to congress and the President for retention of the embargo. At this meeting the loyalist régime was denounced.

Outside and at the Catholic meeting strong attacks were made on the invitation extended yesterday to prominent Catholics by the Spanish ambassador, Dr. Fernando de Los Rios, asking them to go to loyalist Spain and investigate religious conditions there.

Archbishop Michael J. Curley of Baltimore issued a statement condemning such actions as "base, fraudulent trickery."

Red Connection Charged.

Charges that the "pressure groups" working for the removal of the Spanish embargo are either communist inspired or connected, or both, and are irreligious in character were made by Edward J. Heffron, secretary of the Keep the Spanish Embargo committee. He asserted the Friends of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade "was founded principally by communists and most of its backing is communistic."

Hefferon also branded as "leftist-controled" the medical bureau and North American Committee to Aid Spanish Democracy, as well as other organizations that participated today in the "lift the embargo" conference.

The massmeeting also was addressed by Martin Conboy of New York, who discussed the legal issues involved, and Irwin Laughlin, former ambassador to Spain, who reviewed the rise of the Republican movement in Spain and discussed the men and principles involved in the tragic events of the last few years.

U. S. Neutrality Urged.

Louis Kennedy of New York, president of the National Council of Catholic Men and chairman of the Keep the Spanish Embargo committee, presided. He introduced the speakers, all of whom insisted that they favored neither side but wished only to "keep America neutral."

The meeting of the Friends of the Spanish loyalists, held in Almas temple, denounced the embargo as "a clean departure from accepted principles of international law and from traditional American practice." It called upon the President and congress to take without delay "an action clearly demanded by the majority of Americans, the lifting of the embargo against the Spanish republic."

Hungary Threatens to Send Army Into Czecho-Slovakia

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 11 [Wednesday.]—(AP)—The independent Hungarian news service, Informacio, today reported that Hungary had warned Czecho-Slovakia another violation of Hungarian frontiers by the Czechs would be answered by a prompt invasion of Czecho-Slovakia. Thousands of Hungarian troops have been assembled on the frontier and made ready for action.

The news service said Hungary had served notice she refused to resume negotiations as to the precise location of the border fixed in a general way by the Vienna award Nov. 2.

Demands "Satisfaction."

Hungary was reported to have said negotiations would not be continued until she had received "material and moral satisfaction" for the forty-seven lives lost and property damaged by the Czecho-Slovak bombardment of Munkacs last Friday.

Such "material and moral satisfaction" was declared to include payment of damages by Czecho-Slovakia, acknowledgment of responsibility for the attack, and punishment of the individuals responsible.

These Hungarian conditions for normalizing relations along the border were presented by a foreign office official to the Czecho-Slovak legation in Budapest, the news service said.

Rejects Hungarian Demand.

PRAGUE, Czecho-Slovakia, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Czecho-Slovakia today rejected a Hungarian demand for compensation for the shelling of Munkacs and protested border clashes for which each nation holds the other responsible.

Prague authorities said the incident at Munkacs started with firing from the Hungarian side. They added that in shelling the area last Friday Czecho-Slovaks fired back to prevent an invasion of Czecho-Slovak territory.

The protest to Budapest was over a border incident at Dovhe, near Ungvar, on Jan. 8. Two Czech officers who wore white armbands of truce negotiators were said to have been fired upon.

The Czecho-Slovak note suggested that all armed civil formations and persons with military training be forbidden to approach nearer than 1,500 meters [nearly a mile] to the demarcation line along the entire Carpatho-Ukraine [Ruthenian] border.

EDWARD SMALE, FIGURE IN DRY ERA SCANDAL, IS DEAD

Edward Smale, central figure in a prohibition era scandal that rocked the police department 15 years ago, died in poverty at the County hospital on Monday, it was disclosed last night. Smale, who was 50 years old, had been living at 6344 South Honore street with his brother Raymond.

Smale was a police sergeant attached to the Deering station when in 1921 he and other officers, posing as federal prohibition agents, hi-jacked a $12,000 truck load of liquor and sold it. In 1924 Smale and the rest were tried in federal court. Although the evidence was overwhelming against them, the jury acquitted them.

Federal authorities then uncovered evidence that Smale had intimidated jurors and sent him to the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth for conspiracy and jury tampering.

TOP HAT BANDIT IDENTIFIED BY 3 OF HIS VICTIMS

Three persons in the crowd of 275 at the detective bureau showup last night told where Lawrence Weber got the money to buy his top hat, tails, and white waistcoat. Weber had to wear his dress suit to jail Monday because it was the only thing in his extensive wardrobe that he owned. He had stolen the rest.

Dr. Michael Krivy, 2334 Rice street, said Weber and two companions took $45 from him on Dec. 19. Max Levy, a clerk in a shoe store at 2100 Madison street, gave up $58 on Dec. 28. Jack Ruffolo, clerk in a drug store at 3124 North Cicero avenue, yielded $112 the same night.

Weber, debonair when arrested, sulked at the showup. They'd taken away his fancy raiment and clothed him in castoffs.

GARNER FORGETS LUNCHEON DATE WITH KENNEDY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Vice President John N. Garner had a luncheon engagement with Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy today, but he forgot all about it.

He was among those invited to lunch with Kennedy in the senate secretary's office. The other guests waited a while and then called Garner.

Garner said he was sorry, that he'd forgotten and had already eaten. He went to the luncheon, anyway.

ROBS GAS STATION ATTENDANT.

"Put some air in my tires," said the man who drove into the filling station at 8200 South Halsted street last night. But he didn't want it. He drew a gun and took $100 from the attendant, George Fritz.

SENATE TO ASK FRANKFURTER IF HE FAVORS REDS

Issue of Communist Link Is Raised.

BY CHESLY MANLY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Members of a senate judiciary subcommittee today indicated a desire to question Felix Frankfurter, President Roosevelt's nominee for the United States Supreme court, concerning his association with communists on the national committee of the American Civil Liberties union.

Dean G. Acheson represents Prof. Frankfurter.

The desire of the subcommittee members to question Frankfurter was made known at the close of the first day of public hearings on the qualifications and fitness of the Harvard law school professor to be a justice of the Supreme court. George Edward Sullivan, a Washington attorney and writer on subversive activities for Catholic publications, raised the issue of Prof. Frankfurter's radical affiliations and members of the subcommittee said it would be necessary to obtain an explanation from Frankfurter.

Charges Association with Reds.

Sullivan said that Frankfurter had been a member of the national committee of the American Civil Liberties union for many years and had been associated in that capacity with "a number of notorious Reds, including William Z. Foster," chairman of the communist party in the United States.

Sullivan cited the finding of a New York state legislative committee that the American Civil Liberties union was engaged primarily in defending, in the name of civil liberties, the right of communists to advocate force and violence to overthrow the government of the United States.

Sullivan said that a leaflet issued by the Civil Liberties union, under Frankfurter's name as a member of the national committee, contained the following statement:

"Laws purporting to prevent the advocacy of the 'overthrow of the government by force or violence' are all violations of the right of free speech."

Cites Court Decisions.

The witness cited the opinion of the Supreme court in Gitlow versus New York, 268 U. S., saying: "That utterances inciting to the overthrow of organized government by unlawful means present a sufficient danger of substantial evil to bring their punishment within the range of legislative discretion is clear. Such utterances, by their very nature, involve danger to the public peace and to the security of the state."

The judiciary subcommittee, of which Senator Matthew M. Neeley [D., W. Va.] is chairman, heard two other witnesses who have appeared at many congressional hearings and who are regarded as cranks. One of them, Collis Redd, identified himself as national director of the Constitutional Crusaders of America, of which he said, "I am the whole works." The other, Wade Hampton Cooper, had a grudge against the Supreme court because it refused to review a case involving his closed banks.

Borah Defends Professor.

Senator William E. Borah [R., Idaho] and other members of the subcommittee defended Prof. Frankfurter against attacks by these witnesses on what was deemed to be irrelevant grounds.

Prof. Frankfurter today was represented by Dean G. Acheson, former undersecretary of the treasury.

Frank Murphy, former New Deal governor of Michigan, who was defeated for reëlection, apparently was assured of senate confirmation as attorney general of the United States without public hearings when another judiciary subcommittee favorably recommended such action.

CCC NOT TO GET ARMY TRAINING, PRESIDENT SAYS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt this afternoon declared that the administration does not intend to give military training to members of the Civilian Conservation corps as part of the expanded national defense program, which is to be given to congress Thursday.

Long ago, the chief executive said when he was told that Representative Andrew J. May [D., Ky.], chairman of the house military affairs committee, had hinted that such a course might be undertaken, it was decided not to bring military training to the CCC and that policy will be continued.

The President said that he has arranged a conference next week with Senator Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, to discuss the plight of the nation's railroads.

SHIP CRASHES INTO BRIDGE OVER CANAL; 1 KILLED

St. Georges, Del., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Out of control and with her anchors dragging, the freighter Waukegan crashed into a bridge over the Chesapeake and Delaware canal here today. The bridge was wrecked and a tender was killed when he was thrown from a superstructure cabin into the canal.

The 6,000-ton Waukegan was en route from Philadelphia to London and passing through the canal which is a shortcut between Philadelphia and Baltimore. The bridge had been raised to allow passage of the vessel, but when a short distance away the rudder apparently became fouled and the helmsman lost control.

Witnesses saw both anchors dropped and heard bell signals for full speed astern, but the vessel could not be stopped and hit the 180-foot north support towers. Then the 210-foot raised section fell and carried the south tower away. A big hole was stove in the freighter's bow just above the water line. Two weeks may be required to clear the wreckage and reopen the canal to trafic.

2 HELD IN ROBBERY ATTEMPT.

Judge Matthew D. Hartigan yesterday held Harry Doziar, 6310 Greenwood avenue, and Edward McDonnell, 6238 South Park avenue, to the grand jury in bonds of $5,000 each for attempted robbery.

BOTH HOUSES GET BILLS TO ABOLISH INDIANA 2% CLUB

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The Hoosier Democratic club, used by the McHale-McNutt-Minton-Townsend Democratic machine to levy 2 per cent contributions from all state employés—and also as a repository for "contributions" from state contractors, licensees, and such—was attacked in both houses of the Indiana legislature today.

Senator Charles H. Bedwell of Sullivan, a Democrat, introduced a bill to prevent such "clubs" from collecting dues or fines. Several Republicans in the house of representatives introduced a bill to repeal the 1937 law which exempted the 2 per cent club from provisions of the Indiana corrupt practices act.

ILLINOIS WOMAN IN CONGRESS HAS LAST WORD, TOO

Retorts to Author on 'Wishful Thinking.'

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Representative Jessie Sumner [R., Ill.], the country's newest congresswoman, and Louis Bromfield, Pulitzer prize winning novelist, did not agree and told each other so when they appeared as joint speakers today at a woman's National Press club luncheon.

Rep. Jessie Sumner.

Miss Sumner used experiences of her own Illinois pioneer family to illustrate the fact that Americans, unlike Europeans, can change from one class to another with ease.

"But that was seventy-five years ago," Bromfield interrupted. "Is it true now?"

She Hates Pessimism.

"I hate pessimism," Miss Sumner shot back.

"I hate wishful thinking," Bromfield retorted.

"If I hadn't done some wishful thinking," Miss Sumner said with a laugh, turning to her audience, "I wouldn't be in congress now."

Miss Sumner, a former county judge from Milford, Ill., and Bromfield, who calls Richland county, Ohio, home, although he has lived in Europe for most of the last 15 years, differed again in their analyses of the New Deal's effects.

District Not Better.

Miss Sumner declared that except for farmers' corn loans, her section was not materially better off than in 1932.

"I've just come back from Europe to live, Bromfield said. "My home town has more than doubled its population in the last ten years, and I got an impression of prosperity and contentment."

Miss Sumner, on the other hand, said that people in her district were worried, farmers were too heavily taxed and investors were afraid of a future that threatens confiscatory taxes.

NORTHWEST SIDE GANG SEIZED FOR ROBBERY, THEFTS

Six men, from 19 to 26 years old, were held last night by Albany Park police on suspicion in numerous robberies and burglaries on the northwest side. They were linked definitly with four burglaries and a robbery.

Those held are Earl Bert Isakson, 23 years old, 4018 Bernard avenue; Raymond Ryerson, 26, of 3716 Cullom avenue; Elmer Binder, 21, of 3713 North Hamlin avenue; John Ashfield, 19, of 3910 Byron street, and Lloyd and Le Roy Nolan, 19, twins, of 3347 Pensacola avenue.

Detectives Edward Schumacher and William Peters arrested Isakson on suspicion after the robbery victims had noted his height—6 feet 4 inches. He named the others. Isakson told of stealing a revolver and using it to rob a woman of $65. Isakson and the others, Capt. Thomas Connelly said, admitted taking movie equipment, films, and cash in a theater burglary several months ago.

SUPREME COURT ASKED TO REVIEW PICKETING CASE

The Illinois Appellate court yesterday denied a petition for a rehearing of the so-called Swing picketing case, but at the same time granted a certificate of importance which automatically refers the opinion to the State Supreme court. The granting of such a certificate means the Appellate court considers the case of sufficient importance to require a high court review.

The Appellate court last month granted an injunction restraining picketing of a beauty shop at 5558 North avenue, owned by Ross W. Swing. Swing had no dispute with his workers, who were not union members. The Hairdressers and Cosmeticians' union had picketed the establishment while trying to organize the workers.

On Rules Committee

LEO E. ALLEN.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—House Republicans today unanimously chose Representative Leo E. Allen of Illinois for membership on the rules committee, generally regarded as the most influential in the house. Allen will take the place on the committee vacated by Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts.

Allen, who represents the 13th Illinois district, is starting his fourth term in the house. In six years he has forged to the fore as one of the leaders of the minority. He was seriously considered as assistant minority leader for this session but told Martin he would prefer other duties.

The rules committee shaped up as the committee which will dominate legislation at this session. It decides what measures shall have preferential treatment and thus regulates the legislative program in the chamber. With four Republicans and four southern Democrats numbered among its twelve members, it will have an anti-New Deal majority which is expected to cause the Democratic leadership many a headache. President Roosevelt focused attention upon the committee last year by ordering the purge of Chairman John J. O'Connor, New York Democrat, when the committee refused to act as a rubber stamp for administration bills.

Indicted for Wounding 3 Halloween Pranksters

Herman Kelle, a farm hand at Alden, in McHenry county, was indicted yesterday on charges of assault to kill and assault with a deadly weapon. On Halloween, the state charged, Kelle fired his shotgun into a group of boy and girl pranksters he believed were trying to steal his automobile. Three boys were struck by buckshot.

SENATE VOTES, 39-3, TO KEEP 3% SALES TAX

Both Houses Decide to Take 2 Week Holiday.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Almost without argument the Democratic senate today voted to continue the state sales tax at three cents on the dollar, using the third cent for relief.

This was accomplished by a vote of 39 to 3. The three bills in the series comprised the first legislation to be adopted by either legislative chamber in the 1939 session.

Both houses decided today to recess for two weeks for the customary winter vacation of the legislators. The sales tax bills will come before the house of representatives—which has a Republican majority—when the session reconvenes Jan. 24.

Yields Bulk of Relief Share.

Use of the third cent for relief is already in operation. It produces the bulk of the $3,900,000 that the state contributes monthly for care of the jobless.

Three Democratic leaders are making a trip to Florida to visit Gov. Henry Horner, who is recuperating at Miami Beach from an illness.

James M. Slattery, chairman of the commerce commission and Horner's closest political confidante, arrived in Miami Beach today. Charles K. Schwartz, tax commissioner, and S. L. Nudelman, director of finance, will be there by Thursday.

Expect Physician's Report.

As a result of their visit, many believe a complete physician's report on the governor's condition will be issued, along with an estimate as to how long it will be before he can return to active duty.

The decision to do this, it is understood, was prompted by the scores of rumors and alarms which have filled the capital for weeks. It is known that the governor went to Florida last November suffering from exhaustion. But how he has progressed since that time has not been settled to the satisfaction of the statehouse.

Humboldt Park Armory Site Approved by State

Chicago park trustees were informed yesterday that the Illinois Armory board has approved the site proposed by them for the new northwest side armory. It is at the southeast corner of Kedzie and North avenues in Humboldt park. The armory is to cost $1,207,909.

INDIANA FELONS DIG LONG TUNNEL; ESCAPE BLOCKED

Toil in It for Months; Caught by Chance.

Five convicts who attempted to tunnel out of the Indiana state prison at Michigan City were locked in solitary confinement yesterday while Warden Alfred F. Dowd sought to connect others with the escape plot.

The plot was discovered on Dec. 22 after the convicts had been working for months on a tunnel leading to the east wall. The warden immediately began an investigation. He announced the results yesterday.

A guard, H. L. Burns, uncovered the tunnel by chance. He was walking on the lawn between cellhouse D and the east wall on that day when he stepped into a depression in the lawn and began to sink. He had crashed through the top of the tunnel.

Extends for 30 Feet.

It extended thirty feet from the wall of the cell house. The convicts had twenty-five feet farther to go before reaching the wall. There, they would have been forced to dig under the wall's foundation ten feet down.

The warden refused to reveal the identity of the convicts in solitary.

A fire which destroyed the old service building at the prison four years ago was indirectly responsible for the escape attempt. A new service building is being constructed, with convict labor, to house the tailor shop, barber shop, showers, and emergency hospital.

Heat Tunnel Extended.

A heat tunnel leads from the service building to a point beneath cellhouse D, where it ends.

The convicts followed the heat tunnel to the dead end, where they cut a hole in the concrete and began their own tunnel. They concealed the opening with a camouflaged door whose surface was coated to resemble the concrete.

The tunnel was about three feet in diameter and ran about five feet below the surface to the point where the tunnelers miscalculated and the depression in the earth betrayed them to Guard Bell. The tunnel was reënforced with stolen lumber.

Morton Grove's New Village Hall Dedicated

Morton Grove's new $51,000 village hall was dedicated last night at a meeting of the village council and 300 villagers. The two story brick structure at Lincoln and Kelly avenues was built with WPA labor. The old hall near by will be converted into a firehouse.

EXPEL MAYOR'S SON IN OSWEGO SCHOOL TURMOIL

Rowdyism Flares Anew; Recalls Suicide.

Expulsion of two students from the community high school at Oswego, southwest of Aurora, stirred the 1,200 residents of the village into new excitement yesterday. Less than a month ago Melvin Attig, principal of the school, killed himself. It was charged rowdies and bullies among the older boys had driven him to it.

One of those expelled was Andrew [Bud] Pierce, son of Oswego's mayor, Andrew Pierce. He is 16 years old. The other youth barred from school until next September is Harry Gibson, also 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Gibson.

The expulsion was made by the school board Monday night on recommendation of Attig's successor, Clarence G. Salter. Mayor Pierce, who had assisted in the investigation of the circumstances that led to Attig's death, protested. Salter and the board were firm.

Suspend Nine for Fire Alarm

Salter took over his duties on Jan. 3. He had orders to maintain discipline. He got his first test two days later—last Thursday. A false fire alarm was sounded at the school. Salter immediately suspended nine boys, among them young Pierce and Gibson.

The board reinstated seven of them.

Mayor Pierce charged that the board had "convicted the two boys without a hearing."

"I asked to be allowed to talk at the meeting," he said. "The board adjourned. It is un-American to put two young boys out of school for the balance of the year when the board has denied them a hearing of charges against them."

There is no appeal from the board's ruling, it was said in Oswego last night. It was emphasized that the expulsion had nothing to do with happenings at the school in Attig's administration.

Persecuted; Dies Under Train.

After Attig's death under the wheels of an Aurora & Elgin train six youths, whose names were not disclosed, admitted to Sherif Robert Woodard of Kendall county that they had made him the target of a persistent campaign of irritation. Mrs. Attig said her husband had been made mentally ill by his inability to keep discipline.

The sherif learned that telephone wires in the principal's office were cut, and a fire started in a wastebasket. Hinges were taken off doors and important papers tossed from Attig's desk. A bell rope was severed and a dictionary pitched out a window.

DOG HAS HIS DAY AS CURB LAW PLAN IS DEBATED

More than a hundred Chicagoans gathered in the city hall yesterday to tell members of the council judiciary committee their opinions of Ald. Z. H. Zadow's [33d] proposed ordinance to regulate dogs. The measure would require owners to lead the animals to the curbs when walking them.

Z. H. Kadow.

The visitors were about equally divided on the wisdom of the law. One woman thought the city had too many dogs; another that there were too few. Dr. W. A. Young of the Anti-Cruelty society said there would be fewer dog haters if the ordinance were passed and enforced.

One opponent of the Kadow proposal was Dr. Gordon G. Burdick, 1600 Sherwin avenue. He asserted that WPA workers, by tossing bottles on his lawn, defaced his property more than dogs did. He also said a dozen children could cause more damage than 1,000 dogs.

The ordinance was taken under advisement.

LITTLE COLDS Often Lead to BIG TRAGEDIES

SENATORS VOTE QUIZ INTO RULE OF GOV. BENSON

All Agencies of Regime to Be Investigated.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Minnesota state senators today ordered an investigation into the Farmer-Labor administration of Gov. Elmer A. Benson, which terminated Jan. 2 when Gov. Harold E. Stassen, a Republican, took office.

The inquiry was approved unanimously by the senate rules committee, which agreed tentatively to give a special joint committee wide powers and $10,000 to start its work.

Decision to order the investigation followed the Ramsey county grand jury's indictment yesterday of former state employés in connection with alleged irregularities in the state oil inspection office.

Quiz To Be Wide in Scope.

All state departments and agencies are to be investigated. Expert investigators and attorneys are to be put to work digging out the facts.

The legislators' investigators will work with Ramsey County Attorney M. F. Kinkead, who already has obtained three pleas of guilty and two indictments.

Today's action was on a motion by Senator Charles N. Orr, chairman, but his resolution will be redrawn to make its scope and powers more specific.

Ex-commissioner Criticized.

Besides irregularities already uncovered in the oil inspection office, the grand jury investigated the famous Bemidji Teachers' college project, but brought no indictments. The former purchasing commissioner was severely criticized in the jury's report.

George Griffith, on leave as chief state oil inspector, and David J. Smilow, ousted assistant attorney general, were freed on $2,500 bail following their arraignment and pleas of not guilty to indictments by the Ramsey county grand jury on charges of perjury, being accessories to a felony and wilful misconduct in office.

PRIVATE PHYSICIANS WILL REPLACE CITY'S SYPHILIS TEST CREWS

Private physicians will replace board of health doctors in the city's syphilis testing program under a plan adopted last night by the council of the Chicago Medical society with the approval of Dr. Robert Black, acting president of the board of health.

The health department's system was to send crews of physicians into high schools, factories, and neighborhood stations to make mass tests of all volunteers. Last year they made more than 140,000 tests.

Dr. Harry E. L. Timm, head of the committee, said that in the future persons will be asked through educational pamphlets and lectures to go to private physicians for physical examinations, including a syphilis test. Examinations will be free for the indigent. Group testing in the high schools may be resorted to later, he said.

ACCUSED BUYER OF HEINTZ' HAIR DYE BALKS QUIZ

Miss Christine Conzo, 23 years old, named as the buyer of hair dye for Hubert Heintz, confessed robber, refused yesterday to testify before the grand jury against two lawyers involved in the case. She said she acted on advice of counsel. Assistant State's Attorney Morris G. Meyers said he would ask Chief Justice Michael L. McKinley today for further instructions.

Heintz, his father, Philip Heintz, wealthy Winnetka broker, and Mrs. Mae Ragusa, 3000 Flournoy street, a beauty shop operator, appeared as witnesses before the jury. Indictments are being sought against Attorneys Francis J. Kennedy and Edward A. Fisher, both of whom are former assistant district attorneys.

The younger Heintz has confessed robbing a finance company of $62.50. When first arrested he escaped identification because his hair had been dyed. Later he confessed and said Miss Conzo, who lives at 21 South Menard street, bought the hair dye at the direction of his lawyer, Kennedy. The elder Heintz also charged that Kennedy's associate, Fisher, later threatened him to obtain a larger fee.

Four Ladies WITH Five Nickels

EACH WEEK, these four ladies lay down five nickels for four magazines – Life, Collier's, Liberty, and Saturday Evening Post.

They represent the buyers—women and men—of weekly magazines . . . but

. . . everyone in advertising and publishing circles knows the buyers do not represent the total audience . . . that many more people read magazines than buy them . . .

How many more?

Nobody has known with reasonable certainty. Yet recently developed research methods have made it possible and comparatively simple to find out. So . . .

LIFE decided to launch LIFE's Continuing Study of Magazine Audiences. You probably saw the first findings of this Study. You probably were surprised at the size of the figures. (See col. 4.) You might even have raised a quizzical eyebrow. Yet . . .

. . . the whole thing makes sense! It was called the "Biggest Advertising News in 25 years" . . . and it is!

What makes it the Biggest Advertising News in 25 Years?

The Audit Bureau of Circulation was started 25 years ago to get exact information on circulation and how circulation was obtained. Such information has become, and will continue to be, of primary and indispensable value to advertisers.

LIFE's Study undertakes to apply the same standards of impartiality, accuracy, and reliability to securing information on audience.

It takes advantage of the kind of research developed in the last several years—the new kind of research which now forecasts elections and weighs public opinion with such uncanny accuracy.

The Study is conducted by Crossley, Inc. (of radio fame)—with direction and authentication by a committee of several of the leading research authorities of the country.

Other attempts to measure audience have, of course, been made. Some have used the convenient "average family" figure of 4.2. Some have set a higher figure, some a lower. And when surveys were attempted, they usually were too confined—they stuck to family-heads, or subscribers, or hand-picked economic groups.

This Study does not. It uses a true cross-section of all the people, a micro-America, a representative sample of the entire population from ten years of age up. The investigators work on both sides of the railroad track, reach backwoods as well as main roads, talk to a proper proportion of each major element of the population.

Guesswork Eliminated

The Study asks people to show that they have seen and remember getting into the magazine – and makes them demonstrate. It recognizes an inevitable percentage of confusion and falsehood, and eliminates this percentage from the findings.

The committee under whose direction the Study is being conducted not only has no axe to grind, but has an enviable reputation to uphold.

And so—weighing all these factors—you can see that here is the first step toward accurate knowledge on magazine readership.

How to use It

It would be silly to claim that information about its audience is the ultimate measure of a magazine's value . . . that all other facts and figures should be thrown into the wastebasket.

But size of audience—the number of people who get their hands on a magazine, open it, and read part or all of it—is an added factor in a thorough and scientific evaluation of any magazine. And, while not final proof, it is an important clue to editorial interest and potency.

Thus, the findings of this Study definitely increase the knowledge of media values . . . disclose hidden values in the entire weekly magazine field . . . suggest similar values in all magazines . . . and are, therefore, a definite contribution to the scientific and intelligent buying of space.

NOTE: The complete methodology of this Study, and its first findings, are available in "REPORT No. 1." If you haven't seen a copy, send for one—it's the most important advertising book of the year.

COMING: Findings on how much attention each audience pays to the contents of each magazine are now being accumulated, and will soon be available.

Here is the number of people—as indicated by the Study—who see, open, and read some part of each issue of the four large weekly magazines:*

	Total Audience	Paid Circulation
COLLIER'S	15,900,000	2,633,878
LIBERTY	14,000,000	2,485,395
LIFE	17,300,000	2,029,761

SUE TO COLLECT $2,234,407 ON SCHOOL WARANTS

Judge Rules All Paid Up Holders Must Divide.

Judge Michael Feinberg, in an opinion protesting attempts to saddle further debt on taxpayers, held yesterday that holders of unpaid 1929 school tax warants may and should collect from warant holders who were paid in full, rather than from the school board through a bond issue.

At the same time holders of $2,234,407 in judgments based on unpaid warants sought to collect by the bond issue route that he denounced in his opinion. This they did by a mandamus action in the Superior court to compel the school board to sell bonds and satisfy judgments given them by Judge Feinberg in a previous case.

Others Expected to Sue.

Holders of judgments for about $3,600,000 more are expected to take similar action soon. The question of liability of paid-in-full warant holders was not raised in their cases.

Tax collections for 1929 were insufficient to redeem all the warants issued in anticipation of them by a former school board. In 1931 that board redeemed 1929 warants in the order of their issue, paying principal in full, plus accrued interest, until the tax money ran out. Warants totaling $10,005,000 still remain unredeemed.

Three years ago the Norfolk and Western railroad, holder of some 1929 warants, sued the school board in federal court. It charged that the present board's predecessor's violated the law in paying warants in order of issue.

The court upheld the contention, ruling that the board should have paid all warants share and share alike. It gave the railroad a judgment for what it would have received under such a distribution, about 87 per cent of the face value of its warants. The board then got legislative authority to pay off such judgments with bond sales.

Judge Feinberg granted judgments totaling $5,825,000 on pleas similar to those in the Norfolk and Western case. Then Charles B. Scoville Jr. and the South East National bank, representing holders of about $250,000 in the warants, filed the suit in which he gave his opinion yesterday.

In his opinion he upheld the plaintifs' contention that the tax collections constituted a trust fund, which was illegally distributed by the former school trustees. The warant holders who were paid in full benefited by that breach of trust, he held, and recovery should be at their expense rather than at that of taxpayers who would have to retire bonds. He held in abeyance a plea for a judgment against the school board, that would be satisfied by bond sales.

Cites Burden on Taxpayers.

"This court," said Judge Feinberg, "regarded by law as a court of conscience, has been asked to increase further the tax burden by shifting the liability from the defendants to the board, and so relieve these defendants found to be wrongdoers under the law of legal responsibility.

"Were this court to yield to such argument, and other courts in similar circumstances were to be so persuaded, it would not be long before public confidence in the courts would be destroyed and the last trench of protection for taxpayers would vanish."

Judge Feinberg pointed out that none of the acts of wrongdoing and breach of trust charged in his opinion is chargeable to the present personnel of the school board, appointed in 1933 or later.

When the Scoville suit was started Judge Feinberg ordered all holders of unpaid warants to join in it, and accept the remedies granted. He also enjoined any other efforts of collect in the state courts from the school board.

On Dec. 30 the Appellate court held that the suit was not properly representative of all the holders of unpaid warants. This limited the right of recovery under Judge Feinberg's opinion to the present plaintifs and any warant holders who may wish to join the action in the future. The court also dissolved the injunction against other actions.

The law firm of Rathje, Hinckley, Barnard, and Kulp immediately started the mandamus action to collect the $2,234,407 judgment entered last March by Judge Feinberg.

CHAUFFEUR FOR STATE SENATOR CLEARS SELF IN MURDER MYSTERY

Leonard C. Caisano, chauffeur for State Senator James B. Leonardo of the 17th district, volunteered information yesterday in the investigation of the murder of Robert Lewison.

License plates of a car that witnesses said forced Lewison's automobile to the curb on Roosevelt road a few hours before the murder were traced to Caisano. Caisano explained that the machine he was driving was brushed by the car believed to have been driven by Lewison. He told the investigators that evidently the witnesses thought he had forced Lewison to the curb. Deputy Sherif Arthur Bennett and Investigator Alan Myers of Du Page county said the explanation was satisfactory. Lewison, who lived at 1301 Independence boulevard, was found shot to death last Saturday near Hinsdale.

SHAKESPEARE NEVER SAW AN ACTRESS

By CALEB

OF ALL his world-famous heroines—tragic Ophelia, lovely Juliet, gay Rosalind, faithful Desdemona, learned Portia, bewitching Cleopatra, soulless Lady Macbeth—Shakespeare, their creator, never saw a single one portrayed by an actress. Women's roles, both in his own day and for long years thereafter, were enacted by young men or boys.

All of which, of course, had nothing whatever to do with Shakespeare's playwriting ability . . . and is interesting to us today only because it is so definitely a Ripley sort of idea. For after the traditions of a Sarah Siddons, Ellen Terry, or Julia Marlowe, it is fairly unbelievable that any male actor could ever do justice to "a woman out of Shakespeare."

Yet the illustration itself is universal. Alexander, Hannibal, Caesar and Napoleon never saw a battleship, a bomber or an anti-aircraft gun. Columbus was a master navigator who never saw a globe; no textbook on anatomy guided da Vinci; Euclid never read a geometry. And until we stop to think, it is a bit difficult to realize that Edison never saw an incandescent lamp, Alexander Bell a telephone, Howe a sewing machine, McCormick a reaper, or Westinghouse an air-brake.

Instead, the greatness of all these key-men of history lay in the fact that they had no examples—and needed none. Their own genius sufficed, and was independent of patterns or precedents. For creation, invention, discovery, depend on and spring from a miraculous sense of Things Not Yet Seen: hence the pricelessness of their contributions to racial progress.

Fortunately, from this remarkable faculty, first of insight, then of material embodiment, no branch of endeavor is divorced. Whether in architecture, mechanics, medicine, merchandising, education, transportation, government—every division of human activity is its beneficiary. Which is opportune for the race's destiny . . . otherwise we might have the strange spectacle of a television institute next door to a Colonial trading-post—and of Civilization itself advancing like an ocean liner, propelled sidewise!

Thus—creator as well as creature—man forges forward to goals his physical eyes have not yet seen.

STATE APPROVAL GIVEN TO AIRPORT EXPANSION PLAN

Ordinance Wins O. K. of Commerce Commission.

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday completed technical preliminaries in the program of expanding Chicago airport by approving the city ordinance providing for the removal of the Chicago and Western Indiana railroad tracks which now bisect the landing area.

The way now is clear to begin the purchase or condemnation of a strip of land a mile and a half long and thirty-three feet wide that is to be the new right of way. When the land is acquired, the city will build a new track and switching system on it.

Deeds to Be Traded.

This new system then will be deeded to the railroad in exchange for the railroad's existing right of way. When this new system is accepted by the railroad, the city will tear up the old tracks.

Although both sides of the field have been prepared for landing purposes, only the southern half, about 300 acres, is used now. When both sections are joined, the field will be 598 acres nearly a mile square.

The C. & W. I. has sixty days in which to accept the city ordinance. But, since railroad attorneys sat with the council airport committee in drawing the ordinance, and since the railroad's trustees already have indicated their agreement with its provisions, formal acceptance is expected within a few days.

18 Months Needed.

Railroad engineers said yesterday that it may be eighteen months before the tracks can be taken off the flying field. They said it will require nearly a year to build the new track and switching system after the land for it is obtained.

This land is held by seventy-four individuals and estates. Reports are that 90 per cent of them are willing to sell at a fair price, but a few may force the city to condemn. At least six months will be required to complete all these transactions.

The airport is bounded by 55th and 63d streets, Cicero and Central avenues. The C. & W. I. tracks cross it on the line of 59th street. The new right of way will be north of the field.

BOOST ESTIMATE OF BRIBES PAID IN JOB SWINDLE

Officials in the state's attorney's office said yesterday that James Galvin may have obtained as much as $20,000 on false promises of obtaining jobs in the police department. Detectives are seeking Galvin, who is a brother of Michael Galvin, slain head of the teamsters' union.

Three disappointed police applicants complained Monday that they paid Galvin $2,000 when he assured them he could get jobs for them. Yesterday seven others told of paying Galvin $4,875, according to Assistant State's Attorney Mal Coghlan.

In most of the cases, Coghlan said, a west side tavernkeeper acted as go-between. This man, Coghlan said, has made a complete statement.

A fifth charge involving alleged sale of political jobs was filed yesterday against Chester Dudzinski of 1627 Bosworth avenue. The new complainant is Leo Kolb of 1437 Bosworth avenue. He said he gave Dudzinski $50 on Dudzinski's promise to get him a job in the election commissioner's office, but the job never materialized.

FREIGHT CLERK FALLS DEAD.

Boyd Sawyer with chinchillas he got from California for breeding.

Boyd Sawyer of Bucyrus, O., is working gradually toward a goal of one chinchilla coat.

"It will take a thousand skins," he said last night. "I now have one dozen chinchillas on my farm at Bucyrus. I figure it will take me ten years to raise enough to get the 988 other pelts. When I do, the coat will be worth $80,000. There are only 300 chinchillas in captivity."

Sawyer arrived in Chicago last night with four chinchillas which he purchased in Englewood, Cal., from a breeder. He supervised their transfer from the North Western station to the Union depot. Then he posed for pictures with two of them and one took a nip out of his hand.

ANNOYS WOMAN; SENT TO ASYLUM.

Mitchell Popek, 20 years old, an engineering student, was committed to the state hospital for the feeble minded yesterday by Judge Joseph B. Hermes in the Boys' court. Popek was accused of annoying a young woman.

'LOTTERY KING' SAYS BUSINESS IS A POOL GAME

Abraham F. Zimmerman does not agree with the government which contends he is this country's lottery king. His business, the former west side newspaper boy told a federal court jury yesterday, was known as the ticket or pool game, not a lottery.

Zimmerman has been on trial for more than four weeks before Judge Philip L. Sullivan. The government accuses him of evading $65,000 in taxes on an income derived from lotteries during 1929, 1930, and 1931.

When asked by Assistant District Attorney Austin Hall to trace his income since 1929, Zimmerman's most frequent reply was "I don't recall at this time." But he admitted saving $166,000 by 1928, when he was 27 years old. His business, a luxury industry, Zimmerman said, was based on prizes awarded to the correct guessers of baseball scores and daily treasury balances.

ENGINEER FOUND HANGED.

George Ourada, 49 years old, a locomotive engineer, was found hanged yesterday in his home at 3833 Ruby street. His widow, Clara, told police he had been in poor health.

★ THE RULES ★

1. This offer is open free to everyone everywhere, excepting employes of the Chicago Tribune and their families.
2. A new crossword puzzle containing the name and nickname of one of the 48 States of the United States will be printed in the Chicago Daily Tribune each week day until 48 have appeared. You are invited to solve these puzzles and find the names and nicknames.
3. Puzzles are to be submitted only in complete sets. Do not send in each puzzle separately. Hold until you have the complete set of 48. Then send them to "Nicknames," Chicago Tribune, Post Office Box 1539, Chicago, Illinois. Entries must be in by midnight one week after Puzzle No. 48 has been printed.
4. The Chicago Tribune will pay 430 cash prizes totaling $5,000 for the most nearly correctly solved, complete sets of puzzles submitted in accordance with these rules. (See Prize List.)
5. You do not have to solve ALL the puzzles correctly to win. Prizes will be paid to those persons whose entries rank highest.
6. No person may submit more than one entry. No one shall be entitled to more than one prize. Entries must be sent by First Class Mail, Postage Prepaid. Each entry must be accompanied by a letter, giving your name and address, and completing in 25 words or less, a statement telling which of the States you think is most appropriately nicknamed. Such statements will be considered only if two or more persons submit equally correct solutions to the puzzles; in which event, judgment will be solely on the basis of sincerity and originality of thought.
7. You need not buy the Chicago Tribune. You may copy or trace the puzzles. The Chicago Tribune may be examined free at its offices or Public Libraries. The judges will be appointed by the Chicago Tribune and their decisions shall be final and binding. In case of ties, duplicate awards will be paid to tying contestants.

GREEN TO CONFER WITH YOUNG G.O.P. GROUPS TONIGHT

Drive for First Voters to Be Discussed.

Dwight H. Green, Republican, the only one of four candidates for mayor of Chicago who has begun active campaigning, will devote this evening to conferring with representatives of Young Republican clubs from all of the fifty wards in the city.

What has been announced as a get-together meeting will be held at 458 North Parkside avenue under the auspices of sixteen officers of the Cook County Young Republican committee. The candidate will speak informally and will hear and discuss some of the plans of the organization for the campaign. The first step proposed is a concerted drive for the registration of first voters.

Push House to House Canvass.

Ward representatives of these organizations indorsed Green's candidacy on Monday and presented him with an American flag as a gift on his forty-second birthday. At the same time they indorsed Green's running mates, Clement A. Nance for city treasurer, and John W. Chapman for city clerk.

James P. Economos, chairman of the Cook County Young Republican Clubs, said he expects members to set a new record for activity this year. House to house solicitation of support, he said, will be continuous.

"The future of Chicago," said Green in accepting the invitation to tonight's meeting, "lies in the hands of its young men and women. It is gratifying to see these clubs being knit together into a solid body of aggressive workers."

Howard West, one of those who extended the invitation, said he and his associates feel that Green is the kind of leader needed by Chicago and by the younger generation in particular.

Taking Veterans to Circus.

This afternoon 175 veterans from the Edward Hines Jr. hospital will be Green's guests at the Shrine circus at the International amphitheater in the Union stockyards. He will send buses to the hospital to take them to the circus. The arrangements were made by Col. Hugh Scott, Livingston E. Osborne, and Edward W. Shepherd, potentate of the Medinah temple.

State's Attorney Courtney, one of the Democratic candidates for the mayoralty, was visited by Miss Harriet Vittum and Miss Pearl Hart, who said they represented an independent citizens' committee that will support him in the campaign. They said other members of the committee are Mrs. Murry Nelson, Mrs. Hannah Solomon, and Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde.

Although the regular Democratic organization has not begun the selection of candidates for city clerk and city treasurer to run on the regular ticket with Mayor Kelly, it was announced yesterday that Dr. Cono Ciufia is a candidate for the treasurership place. He was formerly assistant medical superintendent of Oak Forest infirmary.

THOROUGH GANG ROBS AN ESTATE; GETS $5,000 LOOT

Lake county deputy sherifs hunted yesterday for a slow and systematic gang of burglars who got $5,000 worth of loot Monday night from the estate of Mrs. Jean McVoy Fellowes, on route 20 four miles north of Libertyville.

Mrs. Fellowes had gone to Chicago to visit friends. The burglary was discovered yesterday by George Schumaker, a caretaker. The burglars broke a window, then went through each of the twelve room. They took antique jewelry, expensive fur coats, three dozen of Mrs. Fellowes' dresses, sterling silverware, monogrammed bed linen, and twenty quarts of scotch, bourbon, and rye whisky.

Fights Red Control

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]
HOMER MARTIN.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—A call for a special convention of the United Automobile Workers of America to rid the C. I. O. affiliate of communists was asked today by Homer Martin, international president of the union. He made his formal request to the international executive board of the U. A. W. A. He charged that the communists form an inner circle that controls the union.

He charged that the program and policies of this inner group originate from without the union. This group, he said, is being made to serve as the instrument for effecting the objectives of the communist party with the U. A. W. A.

Martin denied there had been any "deal" between him and Harry Bennett, personnel director of the Ford Motor company. He termed such intimations a product of the factional war going on in the union.

Firemen Rescue Invalid in Blaze at Funeral Home

AGREE ON PEACE TERMS IN BOSTON TRUCKING STRIKE

Governor Asks Speed in Getting Pact Ratified.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Gov. Leverett Saltonstall tonight announced an agreement in the death marked strike of 5,000 truck drivers, which for six days has paralyzed the movement of foodstuffs and other motor freight in this area.

Negotiators for the employers and the strikers had "agreed upon their differences," the governor said. The strikers, he said, later agreed to vote tomorrow.

Operators Offer Increase.

The wage scale agreed upon by the operators called for top pay of $39 for a 48 hour week. The workers received $37 for a similar week in the old contract. They demanded $40 for a 40 hour week.

The governor's announcement came shortly before midnight, while specially armed police patroled Boston's crowded freight terminals in an effort to prevent a recurrence of the violence marked by the death of a truck driver's helper earlier in the day.

Pulled from Cab and Beaten.

John Pimental, 50 years old, of Newport, R. I., died at the side of the Providence highway in Sharon today after the occupants of three automobiles pulled him from the cab of a truck and beat him.

The driver of the truck, Chester Hardy, 25 years old, was less seriously beaten.

Child, 4, Dies of Burns; Clothes Ignited by Bonfire

Thomas Wagner, 4 years old, died of burns early today in St. Bernard's hospital. His clothes caught fire Sunday when he was playing near a bonfire behind his home at 6442 Parnell avenue.

IT TAKES SOME TIME, BUT BANDIT FINALLY COUGHS UP THE MONEY

When a police squad took Frank Leo, 40 years old, to the Sheffield avenue station yesterday they wondered at the wooden expression on his face and the rigidity of his jaws. They also wondered what had become of the $100 he had taken from Robert E. Davenport of Evansville, Ind., after slugging him in front of 2843 North Clark street.

The two problems, as it turned out, were related. When Leo grew thirsty a glass of water was offered him. He opened his mouth to take a drink and five $20 bills dropped out.

Leo was seized after a chase of several blocks by T. C. Cornett, 705 Diversey parkway, and Matthew L. Quinn, 2836 North Clark street, who went to Davenport's assistance when he shouted he was being robbed. They held the slugger for the police.

13 Suburban Milk Store Proprietors Are Accused

J. Edward Riley, state milk inspector, Monday obtained warants for the arrest of thirteen suburban milk store proprietors, charging them with violating the statute which provides that milk may be sold only in containers filled at the pasteurizing plant. The cases will be heard Jan. 18 by Justice of the Peace Elmer J. Tone at the Morton Grove highway police station.

STATE TAKES UP TRAIL OF KILLERS IN GAMBLING WAR

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—T. P. Sullivan, head of the state bureau of investigation, tonight took charge of the inquiry into the slaying last night of Anton J. Miller. Miller was the fourth man killed in Illinois in four days in what state officials say is a gambling war.

Miller, a locksmith and gunsmith, 50 years old, was shot three times last night when he stepped from the garage behind his home into the glare of an automobile spotlight. The killers had trailed him home and sped away after firing the shotgun blast.

Peoria police learned that Miller had been making and selling a device he said would pick the locks on slot machines. Detectives were investigating reports that Miller made keys for slot machines. Police Chief Leo Kamins said Miller might have been slain to stop his key making activities.

Shot in Holdup Attempt, Suspect Admits 9 Robberies

Victor Stewart, 32 years old, shot during an attempted robbery Dec. 30, yesterday admitted nine holdups in the Woodlawn district to Capt. Edward J. Kelly of the Woodlawn police. He was released from the Bridewell hospital yesterday. He was shot by Edward Gildea, clerk in the Loftis Jewelry company store, 838 East 63d street, as he fled after taking a watch and ring. Stewart lives at 6540 Ellis avenue.

6 Arabs Sentenced to Die; Fought British in Palestine

JERUSALEM, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Six Arabs captured in a fight with British armed forces near Hebron on Dec. 18 were sentenced to death today by a British military court for possession of arms. This was the largest number of persons sentenced at one sitting of the court since its establishment. The Arabs had engaged British forces near the scene of a pro-British demonstration in which other Arabs opposed to the exiled grand mufti of Jerusalem participated.

CHRISTIANS ASK SOVIET TO MAKE BAPTISM LEGAL

Cite Concession Granted Jews and Moslems.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Jan. 10.—A petition addressed to the Supreme court of Russia and presented by a group of Russian Orthodox clergymen and laymen of Moscow asking the court to legalize the rite of baptism, created wide interest in the soviet capital today.

The action of the surviving Christian leaders in Moscow was based upon the latest ruling of the court, ordering the release of several Jewish rabbis and Mohammedan mullahs from soviet prisons where they were sentenced for performing the religious rite of circumcision.

Ask Equality of Rites.

The Christian petitioners held that if both rabbis and mullahs are allowed legally to collect fees for circumcising boy babies of members of their religious faith, then Christian priests and pastors should be permitted also to accept either fees or gifts from Christian believers for baptizing children.

The court's ruling as recently published in the Journal of Soviet Justice officially recognizes the right of rabbis and mullahs to work their "special trade" providing they pay special taxes to the soviet commissariat of finance.

The inauguration of a special tax for circumcision, the Journal stated, was decreed officially in 1937, but the decree was violated by government institutions combating religious prejudices, upon whose complaints a number of soviet courts recently held that practicing rabbis and mullahs "are criminally responsible for this operation. They were punished under the law passed a year ago making abortions illegal."

Sees Nothing in Common.

The Supreme court declared, said the publication, that "these sentences are invalid because there is nothing in common between circumcising boy babies and abortions. Sentencing rabbis and mullahs for performing this rite is incompatible with the attitude of the soviet government toward religion and soviet authorities never specifically forbade the religious ceremony of circumcision.

"The sentences in these cases have been canceled by the court which ordered that the fight against religious predjudices must be carried out by propaganda and the use of illegal punishment is forbidden."

This decision, the Christians plead, should also be applied to baptism, confirmation, marriage, funerals, and other Christian religious rites. They are willing to pay taxes if the Christian clergy is granted the same rights and immunity as rabbis and mullahs.

LADDER BURGLAR ADMITS HIS GUILT IN 100 ROBBERIES

Michael Wojcik, 2208 Le Moyne avenue, who was wounded and captured by an Albany Park police squad early yesterday, admitted at the Bridewell hospital that he had committed more than a hundred burglaries in the last three years. His confession was made to Capt. Thomas Connelly of the station.

Mojcik was on a stepladder trying to break into the home of A. A. Turner at 4527 North Central Park avenue when the policemen sighted him. The three, Sergt Edward Lowing and Patrolmen Clayton Notacker and George Solberg, fired when he tried to flee.

Mrs. Nell Mojcik, wife of the burglar, convinced the police that she knew nothing of his criminal career. She said he told her, when he brought any money home, that he had earned it as a card dealer in a gambling house. Wojcik, who is 50 years old, maintained that he never stole anything but money and that his gains usually were small.

BABY'S DEATH HELD ACCIDENT.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at the inquest over Frank Heina, 16 months old, who was killed Monday when an air tank fell on him in the basement of his home at 4419 Clausen avenue in Western Springs.

OFFICIALS APPEAL DIXMOOR SPEED TRAP SENTENCES

Mayor Charles Special of Dixmoor and four others who were convicted in Criminal court last November of conspiring to operate a speed trap in the village, began an appeal yesterday in the Appellate court.

Attorney Charles A. Bellows filed a bill of exceptions before Judge William J. Lindsay denying that the conspiracy charged against the five had been proved by the state. Witnesses for the state testified they had been falsely arrested and excessively fined.

Special and Police Magistrate Charles A. Braun, who was later forced to resign, were sentenced to one year in jail and fined $2,000 each. Three policemen were sentenced to one year and fined $500. All are free under bonds ranging from $2,500 to $5,000.

NURSE, STRUCK DOWN BY 'AUTO, DIES IN HOSPITAL

Miss Versa M. Jacobs, 51 years old, 5345 Harper avenue, was fatally injured by an automobile early yesterday at 59th street and Cottage Grove avenue. She was a special duty nurse at the Billings Memorial hospital, where she died an hour after the accident. The driver was Charles Salley, colored, of 4714 Champlain avenue.

Eugene Rappatte, 51, of 2464 Clybourn avenue, died in the Alexian Brothers hospital of injuries received Monday when he was struck by an automobile in front of his home. Walter Maywold, 3443 North Claremont avenue, the driver, told police Rappatte stepped from behind a parked car.

Police yesterday were seeking the hit and run driver whose automobile killed Martin Gogolawski, 61, of 1518 Elk Grove avenue, Monday night at Milwaukee and Harlem avenues in Niles.

Harry Mursewick, 29, died in St. Joseph's hospital at Elgin yesterday from injuries suffered Sunday when his car struck a tree near his farm home a short distance from Elgin.

George Smith, 76, of 635 North Clark street, died in Mount Sinai hospital last night of injuries suffered Dec. 23 when he was struck by an automobile at Ontario and Clark streets. The driver, Stanley Odchodnicky, 21, of 1715 South Des Plaines street, was notified to appear at the inquest today.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday forty-six persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of this number, thirty-five were killed within the city limits, where 647 were injured in the same period.

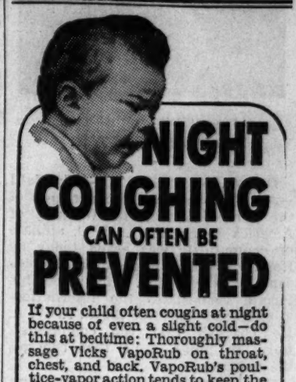
FIRE ON 7TH FLOOR OF BUILDING.

Fire, apparently caused by crossed electrical wires, caused $100 damage last night in the seventh floor offices of the Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company, 433 East Erie street.

DRIVER WHO HIT POLICEMAN AND WOMAN IS FINED

Judge Jay A. Schiller in the Safety court yesterday fined George A. Eddy Jr., 20 years old, 1235 Ridge avenue, Evanston, $50 for reckless driving. On Dec. 2 at Fairfield and Lincoln avenues Eddy's automobile struck Mrs. Alice Klein, 56, of 5735 North Talman avenue, and Policeman William Wittmeyer, who was helping her cross the street.

A charge against Ruben Potter, 1838 North Wells street, was dismissed for want of prosecution. His car went out of control at La Salle street and Chicago avenue, bruising four girls standing on a safety island.



NIGHT COUGHING CAN OFTEN BE PREVENTED

If your child often coughs at night because of even a slight cold—do this at bedtime: Thoroughly massage Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back. VapoRub's poultice-vapor action tends to keep the air-passages clear, helping to maintain normal breathing through the nose, and so reducing mouth-breathing (the frequent cause of night coughs). Try it tonight—learn for yourself another reason why VapoRub is a family standby in more homes than all other medications of its kind put together.

THREE MUSICAS PLEAD GUILTY IN FEDERAL COURT

Admit Conspiracy in Huge McKesson Swindle.

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—F. Donald Coster-Musica's three brothers pleaded guilty in Federal court today to charges linking them with the financial trickery he practiced to defraud the McKesson & Robbins drug firm of an estimated $11,000,000 in the 12 years he was its president.

They were accused of violating the securities act of 1934 in filing false financial statements with the New York Stock exchange and the Securities and Exchange commission. These were the charges their brother faced when he committed suicide Dec. 16 in his Fairfield, Conn., home after being exposed as Philip Musica, former convict and swindler.

Disclose Defalcations.

While United States Attorney Lemar Hardy was assuring Federal Judge Murray Hulbert that the three brothers had promised to coöperate with the government in its investigation, testimony was being offered elsewhere that Coster-Musica defalcations totaled $4,203,700 in 1930, and were close to $2,000,000 in the depression year of 1933.

The figures were presented by Jacob Roggen, senior accountant in the office of State's Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr., at a hearing before Assistant Attorney General Ambrose V. McCall. Roggen made an extensive examination since it was disclosed that assets of the McKesson firm's crude drug department included fictitious millions.

Brothers' Bail Reduced.

The three who pleaded guilty were George E. Dietrich-Musica, who was assistant treasurer and an assistant vice president in the firm's Bridgeport, Conn., office; Robert Dietrich-Musica, head of the shipping department at Bridgeport, and George Vernard-Arthur Musica, who was Canadian agent of the firm.

Bail for Vernard-Musica and George Dietrich-Musica was reduced from $30,000 to $5,000, and for Robert Dietrich-Musica from $17,000 to $3,500. Sentence was deferred until Feb. 6.

GIRL IS GIVEN LIE TEST IN CHINESE MURDER MYSTERY

Police used the lie detector yesterday on Maria Tan Sunji, 21 years old, University of Chicago student, in an effort to find a clew in the so-called Chinese tong murder of Mrs. May Wong. The victim, a partner in the Beverly Tea Maid restaurant at 1712 West 95th street, was found beaten to death in her bed early Monday.

Miss Sunji said that she was sleeping in another room in Mrs. Wong's apartment at 1443 West 63d street at the time of the slaying and did not discover the body until the next morning. The lie detector, Assistant State's Attorney Julius Sherwin said, indicated that Miss Tan Sunji may have withheld some information.

Herbert Tsai, one of four partners in the restaurant, also was questioned. He is on parole from a sentence to Leavenworth penitentiary for forgery. Police continued investigating reports that Miss Tan Sunji's brother, Theodoro, another partner, who fled to California seven weeks ago, may have incurred tong enmity by his plan to start several other restaurants. He will arrive in Chicago today for questioning.

Watchman's Body Found in Roosevelt Road Lagoon

The body of Matthew J. Neuman, 52 years old, night watchman on a barge in the lagoon at the foot of Roosevelt road, was taken from the lagoon yesterday. Police said he apparently had fallen overboard accidentally. Neuman lived at 130 South Austin boulevard, Oak Park.

LOOP SECURITIES DEALER ACCUSED IN $20,000 FRAUD

State's attorney's police yesterday arrested John Taylor Wilson, 50 years old, an investment banker with offices at 11 South La Salle street, on a charge of selling unqualified securities. Wilson, who lives at 1320 Sheridan road, Lake Forest, was arraigned in the County court and pleaded not guilty. When he failed to post $5,000 bond he was locked up at the County jail.

John T. Wilson.

Wilson is charged with selling $20,000 worth of unqualified stock in the Chicago Gulf corporation to J. Harold Lahman of Sterling, in Whiteside county, receiving $5,000 cash and certain Oklahoma oil royalties. Lahman paid $5 a share for the stock, in September, 1937, but found soon afterward that it could be had at 37½ cents a share, according to Assistant State's Attorney John Phillips of the blue sky division.

Attorney George M. Burditt stated last night that Wilson would post bail today and that a statement would be issued.

COURT HOLDS ARREST OF BOOKIE CLERK BY ENTRAPMENT ILLEGAL

Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli yesterday freed Jack Gara, who was charged with keeping a gambling house, on the ground that the police arrested him by entrapment.

Testimony showed that Gara, a clerk in a handbook at 3657 Division street, accepted a 50 cent bet on Dec. 14 from Patrolman James E. Kehoe of the morals division. The next day Kehoe returned with a warant to seize Gara and Joseph Miro, a sheet writer.

Attorney Lawrence E. Dowd, on cross-examination, asked Kehoe if he had gone to the place to entrap Gara and Miro. Although the prosecution objected, Judge Borrelli held the arrest illegal. He cited an old case in which the Supreme court set aside a conviction for prohibition law violation because a deputy sherif induced the defendant to sell liquor.

Bellwood Voters Turn Down Commission Plan

A proposal that the village of Bellwood adopt a commission form of government was defeated, 926 to 472, in a special election yesterday. The election was called on the petition of 265 of the village's 1,800 registered voters.

POLICY SLAYING INQUEST DELAYED FOR POLICE QUIZ

An inquest into the death of Walter J. Kelly, colored, the reputed policy gambling king of Gary, was continued yesterday until Jan. 24 at the request of the police. Kelly was shot to death in front of 3035 Michigan avenue Sunday evening.

Capt. John Cartan of the Pekin Inn station said he wish to question four witnesses. One of these was found last evening. He is Stanley Orselski, 18 years old, 2944 South Michigan avenue.

"I was standing near Kelly's car when the men shot at him," said Orselski, "and fell under the car to save myself. When the killers drove on I ran away. I don't think there was anybody in the car with Kelly."

Attorney Euclid Louis Taylor said that a report, published Monday, that Kelly once served a term in the federal penitentiary for dope peddling was incorrect; that he had never been involved in the narcotics racket. Taylor represents Ily Kelly, brother of the slain man. Ily Kelly testified at the inquest that Walter was not in the gambling or policy business.

Sitdown Strike Protests Closing of Toledo Factory

Toledo, O., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Fifteen members of the United Automobile Workers' union sat down in the Toledo factory of the Conklin Pen Manufacturing company today in protest against proposed abandonment of the factory. The company was sold last May to Chicago interests. The union contended employés were not informed of the abandonment, for which no date has been set. Some of the sitdowners have been employed by the Conklin company fifteen to thirty years.

MR. ROOSEVELT IN 1939.

Mr. Roosevelt in his Jackson day talk tried to minimize election reverses and to reunite a party he has insisted upon dividing or subduing. He must have startled some of his auditors who were the victims of the election defeats or had themselves escaped the purge by which he endeavored completely to master the party and substitute his will for its own.

In 1932 Mr. Roosevelt was a Democrat nominated as the most promising prospect in the party at the time by a deal which some of the delegate traders may since have regretted. Mr. Roosevelt was an unknown quantity as the country now realizes, but nevertheless during the campaign he seemed to be nothing more than a Democrat who was making the best political use of a depression which had men worried. He was promising nothing much more millennial than would be expected of a politician who was going to set things right where they were wrong.

Immediately after his inauguration he broke upon congress like a thunderbolt, but it was all in the name of emergency and the country thought that a very brisk President was tackling a big job with a great deal of spirit. A majority of the people applauded, although some of the measures were very strange. The country didn't seem to mind taking a short cut if that was the way out of the hole.

Wiser people soon began to suspect that Mr. Roosevelt was very much pleased with the emergencies which allowed him to jump fences and plunge through traditions and laws. It wasn't long before these people were convinced that what Mr. Roosevelt saw was not emergency, but opportunity. In 1936 he was still a Democrat, but he'd added the communists to the New Deal front. He denied it, but the denial was false.

Many Democrats may have been deceived, but the communists weren't. In their determination to support the New Deal they were willing to drop nearly the entire body of communist political doctrin and they so modified their practice and procedure that they could almost pass as the least radical element in the New Deal combination. Mr. Roosevelt had given them a sign by which they hoped to conquer, and he, although he denied the association, saw to it that his governmental agencies offered them sympathy, support, protection, and freedom of action.

In 1938 Mr. Roosevelt tried to throw out of the Democratic party the men who were politically opposed to the Socialist trend and against the destruction of private enterprise, a destruction which is the prerequisite of Socialism. He was unsuccessful in doing this. Many of the men he would have fired listened to him the other day when he seemed to be asking for a reunited party. Not many of them could smile at this, because they knew the battle ax had not been dropped but would be swung on them if they lowered their guard. He had tried to put communists and fellow travelers in their places and failed only because they had been able to hold their electorates against him. They could remember what he said in his speeches against them and they also knew that in the great industrial states where the revolutionary conduct of New Deal governors and John Lewis labor agitators had alarmed and offended the people the Democratic party lost the territory it had controled for six years.

Mr. Roosevelt's appointments reveal that he has not changed his purposes. The party will continue, if he dominates it, to be the one the American communists will support. The New Deal hasn't changed its intentions. Mr. Roosevelt is merely trying to muddy the waters because he fears that unless he can dragoon the support of the men he tried to lick last year the program of making over the United States and turning the Democratic party into a revolutionary Socialist party will fail and the country will close the books on this destructive experiment which is heading for the world's greatest crash.

STALIN AS THE GOOD OPPRESSOR.

Early in November Mr. Roosevelt cabled his congratulations to Mikhail Kalinin, chairman of the All Union Central Executive Committee of Russia, felicitating Dictator Stalin upon the occasion of the 21st anniversary of the communist seizure of power, the success of the Red revolution, and the establishment of the dictatorship of the proletariat.

The expression in this token of regard and souvenir of friendship was in signal contrast to the tone of the message of Jan. 4 in which Mr. Roosevelt warned his fellow countrymen to be prepared to defend democracy against the frightful dictatorships threatening the liberties of all people. International politeness did not move an otherwise distrustful American government to send its congratulations to Mussolini on the latest anniversary of the march on Rome or to Hitler on the occasion when Nazis are supposed to rejoice that the furor overthrew the German republic.

It would not be thought necessary that the American government should congratulate the Italians or Germans upon their present conditions or join them in attributing merit to the dictators who govern and oppress them. The distinction in favor of Russia cannot be based upon the democratic purity of Mr. Stalin's rule by purge and assassination. In number of victims and excess of violence Brother Josef is far ahead of his opposing oppressors in Germany and Italy.

The virtue which distinguishes him and made him eligible for American congratulations is not apparent, but in the contradiction may be found a reason why the Roosevelt administration has sought to prevent a continuation of the Dies committee investigation. The question of extending the life of the committee and providing it with an adequate appropriation is now up to congress. If the investigation is continued the interrelationship between the Stalin dictatorship and the Roosevelt New Deal may be made more apparent to the American people.

RELIEF COST PEAK IN OCTOBER.

A seasonal variation prevails in all lines of endeavor. The weather confines the carrying on of certain industries to particular periods in a year. The changeability of man's wants and whims in the course of a year is another cause of high activity in one period and quiescence later. Sheer habits also contribute to the annual peaks and valleys.

As a result of all these influences, in good years and bad, there are more jobs to be had ordinarily in March than in any other month in the spring, and more jobs to be had in October than in any other month in the fall. Manufacturing activities reach the year's peak in October. That is also a time when work is being pushed on new buildings to get them as far advanced as possible before the bad weather sets in. Then, too, there is plenty of work to do on the farms.

Thus in any ordinary October there is an increase in the number of available jobs. A prudent administrator of public relief funds would look to any October as a month when he could economize on relief payments, so as to be able to provide for the needy when cold weather stopped most of the outdoor work.

But last October was much better than an ordinary October. In that month industry expanded more than could be explained by the season. A succession of defeats of attempted purges had given business encouragement to look forward to a favorable outcome in the election. The index of industrial production rose more than in any October during the nineteen years since the federal reserve board began keeping records. Employment in manufacturing industries in that month was 10 per cent above the low point of the year reached last July.

With a seasonal increase in employment, backed by a cyclical rise in business last October, a sharp reduction in public relief expenditures would be looked for. But the report on public relief for October, which the social security board has just released, shows something quite to the contrary. During October expenditures were increased. Instead of economizing in relief money in October, when private industry was providing more jobs, the pouring out of it was increased to 266 million dollars. That was the largest amount spent in relief in any single month.

What is the explanation of increasing relief payments out of season and in the face of an upturn in business? When the need was less and less why was the government spending more and more? The money was paid out in the hope of winning the November election. The figures, taken in the light of the circumstances, show that this was done. The administrator of relief funds, Harry Hopkins, in his famous statement, "Spend and spend and elect and elect," had previously indicated that political expediency was to guide him in the administration of public funds. The senate has been asked to approve of the promotion to the cabinet of the man whose attitude toward public funds is more vicious than that of the earlier politician who declared that to the victor belongs the spoils. It is hard to believe that men of character will approve of Hopkins in view of his record and his declared standards of morality in the handling of public funds.

A POLICE HERO.

The courage displayed by Detective Allan Mulvey was insufficiently recognized on the night of Nov. 30 when he shot it out with a drunken murderer. In the encounter Detective Mulvey's partner was killed, a fact which tended to overshadow the heroism of the surviving partner in the accounts of the incident. The award a few days ago of THE TRIBUNE's monthly prize for bravery to Detective Mulvey may serve to bring him some of the recognition he earned.

The two detectives had been sent to a saloon at 10 South Pulaski road to investigate a routine report that a drunk had become quarrelsome. While Detective Edward Lynn was questioning the men gathered at the bar, the suspect, who had pretended to be asleep, whipped out a gun and killed him. Thereupon the fire was directed at Mulvey. He dropped to one knee at a corner of the bar, drew his own weapon, recovered his partner's, and shot with both hands at the murderer, killing him with four bullets, all of which struck close to the heart. The murderer proved to be a convict who had served time in both federal and state penitentiaries and had twice escaped from the Missouri penitentiary.

Mulvey displayed extraordinary courage and coolness in a moment of great danger and excitement. He has earned the gratitude of the community for his heroic conduct.

PEACH BASKETBALL.

[Bloomington (Ill.) Pantagraph.]

Dr. James Naismith, originator of the great game of basketball, has written an entertaining story of the incidents which led to his creating the sport which probably has more participants than any other in the United States.

Dr. Naismith was athletic director of a Y. M. C. A. college at Springfield, Mass., when the problem of what to do with the young men in winter became acute. They got along fine while the weather permitted them to enjoy outdoor sports.

Naismith thought some sport like football might be used indoors. But football tackling on a gymnasium floor would be dangerous. They could not use a small, hard ball like a baseball in a competitive indoor game. They therefore designed a large, soft ball which should be tossed, but not thrown.

About the goals? Tossing a ball into a goal on the floor would create an impossible scramble, therefore the goal was put above the heads of the players.

They tried boxes for goals, but finally some man in the gym produced a couple of peach baskets, which were nailed to the rim of the gallery. That's how basketball started and got its name.

Basketball has made quite an advance from the time when Dr. Naismith rigged up his first peach baskets.

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office.

AN OLD LADY REMEMBERS.

In a hotel near Lincoln park lives a 90 year old lady, alert of mind and sharp of memory, who is no doubt the only person in the world who knew Augustus N. Dickens, brother of Charles Dickens and former Chicagoan. She will not permit her name to be used, but it may be told that Cornelia street was named after her. She can remember when Indians were a backdoor nuisance, begging for food and frightening hired girls.

* * *

Harry Stephen Keeler, Chicago author, recently interviewed her about Augustus Dickens on a suggestion from this column, and reports as follows:

"She knew the Dickens children in Sunday school, when she was 15 years old. She often went with them to the Dickens home, which was on Clark street near Fullerton avenue—a house that probably was destroyed in the great fire. It was a frame house with green shutters, two stories high, with a cupola, and a niche in front where a large white figure stood.

"Augustus Dickens gave her the impression of being a very tall man, but this could be, she thinks, because he was never without a stove pipe hat. He had a sandy mustache of the handlebar variety—the largest and broadest she has ever seen.

* * *

"At the death of his wife [an Englishwoman], his two living children were placed in a half orphan asylum. She has always been indignant because Charles Dickens' family did nothing for his American born niece and nephew, but let them become inmates of an orphanage, where their education fitted them only for menial labor."

BLIND MAN'S FAITH.

The Blind Man sat before his loom
And worked with busy hands.
He sang the praises of the Lord
As he wove the colored strands.

And though his eyes could not see light
He praised the Christ that gave men sight.

A Stranger walking past him stopped,
His hand upon the gate;
Then hearing the joyful hymn he railed
Against the Blind Man's faith.

(Oh, bitter was the Stranger's face,
His soul a numb, despairing waste.)

"You sing to God," he cried, "the God
Who is profoundly wise;
Yet you sit there sightless. Ask
Him for your eyes!"

The Blind Man knew the Stranger hated
God; on this he meditated.

"God has taken from me sight,
Yet for it He gave me more;
He put in me a courage that I never knew before.

"Still you say He is not kind.
My friend, not I, but you are blind!"

The Class in Russian Drama.

"The Sea Gull," now on view in the theater sector, writes its own one line review, and incidentally tells the complete story of modern Russian drama, in its last speech, thus:

"As a matter of fact Ivan Ivanovitch has killed himself."

Note the expressiveness of the casual phrase, "As a matter of fact." For four acts the audience has been seeking for matters of fact and getting only soul throbs. But at last, to bring down the curtain, something objective comes out of the clouds. A single forthright assertion brings the nebula to a focus and gives an epitome of racial history and character.

"As a matter of fact Ivan Ivanovitch has killed himself!"

Ah, Russia! Russia!

The Fidelity of Uncle Casper.

My Uncle Casper worked with one firm for forty years and was always on time. He was so diligent that often when he saw he could not make it, he refused to show up for work so that he wouldn't spoil his record. J. F. G.

TO DON FARRAN.

(Lines to a poet of gypsy lore who recently returned to the Line's fireside.)

Don Farran, I've a gypsy heart, but you have gypsy feet
That rove wherever your fancy wills, where the Romany patterans meet,
Beyond the Sacred City and over the Golden Way,
And past the lofty pagodas that rise from far Cathay;
Through fields of drowsy poppies, where junk sails lift in the breeze,
Prowling the ruins of Angkor Wat, tangled with restless trees.
Oh you've rolled down to Rio where love tunes travel far,
You've laughed amid the colors that fill the great Bazaar.
All these joys are known to you, for you were born a man,
But I must hide my longing as best I ever can.
I am one of the Gorgio, from you a world apart,
For you are blessed with gypsy feet; I cursed with a gypsy heart.

Modesta.

January Thaw.

The grimy, sooty snow lay only in sheltered patches, and here and there a treacherous bit of ice lurked sinisterly. But for the most part the sullen, misty rain had conquered, and it lay along the walks in shining sheets. As the day long dusk thickened into night, fog began to drift through the streets in thin, moist curtains. Sky and earth became one, without color or shape. Even the closest landmarks yielded to its subtle influence, and while the near trees stood startlingly black in this grey world, the farther ones were slim ghosts with suppliant hands. Helene.

From one ex-drama critic to another, in congratulation upon his being kicked upstairs into a bigger and better job:

WINTER BRONCHITIS.

MANY of us have friends or acquaintances who start "barking" every autumn and continue the pastime intermittently well into spring. The episodes may be noted on rising in the morning, on lying down, when the stomach becomes overfilled, or after hearty laughter, rapid talking, shouting, or even slight muscular exertion. Sometimes the face becomes congested, even purplish, after a series of explosive "woofs." This occurs because there is a definite interference with the return flow of blood to the heart and the tissues of the face and head may appear swollen to the bursting point. A diagnosis of chronic bronchitis is made readily and the disorder is likely to hang on tenaciously for the cold months of each year. Rarely will complete relief be experienced until balmy days return.

What is the cause? Well, no one knows—exactly. Repeated sieges of acute inflammation of the bronchial tubes no doubt predisposed to the difficulty and it is easy to understand that bacteria once lodged along the mucous lining of the air passages may destroy the cells which harbor them and gradually extend their inroads. The sufferer may relate a history of typical coughing spells, the expectoration of much mucus, and recurring seizures. Of course, an X-ray should be taken to rule out tuberculosis and possibly to visualize the extent of the dilatation of the air sacs because every "hack" puts some pressure upon these delicate structures.

Climate seems to play a more important curative rôle than any drug. Many victims have observed that if they remain perfectly quiet and comfortable in the home all will be well but on stepping out of doors, if they encounter cold air, they may be thrown promptly into a severe spasm. For those who can arrange to do so, a visit to some warm region during the cold season is often helpful. Residence in our southern states—along the gulf or westward—may be beneficial.

But with many this is an impossibility and the alternative is to bring about within the home, the office, or the factory comparable weather conditions. If there is little sputum, if the cough is dry, we will need to add a substantial quantity of moisture to the air. On the other hand, if the sputum is profuse, the humidity may be dropped to a very low level and many a patient will exclaim, "how easily I breathe" when the temperature is 74 degrees Fahrenheit and the relative humidity 10 or less.

Unless the ailment is far advanced there are a number of simple devices which, if persisted in, will be useful. Exercises come first. With the muscles of the abdomen contracted tightly the diaphragm is forced upward. An effort is then made to inhale so that the ribs will lift, thus increasing the air space within the upper chest. The trouble is that after middle life too few of us move the chest wall. We depend upon the rise and fall of the diaphragm to supply air—in other words, we become belly breathers. But the power to raise the ribs can be cultivated, and ten minutes morning and evening will send air to lung cells that have not had a good whiff for years.

If the expectoration is copious, postural drainage—inclining the head and shoulders over the side of the bed—will enable a large amount of pusilke material to escape. Commonly used pungent drugs—many of which are of great value—include oil of eucalyptus, menthol, camphor, guaiacol, creosote, compound tincture of benzoin, and chloroform. One or more of these may be added to boiling water and the fumes allowed to mix with the air of the room or be inhaled directly by means of a paper megaphone, the small end at the mouth. Occasionally potassium iodide will bring about improvement.

If chronic bronchitis cannot be cured it can be eased and these simple home remedies, together with exercises and relatively limited meals, will ameliorate the symptoms markedly. At any rate we can look after every acute attack and bring it to a close as quickly as possible. Despite all that is done a few will persist in coughing—like the story that never ends.

BACKACHE.

Miss Q. writes: I am troubled with a backache on arising in the morning. I am 19 years old. I am very fond of sweets and meat. Do you think there is any connection?

REPLY.

If there is an arthritic tendency excess sweets will increase the discomfort. At your age, however, we would not expect bony changes unless you suffered from rheumatism in childhood. Meat supplies needed nitrogen and an average amount of both types of food mentioned should not be harmful. If the distress continues an X-ray film of the painful region is suggested. Displacement of a pelvic organ may be at fault.

PROBABLY NOT SERIOUS.

J. F. S. writes: What does a sharp stab or ticklishness around or near the heart indicate?

REPLY.

A sharp, stabbing pain may be caused by neuralgia. Angina pectoris is accompanied by great agony and fear of death. Minor twinges are probably of little moment. In coronary occlusion [blocking] the pain is mild at first and usually increases greatly in severity, so much so that it may not be controled even by large doses of a narcotic. From your description I would not regard your sensations as significant of any serious malady.

TOES INWARD.

Mrs. H. writes: My 2 year old twins are pigeon toed. What can I do about this condition?

REPLY.

As the old almanac would say, keep them away from pigeons. As a matter of fact a child who toes inward probably will develop an excellent foot form. If we all had Charlie Chaplin's gait, we would be hunting up orthopedic surgeons constantly. The American Indian—accustomed to long journeys on foot—is able to withstand many hours of trudging because the bones of the feet function so perfectly, toeing in. Unless the tendency becomes worse, nothing need be done about it.

OIL FUMES IN HOME.

Mrs. C. writes: We heat our home by oil. When we come in from the outside, we smell oil. Is this dangerous?

REPLY.

Probably not, although if incomplete combustion is the cause, some carbon monoxide may be liberated. There should be no detectable oil odor. Perhaps the plant should be gone over by a service man to make certain there are no leaks and that the feed is not too rapid. Sometimes an improper connection [vent] to the chimney may be at fault.

FROM SENATOR SEARCY.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 7.—As a citizen, as a world war veteran who saw and survived bitter front line service in France in 1918, and as a public official who has an ever deepening concern for the future of the republic, I am amazed at furtive implications emanating these days from the White House and other official sources that America's rôle ought to be that of a world policeman.

None believes in adequate national defense more firmly than I. If necessary, I would make it even superadequate. All patriotic Americans would take up arms, regardless of age, for defense of our nation against aggressors.

But the suggested squandering of American billions for an armed establishment so large that foreign excursions would be necessary frequently to justify it, is beyond my comprehension. There is no shorter cut to international trouble than to have a meddling navy in alien waters, whilst crackpots here are shouting denunciations and stigmatizing criticism across the seas.

Let other nations alone. We don't want their "isms," or their governmental insanity, or their tyrannies. If they wish them, that's their business. We can keep them out of Uncle Sam's domain by attending to our own knitting, by holding to the republican form of American representative government, by stopping the confounding of democracy with burocracy, by teaching our young that our government, the greatest on earth, became so in pursuance of a national system purely, typically, and traditionally American, not alien. Let sterling, proven Americanism remain instilled in our public mind, instead of an apologetic disposition to temporize with foreign experimentation.

Our job is to make the United States a better country in which to live and have citizenship. Let us have armed forces big and powerful enough to serve tacit and dignified notice to the world that we can take care of ourselves if attacked. In that event we will be let alone. Let the national defense and protection be for our own shores, not those of nations beyond the seas.

My own international policy:

Keep our diplomatic and political nose out of other nations' business; then so build and improve the United States of America that other countries will care to emulate us. EARL B. SEARCY,
State Senator.

THE DIES INVESTIGATION.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—Now comes the report that the President has asked his leaders to block the legislation that would enable the Dies committee to continue the investigation of un-American activities. By doing this does not the President classify himself with those forces which we know are un-American and destructive to American ideals? Let the President denounce communism as he belittles those who oppose the Moscow technique; let him refrain from sending felicitations and congratulations to the Stalinists whose bloody revolution has liquidated millions of Christians during their twenty year reign of terror, and the American people will believe he is sincere when he says he is concerned about their welfare and prosperity.

S. HENRI BOESE.

QUAKING IN HIS BOOTS.

Pauiding, O., Jan. 8.—President Roosevelt's suggested appropriation for armaments is ridiculously small in view of future possibilities. I don't believe he realizes how completely vulnerable our nation really is.

For instance, what's to stop Lithuania from sending her crack troops through the soviet republic, throwing a pontoon bridge across the Bering, and pocketing Alaska? What's to stop Switzerland from sending her fleet up the Mississippi and taking St. Louis before our ships could get through the Panama canal? What's to stop Manchuria from filling the air along our west coast with a yellow horde descending in parachutes, spitting death and destruction from thousands of machine guns?

Granting that the last attack by the warriors from Mars was a fabrication, have we any assurance that such an invasion might not actually occur? Indeed, why suspect only Mars? Just recently astronomers have reported Jupiter and Neptune bristling with activity. True, it may simply have been a volcanic eruption, but what assurance do we have that it was not a military mobilization going on at a rate that we poor mortals never dreamed of? What assurance do we have that our civilization could survive an interplanetary fracas?

What is America?
An infant crying on the steppes,
An infant crying for some Zeps.
And with no language but a cry!

ELDRED JOHNSTON.

ON REACHING THE AGE OF 13.

Chicago, Jan. 7.—I, being a constant reader of your column, would like to say something about the outrageous price of shows for children. I, myself, being a girl of 13, get no more money than one of 8. As for grownups, it's all right, as they work and can afford it. Are we considered adults at the age of 13 or 14? Well, I don't think so. But of course if they are giving free glassware you pay adult price, and all they say is you're only a child and that it is for grownups only. After all, it's the children on Saturday that give them the business, but they would find they would have a far better business if the children a little older than 12 could get in for a dime or 15 cents.

Why don't they give us a break?

FLORENCE O'BRIEN.

NOISE IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Jan. 8.—Civilization is synonymous with noise. A Chicago avenue street car competes with one's neighbor's radio for first honors as a noise producer. Some one might contest this assertion with the counter claim that a telephone bell is no sweet singer in Israel. I'm not arguing. A sputtering, spitting, coughing motor outside one's window on a cold, frosty morning makes one wish that automobile manufacturers would concentrate less on style lines and finishes and more on silent motors. I wish that Chicago had two hundred miles of subways so that all transportation lines would be underground. I'm for making life in Chicago livable. Is that goal attainable? DAVID FRISCH.

ESTATE ASSETS.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My mother and father died six months ago leaving property clear of debt and also four mortgages on different pieces of property. The lawyer handling the estate advises us to sell the mortgages and sell the property before it comes up in Probate court next April.

1. Is it advisable to sell the mortgages at this time?
2. Is it advisable to sell the property at this time if we get a buyer?
3. Can clear title be given before this comes up in Probate court?
4. There are six heirs to the estate and two of the heirs hold out on the sale of property. Can a clear transfer of deed be given? The house is a two flat and my brother lives in the first flat and is janitor. The other flat is leased for a year.
5. My brother, who is one of the administrators, told the people renting they cannot use the basement to do their laundry.
6. That, of course, breaks the lease. Now they are going to move out.
7. Can we make him pay for the vacant flat? The estate has a mortgage on my property and the lawyer who is handling this will has a party who wants to take over my mortgage.
8. Would you advise me to turn it over now or wait until the case comes up in court? F. N.

1. If you are sure that there are no creditors and no other heirs who might be interested in the estate this would mean that there is no one to question your action.
2. Depends in part on how good a price he offers. Your lawyer is in a better position to advise you than we are.
3. Yes, by giving a bond against claims.
4. Our foregoing answers are based on the assumption that all parties would coöperate. If some refuse then partition would be necessary.
5. The administrator as such does not necessarily have anything to do with the real estate.
6. You are probably right.
7. This seems possible, but the answer might be made that the tenant should have ignored him.
8. If you are not in a position to pay up and can refinance now it would seem advisable to seize the opportunity.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

BUILDING REPAIRS.

Chicago, Jan. 5.—[Friend of the People.]—I wish to report the house next door, which is in a very run-down condition and I believe is in danger of falling down, causing damage to our home. The two families living in the house are on relief and moved in there because the house was empty and there was no one in charge of it. The house is infested with cockroaches and mice and was built to accommodate only one family. A. O.

The owner of the above mentioned premises has been notified to repair porches and stairs and put building in a good and safe condition. He has also been notified to provide an additional stairway and if the work is not done at the expiration of time allotted in our notice we will proceed according to law. RICHARD E. SCHMIDT,
Commissioner of Buildings.

GERMANY SEEKS BIG LOAN TO HELP JEWS EMIGRATE

Also Demands Increase in Nazi Exports.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The plan of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the Reichsbank, to use Germany's Jews to increase the country's exports will form a basis for negotiations which will be opened tomorrow between George Rublee and Schacht.

Dr. Hjalmar Schacht.

Rublee, an American, is executive director of the permanent international refugee office in London. This institution was created following the conference on refugees held last July in Evian-les-Bains, France.

Rublee and his advisers arrived in Berlin this morning. Dr. Schacht returned from Basel, Switzerland later.

Plan Divided in Two Parts.

Dr. Schacht's proposals are divided into two parts. One concerns the emigration of Jews, the second the transfer of their property.

The plan foresees a division of Germany's half million Jews into three categories—wage earners, of whom there are about 150,000; direct dependents of wage earners, and the aged and infirm.

Under the Schacht scheme the wage earners would be taken out of Germany in groups. The number in each group and the rate of their emigration will be a subject of negotiation.

The direct dependents of the wage earners would leave the country as soon as members of their families already abroad are able financially and otherwise to send for them.

For the aged and infirm, Germany would undertake to provide "guarantees" that "satisfactory provisions" would be taken permitting them to remain in Germany.

Seek International Loan.

The transfer of Jewish property would be affected by means of an international loan for which Jewish property in the reich would be taken as security.

Increased exports over and above a "norm" would be used to service the loan. Germany demands that a certain proportion of the income derived from the increased exports must come into the reich in foreign exchange. The remainder would then be used to service the loan.

Jewish sources agree with Dr. Schacht in estimating that about $600,000,000 in Jewish fortunes would remain to be transferred after payment of the $400,000,000 fine imposed on the Jews for the murder of a Nazi diplomat in Paris, and after various taxes and forced payments have been made to the Nazi government. This property would be confiscated and represent the approximate amount remaining in Germany as security for the international loan.

MOTHER WHO GOT TO SEE SON FROM ALASKA IS DEAD

Mrs. Alpha Louise Walther, 65 years old, died yesterday with all of her children around her. Even her son, Henry, 24 years old, who was rushed home from a remote Alaskan wilderness by the United States coast guard and air lines after a widespread appeal by amateur radio operators. Henry, a caribou hunter, arrived in November after his mother, critically ill in Franklin Boulevard hospital, had asked to see her son before she died.

"Mother told us many times that her greatest happiness came to her when Henry returned," said a daughter, Helen. "She wanted us to thank every one who helped."

After Henry arrived at her bedside Mrs. Walther improved so much that she went to their home at 846 North Harding avenue. A week ago Monday she returned to the hospital. Also with her when she died was her husband, Louis E. Walther, and four other children.

Private funeral services will be held in Essex, Ill., Friday.

Work men Uncover Skeleton of Child in Lincoln Park

Workmen on a new boulevard connection between La Salle street and Lake Shore drive, in Lincoln park, yesterday uncovered a skeleton of what appeared to be a child about 8 years old. It was found near Stockton drive and Wisconsin street. Hudson avenue police took the skeleton to the county morgue. A cemetery at one time occupied that portion of the park.

DODGE'S WIDOW WINS MILLIONS IN ESTATE CONTEST

Pontiac, Mich., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Annie Laurine Dodge, young widow of Daniel G. Dodge, heir to a motor car fortune, today won her fight for a substantial share of his estate. It was estimated she may eventually receive as much as $5,000,000, which will be reduced to a fraction of that amount by taxes.

Mrs. Laurine Dodge.

The girl, now 19 years old, was an $18 a week telephone operator before her marriage to young Dodge last Aug. 2. Her father is a tugboat captain. While the young couple was honeymooning in the Canadian north woods Dodge, 21 years old, died following an explosion of dynamite which he was examining in his garage. They had been married thirteen days.

In a settlement approved today by Probate Judge Arthur A. Moore, it was agreed that Mrs. Dodge will receive a widow's share—25 per cent—of her husband's estate.

Under the settlement effected Mrs. Dodge will receive one-fourth of her husband's personal estate, which was inventoried at $1,600,000, and the same share of whatever proceeds are derived from his claim against approximately $10,000,000 accumulated income from the $40,000,000 fortune his father left.

Young Dodge also was to receive $10,000,000 from a $40,000,000 trust fund established by his father.

IDENTIFY 'KING FOR DAY' SUICIDE AS A NEW YORKER

A young man who committed suicide with poison last Friday in the Palmer House was identified yesterday as Arnold Plumbridge, 24 years old, of New York City. He had been missing since Jan. 2. Officials of B. W. Dyer & Co., New York sugar brokerage firm, where he was employed as a clerk, had instituted a search for him. A suicide note left in his room started out: "King for a day, but the song is ended."

Identification was made through finger prints and a photograph sent to the New York bureau of missing persons by the Chicago police. The Dyer officials said Plumbridge's accounts were in good shape and that they knew of no reason for his suicide.

Find Wife Dead 3 Days, Elderly Husband Starving

Austin police were called to an apartment at 4815 Chicago avenue yesterday by neighbors. There they found Joseph Hanson, 67 years old, ill from malnutrition, and his wife, Katherine, 67, dead in bed. Dr. Eleuterro Ciotola, 4957 Chicago avenue, said the woman had been dead about three days. The only food in the apartment, aside from that in two cans, was some stale bread. Hanson was taken to County hospital.

DISMISSES $50,000 TIN BOX FIGHT ON WIDOW'S ESTATE

The $50,000 tin box mystery lost all legal standing yesterday when George A. Rooney, assistant to the Probate judge, ruled that Mrs. Frances Disbrow, widow of a Spanish American war veteran, had died leaving only a negligible estate. He dismissed a petition for citation of Duane S. Wright of 1011 South 10th avenue, Maywood, executor of the estate.

Wright was accused by Attorney Gilbert Voelke of withholding from the estate an amount estimated at between $50,000 and $75,000. It was charged that the money had been contained in a tin box found in Mrs. Disbow's home at 606 South 9th avenue, Maywood. Voelke was acting for William J. Straling of Terminal Island, Cal., Mrs. Disbrow's brother.

Yesterday Wright's safety deposit vault at the First National Bank of Cicero was examined without disclosing a hidden fortune. Rooney held that the $50,000 allegation had not been proved.

HARRY BURNS, 58, VETERAN ACTOR, DIES IN HIS AUTO

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Harry Burns, 58 years old, actor, director, producer, and recently just an extra in films, died last night at the wheel of his automobile.

Burns spent all of his life in the public entertainment field. He was vaudeville's champion bag puncher. He was a referee and later a matchmaker at the old Vernon arena. He acted and directed for William Fox, Chester Franklin, and Hal Roach and trained wild animals for Carl Laemmle.

In 1923 he saved six persons from death in a fire when Rupert Hughes' circus picture, "Souls for Sale," was being filmed. He was instrumental in putting through the daily pay basis for the bit players, who were being paid weekly.

He is survived by his widow, Dorothy Vernon, the mother of Screen Comic Bobby Vernon.

COUNCIL URGED TO AMEND COAL SALE ORDINANCE

Amendments to the ordinance regulating coal sales, designed to eliminate frauds and simplify enforcement, were recommended to the city council yesterday by its committee on judiciary and state legislation.

The amendments have been approved by the Chicago Retail Coal Merchants' association and the Better Business bureau. One of the changes would require the dealer to specify in writing the grade and size of the coal as well as the weight of each load.

Lecture Series Will Help with Garden Plans

BY JUDITH CASS.

IT'S not a bit too early to be planning one's garden if one is a real gardener, think the members of the Garden Club of Illinois, who are offering this winter the most pretentious study program in the history of the club.

The course will be a three class lecture series on "Landscaping the Small Property." The lecturer will be Annette Hoyt Flanders of New York. The lectures will be given on Monday, Jan. 30, at 10 o'clock in the morning and at 2 in the afternoon, and on Tuesday, the 31st, at 10 in the morning.

The lectures will be given at the Palmer House. They have been planned especially for presentation in Chicago and will give practical instruction on designing, building, planting, and caring for garden development. Mrs. Flanders was born and reared in Milwaukee and has many friends in Chicago. She has designed some of the loveliest gardens in Chicagoland, including the Philip Armours', the William A. P. Pullmans', the Mason Phelpses', and the Edward K. Welleses' in Lake Forest, and those on the Dundee estate of Dr. and Mrs. Paul B. Magnuson.

The lectures will be free to all members of the Garden Club of Illinois; guest tickets will be $1 each. Mrs. George Plamondon is president of the club.

Annual Flower Show Will Open on March 25.

Various members of the club may be traveling between the time of the study course and the date of the opening of the Chicago Flower show on the Navy pier, March 25, but you may be sure they all will be back before then. The mammoth show is their big activity of each year and it is because each member does her part so conscientiously and capably that the show is the great success it always is.

Mrs. George S. Parker, Mrs. David Mayer Jr., Mrs. Charles Walgreen, Mrs. Raymond Knotts, Mrs. Maurice Mandeville, and Mrs. Waldo Gundlach are some of those active in the club's affairs.

Fortune-Hubbart Nuptials Today.

At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the Evanston home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph De Golyer Hubbart, Miss Charlotte Houston Hubbart will become the bride of Peter Fortune, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fortune of Chicago. Msgr. Joseph Morrison will read the service before an improvised altar in the bay of the Hubbarts' living room.

Only relatives and closest friends of both families will be in the group of one hundred who will hear the ceremony and stay afterward to drink a toast to Mr. Fortune and his pretty bride. Mrs. Hans Schweizer will be her sister's only attendant. Little Heidi Schweizer will be the flower girl and John L. Fortune Jr. will be best man.

Mr. Fortune and his bride are sailing Saturday for a two months' honeymoon in Italy, Germany, Switzerland, and France. His aunt, Miss Joanna Fortune, is lending them her attractive apartment on the near north side, in which they will make their home until next October.

Arden Shore Holds Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Arden Shore association yesterday at the Chicago Athletic association was also the scene of many leave takings, for most of the board members of this hard working organization are planning winter holiday trips. Mrs. Kingman Douglass, who is a director at large of the association, and Mr. Douglass have purchased 28 acres at Rancho Santa Fe, near La Jolla, Cal., to which charming spot they will go probably twice a year from now on. Mr. and Mrs. Douglass are remodeling the house.

However, such interesting personal news did not overshadow the delightful little talk Mrs. Robert B. Gregory, honorary president, gave, recalling the early days of the Arden Shore camp, nor the stirring speech made by Miss Anna Belle Ferrier, popular executive head of the camp. Mrs. John E. Davis took over the reins as new president of the association, and Mrs. Herbert Nock, retiring president, became 3d vice president.

Other officers elected were Mrs. Walter Straub, 1st vice president; Mrs. James A. Cathcart, 2d vice president; Mrs. Roy R. Marquardt, recording secretary; Mrs. M. D. Rector, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Roy E. Bard, treasurer.

The village chairmen for the coming year, most of whom are new, are Mrs. George Traver, Chicago; Mrs. G. H. Chamberlaine, Evanston; Mrs. E. H. Freeman, Wilmette; Mrs. Leon T. Ellis, Kenilworth; Mrs. Thaddeus R. Benson, Winnetka; Mrs. Robert J. Watt, Glencoe; Mrs. Charles Bates, Ravinia; Mrs. Samuel H. Bingham, Highland Park; Mrs. Thomas Connors, Lake Forest; and Mrs. John Walbridge, Lake Bluff.

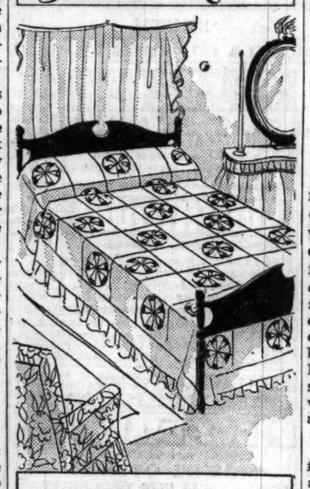
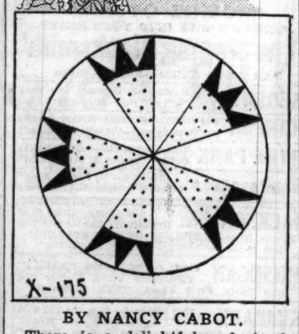
Debutantes Return to Their Studies

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Miss Jane Cheney [left] and Miss Marie Louise Richards are back at their studies now, but on the afternoon of Dec. 26 they were making formal bows to society at a tea-dance at the Indian Hill club. Miss Nancy Dammann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Francis Dammann, was introduced at the same party. Miss Richards, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Marcus D. Richards, and Miss Dammann attend Smith college, and Miss Cheney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Goddard Cheney, is a student at Sarah Lawrence.

TODAY'S QUILT





X-175

BY NANCY CABOT.

There is a delightful and simple charm about this prim little quilt design which comes to us directly from the Rocky mountains. It was inspired by the spicy little pink that grows in the nooks and crannies of the mountains, and peeks out at one with all the naïveté in the world. The petals are made of dainty pink printed material and tipped with green to simulate the natural bloom.

For the applique quilt pattern, "Mountain Pink," No. X-175, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

White Accents the Smartest of Black Dresses

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Just as fresh and appealing as the first crocus in spring, new black dresses etched lightly with snow white are now ready to relieve the downcast spirits of all shoppers out for something to wear under winter coats. Besides making an especially smart ensemble with an all black coat, these last minute arrivals are extremely buyable because they can be worn with short jackets and boleros in early spring and as stunning street outfits in the summer with white accessories . . . hat, gloves, and bag.

One fetching model is made with a flared skirt and bell sleeves and has a scarlet patent lether belt around the slim middle. Hiding under the hem is a startling three inch banding of white cotton lace of large effective pattern. A smidge of matching lace is tucked in at the high round neckline.

Another navy or black affair has an underskirt of black taffeta for swish and a high, tiny yoke of old fashioned eyelet embroidery. Still another has a high chest pocket with narrow white frills to match the frills at the cuffs of the short sleeves.

Others have crisp, flat fluting streaking down the center of the front. And there is an especially effective number trimmed with smart white braid in concentric circles.

All of the necklines are demurely high and round. All of the sleeves are short, some just below the elbows, others just above and some ready to be worn either way.

Skirts are young and snappy with flared outlines that accent the waistlines. Simplicity is stressed, materials are soft, drape easily, and of excellent quality, the kind that give service day in and day out.

For charm, youthfulness, and a fine midwinter distinction with interesting price marks, these black and whites are hard to beat.

Good Morning!

In "Pacific Liner" Victor McLaglen gives another outstanding performance—probably the best thing he's done in the way of a character study since "The Informer."

As "Crusher" McKay he is chief engineer and boss supreme below decks of a liner bound from Shanghai to San Francisco. He is a hard man, but just, has ears attuned perfectly to distinguish between a false groan or a real moan, and Capt. Mathews knows that with McKay driving the stokers his ship will dock on the minute, unless prevented by some "act of God."

The unexpected happens. . . . Cholera breaks out in the stokehold. . . . And panic. . . . But McKay is equal to the emergency and the passengers eating, dancing, and taking their ease on the upper decks have no idea that hell has broken loose beneath them. . . . McKay, the ship's pretty nurse whom both he and the ship's doctor love, and the last, work like fiends, nursing the stricken, burying the dead, endeavoring to fend off illness from the living. . . . THEN—McKay's turn comes.

Their prop gone, most of the surviving stokers succumb to paralyzing terror—and for a time things look pretty bad. But the boat docks—just two hours late—for which thank McKay. . . . See the film for the rest of the story.

I think "Pacific Liner" would have been better off without the doctor-nurse situation, which to me seemed dragged in by the heels. However, for those who must have "heart interest," there it is. . . . Chester Morris is good as the doctor; Wendy Barrie and all the other players you'll like.

But it's for Victor McLaglen you'll stand up and cheer.

See you tomorrow.

Garner Takes His Granddaughter, 16, to White House Dinner

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Vice President Garner, who doesn't like dinners, had a special reason for enjoying the one President Roosevelt gave him tonight—the look of enchantment on the face of Genevieve Garner, his 16 year old granddaughter.

It was the first White House party for green-eyed, dark-haired Genevieve, who came here from Amarillo, Tex., to finish high school at nearby Arlington hall.

Other guests included Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor; Mrs. Joseph T. Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cotsworth Jr. The Cotsworths are Chicagoans, he being an executive of the Burlington railroad. They were overnight guests at the White House.

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

Thanks for the Memory.

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10. — Comes March 10 and the Academy of Moving Picture Arts and Sciences will assemble about the wassail bowl, and between dipping and drinking and drinking and cogitating the pundits of that honorable body will select all that was outstanding in cinema during the twelve flabbergasted months of 1938.

To aid these honorable men in their selections, and purely as a back seat driver, your reporter submits some scenes from 1938 pictures under the heading of "Thanks for the Memory."

Thanks for the memory of "Thanks for the Memory" as Shirley Ross and Bob Hope intoned it. . . . Ginger Rogers playing backgammon in "Having Wonderful Time." . . . Binnie Barnes' comedy in "Four Men and a Prayer." . . . The charge of the Scots in "The Buccaneer" that sent chills up your back as the thin line advanced. . . . Bill Frawley's drunk in "Professor Beware." . . . "Change Partners" as Astaire and Ginger socked it home in "Carefree."

The scene between Bette Davis and George Brent, in "Jezebel," when he finally realizes that she has been playing him for a chump. . . . Pat O'Brien's fine performance in "Garden of the Moon" as the unscrupulous manager of the night club.

Myrna Loy's performance, one of her finest, as the small town girl in "Test Pilot." . . . Gary Cooper's nonchalant gawkiness in "Cowboy and the Lady" and the scene in which he gives Merle Oberon a ducking. . . . The scene from "Algiers," when Charles Boyer and Hedy Lamarr touch hands at the casbah table. . . . Lionel Barrymore's fine achievement in "You Can't Take It With You." . . . The comeback of Edward Arnold.

Virginia Weidler's make believing opposite scene-stealer Mickey Rooney in "Out West with the Hardys." . . . Robert Morley's impersonation of the king in "Marie Antoinette," which was big leaguey.

Edward G. Robinson's projection of the college professor in "I Am the Law," and his projection of the doctor in "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse."

Miles Mander's interpretation of Disraeli in "Suez," the only rôle which carried flat conviction. . . . Jim Cagney's gangster in "Angels with Dirty Faces." . . . Basil Rathbone's king in "If I Were King." . . . Bing Crosby's performance in "Sing, You Sinners," easily the best thing he's done on celluloid.

Robert Donat, Emlyn Williams, Rex Harrison and Rosalind Russell for the "sing" they imparted to "The Citadel."

Franchot Tone and Bob Montgomery's teaming in "Three Loves Has Nancy" [with a low bow to Janet Gaynor]. . . . Patsy Kelly's comedy scene in "There Goes My Heart" when she is shilling for a vibrator machine and knocks herself out trying to peddle it.

Bob Burns' sock performance in "The Arkansas Traveler," the best thing he's ever done. . . . The Ritz Brothers' cat number in "Goldwyn Follies." . . . Bob Montgomery's etching of the Irish sergeant in "Yellow Jack," and the sensitive performance of Alan Curtis in the same flicker.

Gene Lockhart's cringing stool pigeon in "Algiers." . . . Wallace Beery singing hymns in "Stablemates." . . . John Barrymore as the governor in "Hold That Co-ed," one of the more rollicking football satires.

Priscilla Lane's inspired work in "Four Daughters," the picture that introduced John Garfield to Hollywood. . . . Garfield's work in "They Made Me a Criminal," although this will not be released for 1938 rating.

The magnificent photography of "Robin Hood." . . . Chester Morris' easy effectiveness in "Pacific Liner," which hardly qualified as palatable entertainment of an evening. . . . Kanin's "A Man to Remember," and just to prove it wasn't an accident, he scored again with "The Great Man Votes," marked by exciting directorial touches. . . . Elsa Lanchester's amazing range of characterization in "The Beachcomber," in which she went from a Beatrice Lillie caricature to the heart interest and made you believe it. . . . As a sign-off, Spencer Tracy in "Boys' Town."

A Stranger in the Dark

By Frank R. Adams

(Copyright: 1939: By Frank R. Adams.)

SYNOPSIS.

In a railway station a young man, apparently dying, gives the hero his wallet and baggage check to claim his luggage and get his medicine. Before he can carry out the errand Detective Mike Clancy starts to arrest him as a fugitive bank teller. But the dying man creates a diversion and the hero escapes. He gets the sick man's bags, then, seeing the man being carried away on a stretcher, decides to use the man's ticket, boards a train, and is on his way to Clovis, N. M., as John Bowman—an innocent fugitive, having taken the blame for missing funds to save his father.

INSTALMENT III.

THE SHERIFF ASSAULTED.

I heard the door open and then click shut. Nothing else happened so finally I glanced toward it. Inside the closed door stood, not my chocolate hued friend, but a dumpy heavy set individual dressed in an old brown suit and wearing a disreputable Stetson. He had a mild wide face with one day's growth of stubble on it.

"This John Bowman's drawing room?" he asked.

"Yes."

"I'm Tom Johnson, deputy sheriff of——"

My thought, if I had any—more probably it was instinct that actuated my movements—were that I had been caught at last. That sick man in Chicago had probably regained consciousness and put the police on my trail. They had wired ahead to the Texas authorities to pick me up. I couldn't expect that my good luck would hold forever.

However, sheriff or no sheriff, I didn't intend to give up without a struggle. I rose quickly from my bentover position in front of the suitcase and with the same movement landed a fist on his chin. He looked surprised as he went down, hitting the door as he did so and nearly crackling a panel.

My foolhardy plan was to escape from the room before he could get up, run to the rear observation platform and drop off. We were on an upgrade, running slow, and I might have a chance.

But as I opened the door two men who had apparently been standing just outside started to come in. They were powerful, western looking men, both of them somewhat younger and more active than the sheriff himself.

I was completely blocked off.

"What'll we do, Tom?" one of the men asked. He talked slowly as if time never meant anything to him.

"You, Tex, stay outside," the sheriff said, getting to his feet. "And keep Mex with yuh. They ain't room for only just us two in here—especially since we're doin' a little rasslin'."

The two young men did not seem to think there was anything very unusual in the orders of their superior and they withdrew apologetically.

The sheriff looked at me with a grin. "You hit middlin' hard, don't yuh?" He rubbed his chin. "Man as old as I be ought to wear more whiskers for paddin' if he bruises easy."

"Sorry, sheriff," I said.

"S'all right," he replied. "Had no business surprisin' yuh like I done, John. When your dad heard what train yuh were comin' on he wanted I should get to talk to yuh before yuh arrived at the ranch so he and a coupla my boys took the bus over to Pampa last night an' got aboard when the Navajo came through."

It began to dawn on me that this man didn't know who I was at all but had, naturally, mistaken me for John Bowman whose Pullman accommodations I was wrongfully using. I started to tell him about that, but he wouldn't listen.

"We gotta talk kinda fast," he said, seating himself on one of the two double cushions and indicating that I should take the other. "Your dad's powerful sick, John, and he wants to see you before cashin' in. They's somethin' I gotta tell yuh before yuh get there."

"Wait a minute," I said, "before you go any farther, sheriff——"

"Name's Tom Johnson. I'd like for yuh to call me Tom. I was foreman on the Bowman ranch when yuh was born, John."

There was something in his voice that made me feel very small and downright ashamed of myself. He had come to help some one that he loved, an old dying man, and was trying to intimate that he wanted to include that man's son in the warmth of his friendship and loyalty.

And I was the wrong man!

I had to tell him. "Tom," I said slowly, "the trouble is I'm not John Bowman and I don't know what you're talking about."

Tom took that slowly and incredulously. Even when he saw that I was not trying to fool him he did not get indignant about it.

"If you're not John Bowman then what are yuh doin' here in his drawin' room travelin' on his ticket?"

It seemed like one of those occasions where nothing but the facts would come anywhere near to a believable explanation. Slowly and carefully I told him what had happened in the Chicago railway station—at least as much of it as concerned John Bowman. I finished with "the last I saw of him he was being carried out on a stretcher. I'm afraid he's dead."

"But John can't be dead. That'll break his dad's heart." He was talking to himself, of course. It meant nothing to me.

Suddenly he leaned forward and looked searchingly into my eyes. "Son," he said, "is what you've been tellin' me the truth?"

"Yes."

"All of the truth?"

"No."

I don't know why I told him. I'd never trusted any one else with my story in all the three years that I'd been wandering. But something in the man's troubled face forced me to make a clean breast of everything. To try to account honestly for the smashup of his hopes seemed the least I could do. I told how I happened to be at the railway station and why I had desperately snatched at the chance to get away from the police.

He followed my story with painfully close attention. At the end he put his hand on my knee and shook it a little for emphasis. "One thing more, son. Was you guilty?"

I answered slowly, "No—but anybody would say that."

"Not with his eyes, too. Son, I believe yuh."

He leaned back with a little sigh. Then suddenly he asked, "Why'd you quit fightin' in Spain?"

"I didn't like the job much. It started out as a good clean war but later it got so mixed up I couldn't tell what I was fighting for. So I quit."

"Where are yuh headin' for now, son?"

I shrugged my shoulders. "China, I guess."

"Why?"

"Might as well. The Chinese have got some American planes and need men to fly 'em. Besides I kinda like Chinamen."

He thought that over. "Yuh might get killed in China."

"Yes."

"Might get killed at the Bowman ranch, too. Ain't much difference, that I can see."

"Except that nobody out this way gives a continental whether I'm alive or dead."

"They would if yuh was John Bowman."

"But I'm not John Bowman."

He squinted at me thoughtfully. "I'm not so sure yuh ain't."

I laughed at that loudly. And I thought I'd forgotten how to laugh! "I don't even look like John Bowman."

"Mebbe not, but nobody knows that. John Bowman ain't been seen by nobody in these parts includin' the family since he was a baby practically. P'raps before we go much further I better tell yuh a little about the Bowmans."

"I don't want to hear about the Bowmans!"

"Lissen anyway. I got a hunch it may come in handy."

The rails clacked by—the mile posts, one by one, slid into the eastern distance while I listened to the Ruritanian tale of the Bowmans and their kingdom of cattle within the boundaries of the greatest republic in the world.

Some of the facts I knew already. There have been dozens of magazine and newspaper articles on the subject during the last few years. As Tom Johnson unfolded his story some of the things I had read came back to me.

I knew, for instance, that the Bowman ranch was one of the largest privately owned cattle ranges in the United States or Canada, that it was measured in square miles, not acres, and that it was entirely surrounded by two separate and distinct barbed wire fences, one about twelve feet inside the other so that any person or animal getting through the outside fence still had to negotiate one more before arriving on forbidden soil.

This wire-protected domain was garrisoned by a hundred or more armed cowboys who, legend had it, shot first and asked questions afterward of those who did not take to heart the subtle hint of the double fence.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

It would take long range binoculars to detect actual signs of spring these days [although some one HAS spotted a robin in Chicago], but we for one have a terrible yen for it. We wish it were here to dissipate the after-holidays letdown.

If you share our feeling that there's been just about enough of this rather melancholy winter weather you might like some synthetic spring. We've found some, in the form of a woodsey perfume, in a beautifully streamlined bottle that streamlines the drooping spirits.

It's outdoorish, but not militantly so. It's not obtrusive in the fashion that boisterously athletic people are. You know the kind: They pity you if you won't ski and are forever talking about plunging under the cold shower in a manifestation of high spirits and pep that are anything but endearing if you can take outdoor sports or leave them alone. Some too-piney perfumes have this same rather unsettling effect, at least on our senses.

This perfume isn't dull, however. It has greenness and gayety, and a bit of it on the skin makes you a thousand times less weary of your heavy coat and your wool dresses. It has just a touch of come-hither, too. When we lincd up the staf members to get their reactions on it we found that gentlemen completely approved.

You'll like it if your tastes run to bright, well bred perfumes. We can promise that it will give you a lift.

A Child Can Start His School Routine Before Term Opens

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.]

Yesterday we were talking about your child, who will be going to school for the first time this coming term.

My next suggestion is that you try a little experiment for the next two weeks in preparation for his first adventure in school.

When you put this into operation do it definitly without letting your small son or daughter know it, since many children get pretty well keyed-up over going to school for the first time. The experiment consists of planning your child's day as if he had already begun school, to get his body into the routine that will be required. For school days require regularity, promptness and timing.

First, get your child in bed so he can wake up rested at the right time.

Let him dress in the kind of clothes he would wear for school, and with the time allowance he would have. Let him sit down to breakfast at the hour he will soon need to, with plenty of leeway for leisurely eating.

Next, give your attention to his elimination. Although you have probably made regularity for him a rule, quietly see to it that his bowels act after his breakfast. Some children object to strange school toilets at first and refrain from going, causing them real distress.

was that Mr. and Mrs. Milton M. Morse are leaving shortly to spend six months in Bermuda. Since Mr. Morse has given up his business, they have not made plans further ahead than that, but their Lake Forest neighbors are hoping the Morses will not stay away too long. They have a married daughter, Mrs. John P. McWilliams II., who lives in Lake Forest with her husband and little daughter, and an unmarried daughter and son, Miss Barbara and Timmy, who probably will go to Bermuda.

Charles T. Atkinson, a Lake Forester, who is not connected with the association, but who is a good friend to the camp, is leaving on a delightful winter trip Jan. 21. He is sailing in the Stella Polaris through the Panama canal to the South Seas and up the west coast of Africa. He will return in June by way of Southampton, England.

Ryersons Will Attend. Concert in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr. are taking a trip next week, but it will be a brief one. They are going to Milwaukee on Monday with Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Stock to attend the concert in the Pabst theater by the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Young Robert Virovai will be the soloist.

Before the concert Mr. Ryerson, as president of Chicago's Orchestral association, will attend a dinner to meet the trustees of the Milwaukee Orchestral association which brings the Chicago orchestra to that city ten times each year. Following the concert the Stocks and Ryersons will attend a reception at the home of Mrs. Frederick C. Thwaits, who heads the Milwaukee association.

Mrs. Bartholomay Osborne, charming and efficient president of the woman's committee of the orchestra, leaves next Tuesday for Rochester, N. Y., to attend the national convention of woman's committees. The women will discuss ways of raising money and of selling tickets for orchestras throughout the country.

Needlework Guild Hears Lecture Today.

Members of the Needlework and Textile Guild of the Art institute will assemble at 11 o'clock this morning in Fullerton hall of the institute to hear Alan J. B. Wace talk about "Turkish and Italian Textiles in Paintings."

Mr. Wace is an Englishman, now professor of classical archæology at Cambridge university and formerly the keeper of the department of textiles of the Victoria and Albert museum in London. Each member of the guild may bring one guest. Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift is president of the organization.

American Opera Society Hears Program Today.

A composition described by some musicians as the best tango written by an American will be included on the program Helen Rend Clark, composer-pianist, will play today. The program of her own works will be given before the America Opera society at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the home of Mrs. Edward R. Litsinger, 1400 State parkway. Mrs. Clark and Roy Glahn, tenor, are sharing the program. Mr. Glahn was judged the best male singer in the contests of the 1938 Chicagoland Music Festival.

Mrs. Maurice Reynolds will open her home at 1420 Lake Shore drive at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon for a book review for the benefit of the Peacock Camp for Crippled Children. Florence Bourke Ellis will be the reviewer. This is the third of four such affairs being given. The last one will be given on Feb. 8, also at Mrs. Reynolds'.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

Semantics Expert.

Few Chicagoans are aware that Count Alfred Korzybski, famed Polish mathematician and semantics authority, is established on the south side where he holds daily classes in semantics in an apartment on East 56th street. A short, baldheaded, amiable looking man in the middle fifties, Korzybski, who is married to Painter Myra Edgerly, wears khaki clothes, shirt open at the throat, sleeves rolled up, and spends considerable time when he is not lecturing to students working with a machine he uses in teaching his theory.

"We don't solve problems for people," the author of Science and Sanity says. "We give them a message to help clear up their messes."

* * *

One of Korzybski's students last week was pretty dark eyed Mrs. Cornelius Crane, wife of the young Chicagoan who endowed Count Alfred's Institute of General Semantics. Young Crane is intensely interested in social anthropology and Mrs. Crane attended a series of lectures to familiarize herself with this correlated phase of her husband's interests. Count Alfred—that's the way associates refer to him—wrote an earlier book in 1921 that introduced his theory, with which he hopes to revolutionize mankind's thinking habits and help create a saner world. His Science and Sanity develops the theme. It is this book Stuart Chase quotes frequently in his The Tyranny of Words. A portrait of Korzybski by his wife hangs in the Art institute. It's called The Time Binder.

Names Again.

Not exactly a palindrome, but several readers come Lambeth walking by with the news that there's a Revilo Oliver. An instructor of romance languages at the University of Illinois says one. A resident of Chatsworth, Ill., says another.

* * *

Please no more odd names, but before the door is shut again, we feel it imperative to report that Mr. Drought specializes in raising cactuses, if we can believe Miss Elizabeth Miller of North Seeley avenue. Vincent Mann writes there is a man on the WPA rolls whose name is Christmas Hurts. On page 225 of the Chicago telephone directory there's one Ronnoc Connor, a palindromic name of a sort, reported by a stooge with the truly palindromic last name of Reker (spelled the same forward or backward).

The following conversation was overheard in the University of Chicago book store, if one can believe George Johnson:

"Here's an awfully amusing book about commuting. Have you ever commuted?"

"You mean like on a Sunday? Yeah, once in a while."

"No, not that. You know, commute."

"O, you mean like with nature?"

"No, you do it on a train."

Apologia.

"Neighborhood gossip," we wrote the other day, "is that the owner (of the house in La Grange built with its back door and garage toward the street) dislikes churches, so built his house with its back to the church across the street." Letters from indignant neighbors say the owner of the house is a "devoted" and "diligent" church member. Sorry, no slaps intended. Original item printed merely as a bit of curiousa.

Movie Error.

Meat Loaf in Muffin Pans Is an Innovation

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Meat loaf cooked in muffin pans requires les stime than a full size meat dish and the individual portions are more attractive than slices, for they're brown all over and shaped like little mud huts. With horseradish sauce hashed brown potatoes, vegetable, salad, and dessert they make up one of the most enjoyable of short cut winter meals.

The dessert is a simple combination of breakfast cereal and sliced apples, with sugar, cinnamon, and butter. There are several other crisp, dry cereals which work well in this sort of pudding and which may be substituted for the cornflakes if they are on the pantry shelf and cornflakes are missing.

SHORT CUT DINNER
Meat Loaf Muffins with Horseradish Sauce
Hashed Brown Potatoes
Buttered Carrots and Peas [fresh, frozen, or canned]
Parker House Rolls [Bakery]
Sliced Cucumber Salad, French Dressing
Cornflake and Sliced Apple Pudding with Cream
Coffee

Meat Loaf Muffins
[Serves four]
1 pound ground beef
¾ cup cracker crums
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 egg
1 teaspoon minced onion
½ cup milk
2 slices bacon

Combine all ingredients except bacon. Mix thoroughly and add more milk if necessary. The mixture should be moist, yet packable. Shape into pats to fit into greased muffin pans. Put half a slice of bacon over the top of each little loaf. If very small pans are used there probably will be eight instead of four muffin meat loaves. Divide the bacon strips accordingly. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 45 minutes.

Horseradish Sauce
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter
1 cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup horseradish
¼ teaspoon dry mustard

The basis for this sauce is regulation medium white sauce. Blend flour and butter in a sauce pan over low heat, add milk and seasonings, and cook, stirring constantly until the sauce is smooth and thickened. Add horseradish and mustard just before serving. Blend well.

Cornflake and Apple Pudding
[Serves four]
2 cups sliced apples
2 cups cornflakes
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
3 tablespoons butter

Alternate apples and cornflakes in layers in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with a mixture of brown sugar and cinnamon and dot with butter. Have apple layer on top. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes, or until apples are soft. Serve warm with cream.

Lake View High Play.

The senior drama class of Lake View High school, 4015 North Ashland avenue, will present "The Family Upstairs," a comedy, in the school auditorium tomorrow night and Friday night. A separate cast will appear in each of the two performances, except for three students who will act both nights. Miss Helen Kinsella, drama teacher, will direct.

'In-Between' Print Frock

WOMAN'S AND MISS' SPRING DRESS.

One of the most indispensable items in a practical wardrobe is the little "in-between" print frock that you may wear in both winter and spring, and in which you can look chic almost anywhere. The social season is definitly picking up now, with the holidays things of the past and a whole season in the future. You will need a print dress such as the one illustrated. It is styled for both slender and mature silhouettes, and is as youthful looking as it is distinctive.

One version, sketched at the left, gives the dress a pert and saucy contrasting collar that may be edged with lace or ruffling. More of the lace or ruffling serves for a vestee effect. The bodice is softly shirred at the shoulders and waistline. The sleeves are puffed. The waistline dips up into the bodice, creating a long, slender line for the skirt, which is flared below the knees and molded at the hips. Printed silks and plain colors make up beautifully, and if you want to wear the costume in the south, make the material, whether silk or cotton, a washable one.

The other version is more suitable to matrons. It has a slenderizing V neckline trimmed with ruching, ruffling, or lace. The puffed sleeves are long and slender at the wrists. Around the waist is a narrow sash, if you want one.

Style No. 3448 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20, and 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Station, NEW YORK CITY, inclosing ten cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be certain to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

De Mille Collapses; Uses Stretcher to Direct Film

Hollywood, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Cecil B. De Mille, 57 years old, who's been making movies twenty-five years, carried on today from a stretcher. He collapsed Saturday night after recurrence of a condition for which he underwent an operation in 1938. Yesterday, on a stretcher, he directed scenes for "Union Pacific" and last night went to a radio theater for another broadcast.

Marshall Field's Newest Daughter Named Fiona

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The daughter born to Mrs. Marshall Field III. just before Christmas has been named Fiona. The origin of the name was not revealed. The baby's mother, the former Ruth Pruyn Phipps, is the third wife of Mr. Field. Fiona is her second daughter.

Mahler's Work Given Premiere; It's Masterpiece

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Gustav Mahler's "Das Lied von der Erde" ["The Song of the Earth"] received in Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon its first Chicago performance. Coöperating in the presentation were Enid Szantho, contralto, Charles Kullman, tenor, and the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Frederick Stock conducted.

The text of the work consists of Chinese poems of a thousand years ago, nearly all gloomy of content and expressing a negative philosophy of life. The beauties of the world are properly recognized and even celebrated, but over everything is a feeling of sorrow that ineffectual little man, handicapped by the shortness of his span of life and by the real and manufactured troubles that dog him, comes to experience more pain than joy in the contemplation of these splendors.

Spring is indeed intoxicating, but brood over the fact that spring will be renewed indefinitly while man sinks soon into his grave! The intoxication disappears, and can only be recaptured by artificial means. Therefore drink and be merry, etc.

If all of this seems childish and old fashioned, remember that to Mahler, a tortured and disappointed man returning broken in health to his native Austria after a difficult period as conductor in New York, these poems by jaded and decadent and long dead orientals seemed to hold the quintessence of what he himself felt about life.

Anyway, he worked furiously away in that summer of 1908 and succeeded in creating an authentic masterpiece. The music's message is one of darkness and despair, but this darkness and despair are expressed so well that the resulting product becomes something superlatively fine. Mahler at the time [only three years before his death] had mastered the technical side of his art as few men have ever mastered it. He knew how to bend both voices and instruments to the expression of countless subtleties of feeling.

In the passages of rueful gayety his methods are as successful as in the more doleful sequences. The gayety is made to seem full of thoughtfulness, as though a man in the middle of a headlong reel should occupy his mind with speculations as to whether he would ever live to dance another one.

The performance had intensity and directness. Mme. Szantho's luminous voice and dignity of style gave her pronouncements great musical beauty and [really the same thing] a vast expressive power. Mr. Kullman was adequate to his part except where he had difficulty projecting his voice over the huge Mahler orchestra. His style is apt to be a little explosive at times. Mr. Stock conducted with a fine feeling for the idiom of the difficult music.

"Das Lied von der Erde," as well as the Weber "Abu Hassan" overture and Mozart's G minor Symphony [which preceded it] will be repeated tomorrow night and Friday afternoon.

Women Play Last Concert of Their Season

BY CECIL SMITH.

The Woman's Symphony orchestra played the last of its three Auditorium theater concerts last night under the direction of Izler Solomon. Winifred Christie, exponent of the double keyboard piano, was soloist in the Tschaikowski B flat minor concerto.

The purely orchestral items on the program were Sinigaglia's overture, "Le Baruffe Chiozzotte"; Bach's chorale-prelude "Wenn Wir in Höchsten Nöthen sein," transcribed for string orchestra by Gordon Campbell of Chicago; Elgar's "Enigma Variations," and Enesco's First Rumanian Rhapsody.

The players in the orchestra, the orchestra board, and the audience all owe Mr. Solomon a hearty vote of gratitude. Under his direction the Woman's Symphony orchestra this year has taken on a professional quality it seldom hinted at before. The strings in particular have discovered new warmth of tone and new purity of intonation. While the winds and brass can still stand improvement, the whole ensemble sounds flexible and, at its best, well balanced.

Both Miss Christie's playing and her unique instrument were cordially received. The double keyboard piano, invented by the soloist's husband, the late Emanuel Moor, facilitates rapid octaves and passage work, and produces a greatly increased sonority. Its tone color seemed rather hard and unyielding.

Artistic accomplishment is seldom attractive, however, when a mere mechanism elimiates its hazards. Nevertheless Miss Christie moved efficiently through the concerto with sound, if unexciting, musicianship, and was called back for a peculiarly stentorian version of Ravel's "The Fountain."

Mr. Campbell's transcription of Bach's last composition destroyed the extraordinary purity of line of the original organ piece by adding extra parts, and failed to differentiate sufficiently between the hymn tune and its accompaniment. It was an earnest, rather than a discriminating, endeavor.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Dreyer of 1460 Olive avenue have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie, to Carl Adam Groth, son of Mrs. Carl Adam Groth of Joliet. Miss Dreyer was graduated from Northwestern university. Mr. Groth is a graduate of the University of Illinois.

MOVIE CLOSEUP

The Palace theater announces a sneak preview tonight of a new picture. Patrons planning to take in this "surprise" should arrive at 8:45 and see the preview plus the regular stage and screen show. The "sneak" will be the screen feature of a complete Palace show at a later date.

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

The answers to question 35 of the recent examination proved among the most surprising of any that I received. This question was:

Both sides vulnerable. You deal and hold:
♠ A Q J 10 9 ♥ 7 ♦ A Q 10 9 5 3 ♣ 9
What call do you make?

The correct answer was that South should bid one diamond; that in choosing between a six and a five card suit, the longer should be bid first, regardless of rank. I expected a great many readers to open the bidding with one spade, but was not prepared for the following tabulation of answers:

Of 20,218 answers reaching me:

9,755 selected the correct one diamond bid.

4,433 "fell for" the major suit bid of one spade.

3,420 selected three diamonds for mysterious reasons of their own.

2,591 made the remarkable bid of three spades.

19 highly original contestants thought up about twelve other bids to meet the situation.

As stated, I was not surprised that many players would open this hand with one spade, but it was disquieting to learn that opening three-bids were being so much abused and wasted. Even as the discontinued Culbertson two-way three-bid, this hand would not be suitable. In the first place, such bids never were recommended for out-and-out two-suiters, and in the second, three diamonds would be unacceptable because the diamond suit is not within one trick of being solid. According to the new requirements of the three-bid [as published in this column several months ago] a three-bid should be largely preëmptive in nature. In major suits it should be based on a trump suit within one trick of solid, but not more than one-plus outside trick and no more than seven winners in the hand. In minor suits the same general specifications apply, but the bid suit must be absolutely solid. There is a definite need for such three-bids, and if hands like that in question 35 are put into this category, the entire purpose and meaning of an original three-bid become lost.

Bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 no trump	Double	Pass	Pass
Pass

East's action of leaving in the double is worthy of attention. Technically, the double of one no trump, like the double of any other one-bid, is for a take-out. But there is this great practical difference: The responder must be extremely cautious about leaving in the double of a suit bid, whereas he should strain and stretch to leave in the double of one no trump. At the later denomination there is little chance that the declarer will run off a long suit or that he will make several small trumps by ruffing the defenders' high cards. In this particular case the defenders collected 800 points by taking full advantage of the situation.

West opened the diamond king and, when East played low, shifted to the spade ten. Declarer won and, hoping to throw West back on lead, exited with the ace and another spade. West sidestepped by playing the queen on the ace, and this permitted East to win the third round. The diamond return let West run off the entire suit and forced declarer to make three discards, which were two clubs and one heart. East meanwhile had signaled "high-low" in clubs, so West followed orders. His club return at the tenth trick cost the defenders a trick, but this could not be avoided. A heart return would have been equally costly. Obviously, although declarer made his club king, he had to concede the heart queen.

Do your half-clean plates shout "FALSE TEETH"?

Keep plates like new with Polident . . . and avoid "Denture Breath"

Two things can tell everyone your teeth are false—just as surely as if you shouted it—STAINS AND DENTURE BREATH!

But you can prevent both. It's easy to do with Polident. For, as thousands of leading dentists will tell you, Polident changes the cleansing of false teeth from a problem to a pleasure.

This remarkable powder cleans and purifies like new—without brushing, acid or danger. Your plate or bridge will look better and feel better—your mouth fresher—and breath sweeter.

Millions Praise It

People who have false teeth too often suffer from "denture breath"—probably the most offensive of all breath odors. Yet millions have now learned that Polident prevents it—when brushing and soaking in mouth washes often won't!

Try Polident today. 3 oz. size 30¢—7 oz. size 60¢—at any drug-store. And your money back if not delighted.

HALF-CLEAN with brushing

Germs and decay bacteria breed by the million in stains, film and deposits on plates—often cause sore gums, sour-breath and even serious infection.

REALLY CLEAN with POLIDENT

Even worst old stains, film, deposits and odors vanish. Teeth become whiter, brighter—gums look more alive and natural.

POLIDENT CLEANS AND PURIFIES

WORKS LIKE MAGIC—NO BRUSHING! Keep plates sweet, clean and purified by doing this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes. Rinse—and it's ready to use.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The leading Boston Bruins reached the half way mark of the National Hocky league campaign by gaining their fourth straight victory over the Chicago Blackhawks, 3 to 1, tonight in the Boston garden. Among the crowd of 12,000 was Bald Bill Stewart, the Bostonian who recently was ousted as manager of last year's Stanley cup winners.

The Blackhawks will play two more games on their present tour before returning to the Chicago Stadium Sunday night to meet the New York Rangers. They will battle the Rangers in Madison Square Garden Thursday, and then travel to Toronto to play the Maple Leafs there on Saturday night.

Wieland, Thompson Fight.

Tonight's action, lively most of the way, was highlighted by one of little Cooney Wieland's rare fistic outbursts. The veteran center came to blows with Paul Thompson, the Hawks' co-manager, after some second period high sticking. Both drew major penalties.

The Hawks scored their second goal in their four starts against Frank Brimsek, the Bruins' sensational goalie, in the opening period, when Baldy Northcott fed Earl Robinson a long pass that was rifled into the Boston net from 30 feet out and sharply to the right. Several times thereafter Northcott got away but Brimsek refused to crack and coolly kicked out shots fired as close up as three feet.

Conacher Ties It.

Roy Conacher provided the Bruins with their clincher about five minutes after the Chicago score and a few seconds before the first period ended, Jack Crawford lashed home the deciding goal from more than 40 feet.

The Bruins' third tally, made in the final period, was a flukey one. While passing out of the left corner of the Chicago zone, Woody Dumart hit Goalie Mike Karakas' left skate and the puck was deflected into his cage.

U. C. L. A. PLAYERS PROTEST LOSS OF CAMPUS JOBS

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Edwin [Babe] Horrell, new head football coach of the University of California at Los Angeles, today poured soothing words on a campus tempest—the protest against job curtailment from a group of freshman athletes.

Horrell said fourteen athletes had lost jobs at U. C. L. A. recently, but that alumni were endeavoring to provide employment for all deserving players.

An open letter in the campus newspaper, signed by five freshmen players, charged unfair changes in the treatment of athletes. The writers said they had been promised free meals, tuition, fees, books, and $40 a month jobs, and in exchange the university expected every day: Four hours of football practice, four hours of work, four hours in classes, and four hours' study.

AMERICANS BEAT RANGERS, 1-0, IN OVERTIME BATTLE

Nels Stewart Accounts for Only Score.

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Nels Stewart's goal in the third minute of overtime tonight gave the New York Americans a 1 to 0 victory over their city rivals, the Rangers, before 13,848, in Madison Square Garden.

Tommy Anderson launched the winning play with a sharp drive which Dave Kerr blocked with his pads. Stewart knocked down the rebound with his glove and rapped the puck into the net. The Rangers protested that Nels actually had flipped it in with his hands but they were overruled.

It was the fourth game of the season between the teams and the best the Americans had been able to do previously was a 1 to 1 tie. Lineups:

WINGS, 3; CANADIENS, 0

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Larry Aurie, who announced his retirement from the National Hocky league last spring after eleven seasons of play, returned to action tonight to help the Detroit Red Wings score a 3 to 0 victory over the last place Montreal Canadiens.

Aurie, now manager of the Pittsburgh Hornets, Detroit's International-American league farm club, scored one goal in what he said would probably be his only major league appearance of the season.

A crowd of 6,400 saw the savage battle in which fists swung on several occasions. The lineups:

Browns Make It Official—They Lost Money in 1938

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 10.—(AP)—For the second straight season under the new management, the St. Louis Browns operated at a loss last year, but President Donald Barnes told stockholders today the club was in "sound financial condition" and was making every effort to attract support with a younger, faster team. Barnes said attendance last season was disappointing with the result that operating expenses greatly exceeded gate receipts.

ARMSTRONG WINS 10 ROUND BATTLE FROM ARIZMENDI

Keeps Welter Title in Bout on Coast.

Fight Decisions

At Los Angeles, Cal.—Henry Armstrong beat Baby Arizmendi [10], title.
At New York—Sammy Luftspring beat Phil Furr [8]; Larry Kellum and Eddie Guerra drew [8]; Mario Severino beat Eddie Barton [6].
At New Haven, Conn.—Nathan Mann stopped Art Laskey [3]; Elridge Eatman beat Irish Don Koons [6]; Eddie Booker stopped Sugar Suggs [3].
At Rochester, N. Y.—Eddie Pierce beat Paul Mahoney [8]; Francesco Montanari stopped Jimmy Clark [3].

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Henry Armstrong successfully defended his world's welterweight championship here tonight when he scored a ten round decision over his old rival, Baby Arizmendi.

A capacity crowd of 10,400 fans witnessed the match. Armstrong weighed 134½ and Arizmendi 136.

The champion won all the way, but he never was able to knock the challenger to the canvas. It was the fifth time that the two have met and in all fifty rounds neither man has been knocked off his feet. The victory gave Armstrong the edge in fights won three to two.

Armstrong Bores In.

Armstrong was bleeding from the mouth in the third round, but seconds worked over him during the rest period to stop the flow. Arizmendi bled from the nose and mouth from the seventh on.

In winning Armstrong employed his regular style of boring in with both gloves swinging. He backed Arizmendi against the ropes, put his head on Baby's shoulder, and hammered away for ten rounds. Arizmendi took his best punches however, and came back with hard uppercuts and looping rights.

Armstrong Is Booed.

Armstrong was booed several times for what appeared to be illegal tactics with his head and shoulders, and in the tenth was guilty of butting Arizmendi in the eye. The Mexican charged back furiously, however, and carried the round.

Both fighters were cheered at the final bell as they stood in the middle of the ring trading punches.

TURFMEN SEEK WAY TO STAMP OUT RINGER EVIL

Coral Gables, Fla., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The National Association of State Racing Commissioners looked today to national identification bureaus for horses and stable help as potential weapons against running of ringers.

Opening its tenth annual convention, the association turned promptly to this evil, one of the most persistent of turf problems. A ringer is a horse whose appearance has been altered so he may be raced under a fake name by unscrupulous turfmen seeking a betting coup.

"The past year has shown," said Edwin J. Brown of Seattle, Wash., association president, "that we must tighten the rules and procedure of identifying horses."

Commissioner John Sloan of New York suggested a national identification bureau of stable help, and later of horses.

He said New York now has a bureau equipped with photographs of licensed employés and it would not be difficult to arrange the same thing on a national scale. The horse identification bureau, he said, would include photographs and an index of markings.

CALL RELATIVES TO BEDSIDE OF YANKEE OWNER

Weakened by Long Sickness.

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Col. Jacob Ruppert, multi-millionaire brewer and owner of the world champion New York Yankees, was so near death tonight that he was given the last sacrament of the Catholic church.

The 71 year old bachelor, one of the nation's wealthiest men, was reported resting easily but still critically ill.

Albert Brennan, who has served as Ruppert's right hand man for the last 27 years without official title, said the colonel hovered between weary consciousness and a semi-coma and went to sleep just before 11 o'clock.

Relatives Are Summoned.

"I've been sick a long time, haven't I, Al?" Ruppert said to Brennan just before he went to sleep. "But, you know what? I'm going to get better."

Brennan said he could not see how Ruppert could survive many more hours of the illness that developed into complications from an attack of phlebitis [inflammation of the veins] suffered last April. He has been confined much of the time since.

A brother, George, and other members of the family were summoned to the bedside in the Ruppert town house on upper Fifth avenue.

Holdings Approach $100,000,000.

Associates generally estimated Ruppert's fortune between $70,000,000 and $100,000,000 and his real estate holdings in New York second only to those of the Astor family.

The Ruppert brewery holdings alone cost $35,000,000 and his baseball properties, including stadia in New York, Newark, and Kansas City, are valued at at least $15,000,000.

The 300 acres surrounding his country estate at Garrison, N. Y., cost around $750,000, and his yacht, Yankee, is considered one of the finest privately owned craft in New York harbor.

RUTH IN HOSPITAL

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Babe Ruth, baseball's best known figure, tonight was a patient in French hospital awaiting a cardographic examination which is to be made tomorrow morning under the direction of his personal physician, Dr. Robert H. McConnell.

Babe, whose mighty bat changed the whole character of baseball, entered the hospital today on the recommendation of Dr. McConnell for a general checkup, a routine examination he will undergo regularly in the future if he follows his physician's advice.

Dr. McConnell denied anything serious was wrong with Ruth. "It is just that Babe has reached that stage in life now where he should undergo a complete checkup at regular intervals," the physician said. "To look at him you wouldn't think there is a thing wrong with him, and indications are there isn't. If we find him sound in every respect he will be out of the hospital within a few days."

Mrs. Ruth Isn't Worried.

Mrs. Claire Ruth likewise minimized the Babe's condition.

"Babe isn't a sick man," she said. "Dr. McConnell just thought he needed a thorough examination and Babe went down to the hospital. He's feeling so good I didn't even accompany him. He's been active in baseball for so long and has been golfing so much we thought it time to get some medical advice on a set routine to guide him in whatever activities he plans for the future.

"Say, if his present plans materialize, Babe will continue his golfing and fishing and add a little broadcasting to keep himself busy. He has his heart set on broadcasting the ball games from one of the local parks this year. If this materializes it will give him all the activity he can handle."

The Usual Rumors Follow.

The knowledge that Ruth, who will be 45 next month, was a hospital patient set off a succession of rumors to the effect the home run monarch was in poor condition. One report said his heart was bad.

A vigorous reducing campaign, in which he has shed 30 pounds in the last six weeks, is said to have affected Ruth's heart. He has been playing innumerable rounds of golf and exercising constantly in a gymnasium. He weighed 239 pounds when admitted to the hospital.

Di Maggio's Learned His Lesson—He's Just Waitin'

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Joe DiMaggio, outfielder for the world champion New York Yankees, said tonight he was waiting to hear from the club about a 1939 contract. Joe, who demanded $40,000 last year but finally signed after the season opened for $25,000, said he had submitted his demands.

PALAMEDE WINS FINAL STAKE AT TROPICAL PARK

Arcaro Scores Triple on Closing Day.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Palamede, Mrs. Kirby Ramsey's racer, and his jocky, Eddie Arcaro, shared honors today as Tropical Park closed its successful twenty day meeting. Tomorrow the Florida racing scene shifts to Hialeah Park.

Palamede scored a decisive victory in the featured Havana purse at a mile and one-sixteenth, beating Mrs. C. S. Bromley's Grandever by a length and a half. First Entry, owned by G. La Flesh, was third, another length back. Palamede raced the mile and a sixteenth in 1:44 3-5 and paid $3.90.

Arcaro Scores Triple.

While Don Creole and Hi Cliff scrapped for the early lead, Arcaro rated his mount perfectly. The brown son of Ladkin moved up slowly and passed the leaders as they left the backstretch, then easily pulled away after wearing down First Entry. Grandever moved up in the last furlong to take the place.

Arcaro, whose riding has been one of the highspots of the meeting, wound up with a last day triple. He scored with Extended in the second race and Stephen Jay in the sixth.

Mutuel Handle Lower.

Although attendance at the meeting was believed to be considerably higher than that of a year ago, the mutuel handle was slightly lower. The figures for the meeting were $4,219,408 total and $210,970 daily average. Those of last year were $4,410,706 and $220,535.

INDIAN BROOM LOSES.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Millsdale stable's Sir Raleigh beat Indian Broom in a photograph finish to win the mile and one-sixteenth Palo Alto, feature event at Santa Anita that brought seven eligibles for the $100,000 handicap to the starting line. Parscout was third.

Indian Broom, held at 16 to 1, broke on top and held on until the closing strides. The time was 1:43 3-5. Gosum, Melodist, Count Arthur, and Bourbon King ran.

HARTNETT JOINS SPORTS STARS BOWLING TEAM

Gabby Hartnett, manager of the Cubs will be in the lineup of the Sports Stars team which will meet the Pabst Blue Ribbons, Classic league champions, in a special bowling match in the Congress Recreation, 31 East Congress street, Saturday night.

Hartnett was one of the six members of the Sports Stars squad which defeated the Pabst quintet a year ago by twenty-nine pins. The proceeds of this match will go to the Catholic Youth Organization blind children's fund. Funds are being raised to secure "master's eye" dogs for several blind children in the Chicago area.

Hartnett, who keeps in condition during the winter months by bowling, is fairly good at it. Gabby has a league average of 167. Other athletes who will be in the Sports Stars lineup are: Billy Webb, White Sox coach; Charley Murphy, former basketball center of Loyola university; John Rigney, White Sox pitcher; Jack Elder, former Notre Dame track and football star. Jimmy Archer, former Cub catcher, is coach.

LOYOLA OPENS SWIM SEASON AGAINST TECH

Loyola university's swimming team opens its 1939 schedule tonight against Armour Tech at Loyola. Eight veterans, including four letter men and four numeral winners from last year's squad, and three newcomers will represent Loyola. Last year's squad won seven out of ten meets.

Loyola's team will be competing for the first time under official sanction as a major sport. Capt. Marty O'Shaughnessy, Max Shapiro, Ted Angher, and Al Burke are letter men, while Ed Corboy, Ray Dougherty, Bob McKeever, and Warren Matt have their 1941 numerals. Competing for the first time are Bob Carroll, captain of Loyola academy's Catholic league runners up last year, in the free style events; Diver Bob Moorhead, and John Chong, a Hawaiian spending his first year in the United States.

RAYNOLDS WINS TOP RATING HERE IN BADMINTON

Henry Raynolds of the Ketcham club and Mrs. Glenn Markt of the Chicago club have been named No. 1 in the men's and women's singles by the ranking committee of the Midwest Badminton association, it was announced yesterday.

Raynolds is followed by Henry Sistrunk and Seymour Peskin, fellow club members. Two other Ketcham club representatives, Wilma Wildes and Neva Hatch, are ranked No. 2 and No. 3 behind Mrs. Markt in the women's singles.

Top rating in the men's doubles went to Boyd Anderson and George Bent of the Skokie Badminton club. Ruth Haas and Mrs. Markt were placed at the head of the women's doubles and Miss Wildes and Raynolds led in the mixed doubles.

Michigan Suffers First Hocky Defeat of Year, 5-3

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Michigan suffered its first hocky defeat of the season tonight, losing to the London [Ont.], Athletic club, 5 to 3. The Canadians took advantage of the only two penalties against Michigan, scoring three of their goals while the Wolverines were short handed.

GOLDEN GLOVES PHYSICAL TESTS TO OPEN JAN. 24

All Boxers Must Undergo Rigid Examination.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The first physical examination in Trafton's gymnasium, 180 West Randolph street, for Golden Gloves boxers will be held Jan. 24, the committee in charge decided yesterday. Several hundred individual entries already have been received and by next week letters will be sent to these boys with instructions for the examination.

The first Golden Gloves examination is the one for the boxers of the Catholic Youth organization, who already have been notified to report in the C. Y. O. gymnasium, 31 East Congress street, Jan. 23. All examinations will be held between 6 p. m. and 8 p. m. Only C. Y. O. boys will report for this examination, but if any of them cannot keep this appointment, which was arranged by Tom O'Connell of the C. Y. O. staf, they may report for any examination period in Trafton's gymnasium.

They Must Have Consent.

Each boxer will receive a parental consent card which must be signed by his parents or guardian and brought to the examination. No boy is permitted to compete without consent of his parents and no boy under 16 may enter the tournament. This is the regulation of the Central association of the A. A. U., under whose sanction the bouts are held.

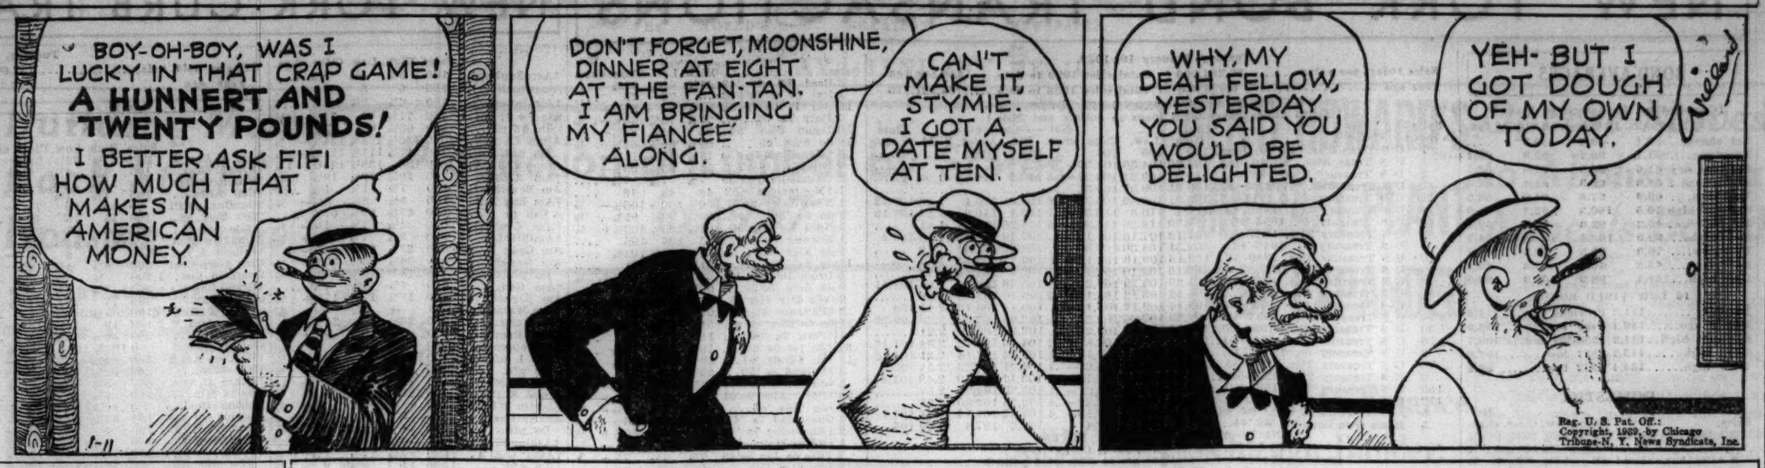
All boxers must be registered with the A. A. U. The boys competing in the open division probably already have their A. A. U. cards, which are issued for one year periods. Those who do not may secure them at the time of the physical examinations. All novice boxers also will be registered by the A. A. U. clerks. A special card is issued for the duration of the Golden Gloves tournament and this registration fee is paid by THE TRIBUNE A. A.

Chooses Own Tournament.

No more than 800 boxers will be invited to the physical examination Jan. 24. Following registration, each boxer is enrolled by the Golden Gloves clerks, examined by the physicians, and placed in the proper weight class. The boxer then chooses the sectional tournament in which he wishes to compete. The West side tournament in the Madison Athletic club opens Feb. 1. Other opening dates are: South side, White City, Feb. 7; Northwest side, Marigold Gardens, Feb. 15, and North side, Loyola university gymnasium, Feb. 20.

Each Chicago contestant, Novice or Open division, will receive a gold souvenir button. Thirty-two novices and the thirty-two boys who will enter the Tournament of Champions will be awarded gold qualifying medals.

MOON MULLINS—A LITTLE CHANGE FOR A CHANGE



BOY-OH-BOY, WAS I LUCKY IN THAT CRAP GAME! A HUNNERT AND TWENTY POUNDS! I BETTER ASK FIFI HOW MUCH THAT MAKES IN AMERICAN MONEY.
DON'T FORGET, MOONSHINE, DINNER AT EIGHT AT THE FAN-TAN. I AM BRINGING MY FIANCEE ALONG.
CAN'T MAKE IT, STYMIE. I GOT A DATE MYSELF AT TEN.
WHY, MY DEAH FELLOW, YESTERDAY YOU SAID YOU WOULD BE DELIGHTED.
YEH- BUT I GOT DOUGH OF MY OWN TODAY.

WE'RE TOO EARLY, BOSS. THERE'S NOTHING IN IT.
OKAY. I MAY HAVE GOT THE DATE MIXED. HE'LL PROBABLY BE IN TONIGHT.
HOW'S THE CHAIN—AND THE STAKE?
THEY'RE OKAY. EVERYTHING'S FINE.
WELL, I'VE SEEN SOME SCREWY THINGS IN MY DAY- BUT THIS TOPS THEM ALL! A MAN WADES INTO A FROZEN PUDDLE OF WATER, GROPES AROUND IN THE MUD A WHILE AND THEN MARCHES OUT.
THERE THEY GO! HM?? ARE WOLLEY AND HIS MEN LOOKING FOR SOMETHING? ARE THEY HIDING SOMETHING? HAVE THEY GOT SOME SCHEME UNDER WAY? BEFORE I UNDERTAKE MY NEXT STEP IN SOLVING THIS MYSTERY, I'VE GOT TO BUY A PAIR OF HIP BOOTS.

LELLO BATTLES EFRATI TONIGHT IN PARK CASINO

Pete Lello, 1936 Chicago Golden Gloves lightweight champion, expects to hand Leone Efrati of Italy his second defeat in ten American starts in a ten round bout which tops the first card of the year in Park Casino, Hamlin avenue and Madison street, tonight.

Lello is seeking his thirtieth victory in thirty-six appearances as a professional. In his last start, Davey Day, a leading contender for the 135 pound title, whipped Lello in the same arena Oct. 26. It was only his fifth setback. Previously Lello had knocked out Varias Milling and whipped Bobby McIntyre and Jimmy Buckler.

Lello suffered eye cuts in the Day match, but the wounds are thoroughly healed now, Manager Izzy Kline said.

Efrati is supremely confident of scoring an upset. Defeated only by Leo Rodak in this country, Leone can't seem to understand why Lello has been picked over him.

The foreign slugger watched the Lello-Day fight after he had conquered Johnny Balmer of Peoria in a five round supporting encounter. "If Day can beat Lello I can too," he told his manager, Emil Nanny. Other matches:

Nick Castiglione, Italo American Youth organization, vs. George Van Der Hayden, South Bend, Ind., [5], 135.

Ray Harris, South Bend, vs. Gene Ward, [4], 130.

Tony Sopko vs. Mike Tuska, [4], 132.

King Levinsky vs. Pat Murphy [wrestling].

Jim McMillen and Fritz Von Schacht will meet in a return bout heading the wrestling card in Rainbo Fronton, Clark street and Lawrence avenue, tonight. Bert Rubi meets Olaf Olson, Jack Claybourn tackles Jack Conley, Babe Kasaboski encounters Ray Clements, and Rudy Kay faces Rufus Jones. . . . An amateur boxing show also is scheduled tonight in 124th Field Artillery armory, 52d street and Cottage Grove avenue.

VERNE PATTERSON RECOVERING FROM INJURY IN RING

Verne Patterson, former Chicago Golden Gloves welterweight champion, was reported to be recovering in Columbus Memorial hospital yesterday from a brain concussion suffered in his bout with Indian Billy Lee of Milwaukee in Marigold Gardens Monday. Dr. Frank A. Lagorio, Illinois boxing commission physician, said his condition was favorable.

Referee Frank McAdams stopped the match in the sixth round after Patterson had been floored for an eight count. He collapsed in the ring.

"The boy is coming along very nicely," Dr. Lagorio said. "He complained of a slight headache, but that is to be expected. The concussion appears to be clearing up, however. As a consequence no X-ray pictures will be taken unless he takes a turn for the worse."

ARMOUR QUINTET DEFEATS GEORGE WILLIAMS, 30-26

Uptons Upset Petrones in Windy City Basketball

The Uptons upset the Petrones, 30 to 28, and the Harmons whipped the Collegians, 26 to 19, last night in Windy City basketball games in the Park Casino. The defeat left the Uptons in a tie with the Hebrews for the league lead.

BELGIAN RUNNER DUE.

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Josef Mostert, Belgian runner who holds the world record for three-quarters of a mile, will arrive tomorrow to compete in four United States indoor track meets.

BILLIARDS STARS TO COMPETE FOR $12,000 IN MEET

Ten of the country's leading billiardists, who on Jan. 16 will open the world championship three cushion meet, will shoot for $12,000 in prize money, Clyde A. Storer, secretary of the National Billiard association, said yesterday.

The association is putting up $6,000. The remainder of the awards will accrue from franchise purchases and gate receipts. The meet will be held on a round robin basis in eight cities.

New York and Chicago have two franchises each. Johnny Layton, many times three cushion champion, and Joe Chamaco will represent New York. Chicago will be represented by Allen Hall, who recently defeated Layton in a match series, and Jay Bozeman of Vallejo, Cal. Arthur Thurnblad, former world champion, will play for Kenosha.

Other contestants are Tiff Denton, Kansas City; Frank Scoville, Buffalo; Otto Rieselt, Philadelphia; Charles McCourt, Cleveland, and Clarence Jackson, Detroit.

Each player will journey twice around the circuit, playing afternoon and evening matches at each stop. The schedule includes 360 games, thirty-six in each city. The tourney will close April 14.

Bozeman took the opening block of his 600 point three cushion series from Hall at Bensinger's, 131 South Wabash avenue, yesterday afternoon, winning, 5 0to 39, in 39 innings. Hall took the evening game, 50 to 41, however.

Knox Stops Monmouth Quintet's Streak, 35-31

Monmouth, Ill., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Monmouth suffered its first midwest college conference basketball defeat in two seasons tonight, bowing to Knox, 35 to 31. Minx scored six field goals for the victors, who held a 13 to 11 margin at half time.

Iowa Forward Leads Big 10 Race with 33

Although his team has lost both of its Western conference starts, Capt. Ben Stephens, Iowa forward, is the sensation of the race. Stephens dropped in eight field goals and four free throws in Minneapolis Monday night for twenty of his team's points in its 36 to 29 defeat by Minnesota and in so doing ran his conference total to 33 points to take the lead away from Pick Dehner, Illinois mainstay.

Stephens, whose amazing shooting earned him the applause of the 7,200 Gopher partisans, is ten points ahead of Dehner, who has scored eight baskets and seven free throws for 23 points. Leading scorers:

VINES CONQUERS BUDGE; SQUARES SERIES AT 3-ALL

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Ellsworth Vines evened the score in his tennis barnstorming tour with Don Budge tonight by winning 7-5, 2-6, 6-4. Each has won three matches.

Vines got off to a bad start, losing the first two games, but opened up with a vicious service and took two love. His base line shots had Budge running from one side of the court to the other.

Budge came back in the second match with greater force on his service and won handily. Vines was pushed to the backstop by Budge's terrific volley, clipping the side lines.

In the last set Vines kept his shots close to the net and nearly a score of times the ball hit the next band and dropped over.

3 Chicago Aces in Skate Meet at Minneapolis

Postpone Meet

THE Northwest Skating club's city ice skating championships, scheduled to be held in the Garfield park lagoon today, have been indefinitly postponed because of soft ice, Herbert Knudten, director of events for the club, said last night.

Vic Ronchetti, Leo Freisinger, and Bob Heckenbach, class A senior men skaters of the Illinois Skating association, will compete in the annual 10,000 Lakes speed skating championships Saturday and Sunday in Powderhorn park, Minneapolis, Minn.

Frank M. Kalteux, chairman of the racing board of the Illinois Skating association, yesterday said these three skaters were selected to make the trip on the basis of their point standings for the 1938-'39 outdoor skating season in meets sanctioned by the Illinois Skating association.

Ronchetti, who represents the C. Y. O. Skating club, won the Chicago Tribune Silver Skates Derby for senior men in 1937. Heckenbach was the winner of the 1938 Chicago Tribune Silver Skates Derby for senior men. Freisinger, a teammate of Ronchetti's, will make the trip only in the event the 1939 Silver Skates Derbies scheduled Saturday and Sunday in Garfield park, are postponed.

Ronchetti is the defending champion in the senior men's division of the 10,000 Lakes meet. The stocky C. Y. O. skater scored 130 points in winning the meet last season, one of the highest totals amassed by a senior men's skater in the seven year history of the meet.

Kalteux also announced that Mrs. Eleanor Thiel-Dyer, C. Y. O. Skating club; Elaine Bogda, Northwest Skating club, and Helen Swierkos, Tilden Skating club, three previous winners of senior women's Tribune Silver Skates Derbies, will leave Friday for St. Louis to skate in the 1939 St. Louis Silver Skates Derbies. Mrs. Thiel-Dyer won her skates in 1934; Miss Bogda in 1937, and Miss Swierkos in 1938.

It's a Draw.

The girl who wears her hose askew
Is certainly not neat.
But how about the men and boys
Whom everywhere you meet?

Their hose hang down atop their shoes
In wrinkles, folds and creases,
Displaying hairy, bumpy shins,
A sight which never pleases.

I can sympathize with any girl
Whose stockings twist or sag,
But not with the man who, garterless,
Allows his socks to drag.

KRAUSE TO LEAD ST. MARY QUINTET INTO COLISEUM

Ed Krause, former All-American tackle at Notre Dame and newly appointed line coach at Holy Cross, will send his St. Mary's college basketball team of Winona, Minn., into action in the Coliseum Friday night. Krause's five, paired on a double-header featuring the La Salle Hotel Cavaliers, will oppose Macomb Teachers.

The La Salle hotel five will meet the Freuhauf Trailers of Tulsa, Okla., formerly the D-X Oilers, in a Missouri Valley A. A. U. league game.

Ray Meyer, former Notre Dame star, and Cy Singer from Indiana university are leading members of the Cavaliers.

Marquette and Long Island to Meet Tonight

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Invincible Long Island university, winner by one sided scores in its first nine games including victories over Southern California and Kentucky, will oppose Marquette in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. St. John's and St. Joseph's will meet in the other half of the double-header program.

Marquette invades the Garden with the best defensive record of any foe yet to face Long Island. It has won its last six games and numbers Wisconsin, Chicago, Santa Clara, and Butler among its victims. Probable lineup:

LIEUT. FERGUS' TEAM PROBLEM TO POLO RIVALS

The 124th field artillery polo team will use Lieut. Don J. Rice, Capt. Romeo E. Mura, and Lieut. William D. Fergus Saturday night against Fort Sheridan in the Metropolitan league high goal game in the artillery armory.

The nearest approach to the 124th trio, so far as records are concerned, was the famous Fort Sheridan team of Capt. C. A. Wilkinson, Capt. C. E. Davis, and Maj. C. C. Smith, that represented the west against the east in 1933 in both the senior and open divisions.

A product of Pennsylvania Military college and later a member of the national championship Cleveland Riding club team, Lieut. Fergus took over the captaincy of the 124th team at the start of the 1937-'38 indoor season. Last season this squad won four victories to take the Metropolitan league title; a victory over Yale university in the armory arena, and two in a row for the national title over the Ridgewood Polo club of New Jersey.

The Rice-Mura-Fergus lineup this season has won its first and only game in the league, over the Chicago Ramblers. They also won the title in the round robin tournament of the International Live Stock exposition horse show. Last summer they swept their international series with the Cuban army team at the Oak Brook Polo club.

CORN RESERVES AMONG LARGEST IN RECENT YEARS

Wheat Supply on Farms Also Is Higher.

Farm reserves of corn, as grain, on Jan. 1 were 1,797,281,000 bushels, the department of agriculture estimated yesterday. Stocks are 124,000,000 bushels in excess of a year ago and the largest in thirteen years with one exception.

About 794,000,000 bushels of corn were consumed or exported during the last three months. During the same period in 1937 the disappearance was 713,000,000 bushels.

Farmers had 281,190,000 bushels of wheat on hand on Jan. 1, compared with 208,510,000 bushels a year ago. Current supplies are 65,000,000 bushels in excess of the 1928-'37 average. Oats stocks aggregate 685,534,000 bushels, compared with 698,431,000 bushels a year ago and a ten year average of 626,000,000 bushels.

Supplies May Set Record.

Surplus supplies of feed grains on farms may set a new record next July unless there is a substantial increase in feeding operations or sales, the federal crop reporting board said.

The board reported that farm supplies of corn, wheat, oats, barley, and grain sorghums on Jan. 1 were substantially heavier than in any of the last thirteen years, with the exception of 1933.

The board said that unless the rate of feeding or sales increased considerably more than average, the surplus next July would exceed even that of 1933, when such stocks reached a record level.

U. S. GIVES UP LEADERSHIP.

LONDON, Jan. 10. — (AP) — Withdrawal of the United States from chairmanship of the international wheat advisory board was announced today by Ray Atherton, United States minister to Bulgaria, who has presided at current meetings of the twenty-two nation body. Atherton emphasized, however, that the United States would maintain membership in the organization.

During a discussion of the world wheat situation, American representatives reported the Roosevelt administration expected this year to cut United States wheat acreage from 81,000,000 acres to 65,000,000. But it was said the acreage would be even as low as 55,000,000 if every wheat farmer complied with the government plans.

ILLINOIS farmers are being offered additional indemnity money to encourage the testing of dairy and beef herds to eliminate animals infected with Bang's disease.

Approximately $100,000 of state money used in disease control work has just been made available for matching federal indemnity money paid to farmers on Bang's diseased cattle. This is the first money ever made available by the state of Illinois for the eradication of Bang's disease, the malady that causes abortion in cattle and undulant fever in human beings.

Farmers who submit their herds to the Bang's disease test will be paid twice as much indemnity as they have received for infected animals during the last few months. Under the new indemnity payment plan now in operation in Illinois farmers will be paid by the federal and state governments.

Match Federal Funds.

Since July 1, 1938, the federal government has made indemnity payments representing one-third of the difference between the appraised value of the condemned Bang's diseased animal and the salvage. This payment does not exceed $25 on grade animals and $50 on purebred animals. No indemnity payments are made on condemned grade bulls.

On Jan. 2 the state started matching the federal government indemnity payments. The state funds available for this work are expected to last until the end of the fiscal year on July 1.

Federal officials had announced that all Bang's disease eradication work would be stopped on May 1 unless the states matched the federal indemnity payments.

Farmers in Illinois are assured of receiving payments from both the state and federal governments until July 1. It will be necessary for the state legislature to appropriate more indemnity money if Bang's disease testing is to continue in Illinois after July 1.

10,000 Herds Tested.

State indemnity payments started recently are not retroactive. Illinois farmers whose cattle were tested before Jan. 2 will be able to collect only federal indemnity on animals found infected with Bang's disease.

Nearly 10,000 herds of cattle have been tested in this state since federal government veterinarians started their Bang's disease eradication program in 1934. These herds originally contained 176,601 cattle. Tests made up to the end of the year revealed that 42,281 were diseased. They were destroyed. The herds still are under supervision and are being retested from time to time.

GERMAN PEOPLE PAY HEAVILY FOR TRADE JUGGLING

Trickery Abroad Is Nazi Boomerang.

[This is the concluding article of a series of three on Nazi foreign trade practices.]

The German people have paid a high price for the Nazi trading tricks which have lured Latin American and Balkan states into swapping more and more goods with Germans. To finance bartering devices abroad, the Nazis have had to fall back on other devices at home,—at the expense of German citizens and German business. The Nazis have weakened their economy by using reserve assets.

The German drive for new markets, moreover, has brought the loss of old ones. The Nazis have antagonized both sellers and buyers abroad by the underselling and price discrimination made possible by Nazi government subsidies.

Costly subsidies have been necessary to carry out the German system of paying exporters in foreign countries high prices for needed raw materials and, in turn, accepting low prices for German manufactured goods sold abroad.

Subsidies Run High.

On the actual "goods for goods" basis now in use the system means that Germans must ship out relatively large amounts of guns and machines for the relatively small quantities of the grains, meats, and metals that they import. It is estimated that the German government is now paying about $400,000,000 a year in subsidies to its exporters to make up the difference between prices paid by buyers abroad and the prices German exporters must receive to stay in business. On top of this, the Nazis in 1938 brought into the country some $150,000,000 more goods than they shipped out.

Paying these bills at a time when as many men and plants as possible are being pressed into "unproductive" armament output has called for additional Nazi ingenuity. It has also reached more deeply into Nazi resources.

Print More Paper Money.

Paying subsidies to exporters is not so difficult. The German government simply prints more paper reichsmarks and dishes them out. These circulate only in Germany and are good as long as the Nazi economy can keep its rigid control over production, prices, and currency.

But making more printing press money is nevertheless a strain on finances. The Nazi régime itself is virtually the only backing for German marks, because Germany's officially admitted gold reserve for its currency is less than 1 per cent of the amount of money in circulation. The total of paper money in circulation, moreover, increased 50 per cent during 1938, thus still further reducing the amount of gold behind each mark.

How to pay for Germany's import surplus is not such a simple matter. Paper reichsmarks backed 1 per cent by gold and 99 per cent by Nazi promises are not acceptable abroad.

Seize Foreign Credits.

One of the Nazis' first steps was to expropriate the foreign exchange credits held by Germans. These credits were used by the government to buy goods abroad. The Germans who had held them were paid off in paper marks.

But the credits did not last long, and Nazi authorities recently have had to dig more deeply into their citizens' private wealth. Many Germans have securities, real estate, and other assets in foreign countries. By ordering them to sell these holdings the Nazi government is able to get its hands on coveted American dollars, British pounds sterling, and other free currencies.

The Germans who thus "sell" to the Nazi government are paid in paper marks. The government uses the free money to pay for its import surplus or to buy new goods in any market. Where Jewish holders are forced to sell, the Nazis often repay them only in part. This amounts to direct confiscation.

When Hitler annexed Austria he bolstered tottering Nazi finances by seizing $46,000,000 of gold in Austria and more than $100,000,000 of foreign exchange credits held by Austrians.

Foreign Owned Plants Pay.

Another prop which helps the Nazis keep going is their virtual confiscation of profits made by subsidiaries of foreign corporations operating in Germany. General Motors corporation's wholly owned German company at Ruesselsheim, for example, has made profits of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year in the five years under Hitler, but not a cent has come back to the United States. Profits made from selling cars in Germany are kept in Germany because they are in the form of marks, which cannot be exported.

Profits in British pounds or other free money made from selling German made General Motors cars in Building Men Back Stelle's Housing View

BY AL CHASE.

Lieut. Gov. John Stelle's comments on housing in his message Monday to the Illinois legislature received approval yesterday from leading Chicago builders and real estate men. Stelle told the legislature it should consider not only the federal housing grants but also plans designed to encourage the investment of private capital in housing.

Oscar Rosenthal urges action to aid building.

"It is probable," he said, "that several measures will be presented to you designed to encourage private capital and to stimulate private initiative to engage in this field of housing our citizens and correcting faulty physical conditions in our communities. We suggest that both aspects of this subject receive your consideration."

Backed by Rosenthal.

Oscar Rosenthal, widely known builder and chairman of the Illinois state housing board, said Stelle's attitude was "absolutely all right."

"Consideration must be given by the legislature toward inducing private interests to participate in the building field," he said. "It also must give particular attention to our citizens and to the correction of slum conditions. The legislature can do much in that direction that will endure. It also must give consideration to federal projects."

Officials of the new Chicago Building Congress, Inc., which is planning to sponsor legislation needed for the formation of "public service building corporations" and thus encourage the entry of private capital into slum reclamation projects, approved Stelle's comments on housing.

Warterfield Urges Action.

J. Soule Warterfield, former president of the Chicago Real Estate board, said: "My experience as chief valuation consultant to the Cook county assessor, in charge of the current quadrennial assessment in Cook county, gives me additional reasons to believe that something must be done immediately with the slum disease which is eating the core of our city if we are to make any progress as a municipality.

"Taxes are higher because there are fewer properties able to pay any taxes. Slum eradication through private enterprise is the only solution to the problem. Old and unhygienic neighborhoods must give way to new and thriving communities within our city.

Calls Message Encouraging.

"The message of Lieut. Gov. Stelle regarding housing is indeed encouraging in that it points the way to a rational study by the legislature of both private and government housing."

Paul Angell, secretary of the Chicago Building Congress, Inc., also praised the Stelle comment.

"The public service building corporation, proposed as a vehicle of slum eradication and city rebuilding, is bound to be recognized as the soundest method of approach to the solution of a problem of such magnitude and importance," he said.

"The message of the acting governor indicates a progressive trend shown by the state executive department in its treatment of the subject of housing and should therefore merit the support of the legislature and the people of the state."

Stresses Tax Situation.

Elmer Jensen, president of the Chicago Building congress and also head of the Illinois Society of Architects, made this comment:

"There undoubtedly are many other important tasks facing the building industry. However, I can think of nothing which is of more importance to the public than slum clearance and the resultant condition created by the tax load which must be borne by the taxpayers in support of the depreciated areas.

"I am pleased to note that the executive department of our state has seen fit to recognize the necessity of finding a method by which private enterprise may be employed in accomplishing this worthy end."

Plan Suggested by Chicagoans.

The proposed "public service building corporation" was suggested by a group of Chicagoans as a modern approach to the slum problem and as a way to attract private capital into housing projects. It would require legislation which would permit such corporations to operate in designated slum areas with private captial.

Sites would be obtained through condemnation after a given percentage of the necessary land had been acquired through options.

ROCK ISLAND ROAD'S 1939 IMPROVEMENT BUDGET 32 MILLION

Extensive improvement programs for 1939 were announced yesterday by the Rock Island and Union Pacific railroads.

E. M. Durham Jr., chief executive officer of the Rock Island, said the 1939 budget provides $32,412,000 for improvements and maintenance, exclusive of new equipment. These expenditures will be in addition to a $1,500,000 carryover from the 1938 budget.

Principal items include the relaying of 417 miles of track with 69,000 tons of rail and the applying of 626,000 cubic yards of ballast over 543 miles of track. Improvements to bridges consist chiefly of relaying treated pile trestles with permanent steel structures or with reinforced concrete culverts.

W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific, said the road will soon purchase more than 100,000 tons of steel rails and fittings for about $5,000,000. The orders will include more than 74,000 tons of rails for 360 track miles of rails and 30,000 tons of fittings.

DECEMBER STEEL SHIPMENTS BEST FOR 14 MONTHS

December shipments of finished steel products by the United States Steel corporation and subsidiaries were the highest for any month since October, 1937, it was reported yesterday.

Shipments last month totaled 694,204 tons, an increase of 14,551 tons over the volume for November and 205,134 tons over that for December, 1937. In October, 1937, a total of 792,310 tons was shipped. The 1938 low point was 441,570 tons last July. In December, 1936, the volume shipped was 1,067,365 tons.

For the year ended Dec. 31, shipments of finished steel, before year-end adjustments, totaled 6,625,368 tons, compared with 12,748,354 tons after year-end adjustments in 1937. This represented a decrease of 6,122,986 tons.

ACTION ORDERED BY KANSAS CITY IN MARKET FIGHT

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—A resolution was adopted tonight by the city council authorizing the city to intervene in a federal court suit which seeks to prevent the Union Pacific railroad from constructing tracks to the proposed Kansas City, Kas., market.

The suit was filed Dec. 30 by forty-one north side property owners and wholesale produce dealers, who asked that the railroad be enjoined from constructing the tracks until it had obtained a certificate of necessity from the interstate commerce commission. They requested the city to intervene.

Kansas City, Mo., maintains that with its market a going concern, the building of a second such market two and one-half miles away would be a wasteful duplication.

Lake Shore Athletic Club Plan Confirmed by Court

Federal Judge Charles E. Woodward today officially confirmed the plan for reorganization of the Lake Shore Athletic club, 850 Lake Shore drive. Attorneys informed the judge that two-thirds of all classes of the club's creditors had accepted the plan.

Court Vacates Keeshin Truck Route Permit

A decision which held that the railroads have a prior claim to the hauling of freight and which in effect held that motor trucks should be removed as highway competitors of the railroads was entered yesterday in the Circuit court at Rockford, Ill.

Judge Fisher.

Circuit Judge Arthur E. Fisher entered an order vacating an Illinois commerce commission order permitting the Keeshin Motor Express company, now called Keeshin Freight Lines, Inc., to operate a transport line linking Chicago and Rockford with some forty northern Illinois towns.

Judge Fisher supported the claims of the Illinois Central, North Western, the Milwaukee, and the Railway Express Agency that the certificate of convenience and necessity given the Keeshin truck company should be vacated.

Appeal Is Planned.

John L. Keeshin, president of the truck company, declared that the case, which is said to threaten all truck operations on the highways in Illinois, will be taken to the higher courts.

Judge Fisher said that "uncurbed motor truck operations" are working a hardship on the railroads," are a detriment to the public because of trafic problems, and are a contributory cause to the railroads' loss of freight business.

Keeshin said his company has operated for more than two years under a certificate of convenience issued by the Illinois commerce commission.

"It is only within the last three months that the present action was brought to a hearing," he said.

Board's Powers Involved.

"The case undoubtedly will be taken to the higher courts, because it involves the constitutional power of the Illinois commerce commission to grant certificates of necessity to motor carriers in intrastate commerce over the highways. I do not believe that the citizens of this state desire to perpetuate the railroad transportation monopoly."

Combating another action directed against truck operation in the state, Attorney Harold E. Marks, counsel for the Illinois Motor Truck Operators' association, said he will file an intervening petition with the Illinois commerce commission this morning against a petition filed by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. The brotherhood asked the commission to order all trucks off the Illinois highways from noon on Saturdays to 6 a. m. Monday mornings.

"There are about 250,000 persons employed directly in the truck industry in Illinois who would be adversely affected by such an order," Marks said.

Appeals Court Hears Attack on Oil Verdict

Arguments were heard yesterday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals on a government motion to overrule an order by Federal Judge Patrick T. Stone dismissing charges against eleven defendants in the Madison oil case. The court took the case under advisement.

WESTERN UNION HAS LOSS FOR LAST YEAR; HAD PROFIT IN 1937

R. B. White, president of the Western Union Telegraph company, reported yesterday that preliminary figures on 1938 operations of the company indicate a loss of $1,700,000. Operating revenues last year were about $92,000,000. The company had operating revenues of $100,482,884 and net income of $3,325,769, or $3.18 a share, in 1937.

White said the present rate of business, if maintained, should produce a profit this year "provided taxes are not increased and there is no further legislative action increasing expenses."

F. W. Woolworth, Ltd., reported in London a record net profit for 1938 of £4,929,396, compared with 1937 net profit of £4,792,947. The regular dividend for the year was unchanged at 50 per cent, but the extra was increased to 15 per cent compared with 10 per cent last year.

Net incomes of companies which reported yesterday follow:

The New York Central reported yesterday that its November net income was $104,581, equal to 2 cents a share. In November, 1937, the road had a $501,065 loss. Net income is income after provision for bond interest and other fixed charges.

HEARING DELAYED ON GRAIN CHARGE AGAINST CARGILL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The Commodity Exchange administration today postponed hearing on charges that Cargill, Inc., large Minneapolis grain company, manipulated prices in corn futures in 1937. The charges were made by Secretary Wallace.

The hearing was scheduled to open today. Officials said it probably would not begin until after completion of a hearing now in progress on similar charges made by the grain company against the Chicago Board of Trade.

Utilities Power Payment to Atlas Corp. Is Ordered

Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday entered a formal order for the payment of $1,249,628 to the Atlas corporation by the Utilities Power and Light corporation. This amount represented the commission due Floyd B. Odlum, head of Atlas, for his services in selling English properties of Utilities Power in 1936. A month ago the court made an oral ruling to this effect to Charles True Adams, trustee of Utilities Power, which is undergoing reorganization.

BEN O. HOWARD'S AIRCRAFT PLANT TO BE EXPANDED

Arrange to Finance Chicago Builder.

Chicago's only airplane manufacturing company, the Howard Aircraft corporation, yesterday announced that a New York banking firm has underwritten a million dollar issue of its common stock, and that the company will expand its factory immediately.

The announcement means that the Howard corporation will step from the building of small single engine planes to production of machines as large as those now used by the commercial air lines.

For the last two years the company, which was founded by Ben O. Howard, chief engineering pilot for United Air Lines, has struggled along at 5301 West 65th street. During that time Howard and his engineers perfected a four place cabin monoplane that has been widely sold to private owners and to the Civil Aeronautics authority for use of the air line inspection service.

Two New Types Planned.

Howard also completed plans for two new types of planes that are to be built now that funds are available. One of these is a 20,000 pound freighter of unique design. The other is a small plane intended for instruction of civilian flyers for national defense needs.

Ben O. Howard, the designing engineer for the corporation, has been an air line pilot for eleven years. He built his first plane in 1930—a tiny clipped wing racer with a 110 horse power motor. He flew the ship in the 1930 national air races in Chicago and won more prize money than any other pilot.

With these funds he built two more racing ships that became famous under the names Mike and Ike. With 160 horse power Menasco engines, they won races for four years.

Builds the Mister Mulligan.

These three Howard planes led the way toward high speeds with low power motors. And as the leaders in the field they won many times their cost in race prizes. Again, with his winnings, Howard built his most famous racing plane—Mister Mulligan—in 1934.

With a 600 horse power Wasp motor, this four place cabin ship cruised at 260 miles an hour and had a top speed of approximately 300 miles an hour. In 1935 the plane won both the Bendix transcontinental and Thompson trophy races at the national air race meeting.

No other plane before or since has duplicated this feat. The following year, when the plane was leading the Bendix race by a wide margin, the propeller lost a blade and the machine crashed in Arizona, critically injuring Howard and his wife, Maxine.

New Design Based on DGAs.

The Howard DGA series plane—there are three ships differing only in the motors that can be supplied—were developed from the Mr. Mulligan. The new Howard designs were developed and expanded from the DGAs.

A distincitve characteristic of the Howard planes is the fact that they are manufactured entirely of wood. Even the projected 20,000 pound freighter is to be built of wood.

The unusual feature of the ship will be its hinged tail. The hull will be constructed in two sections. These will be joined just behind the wing on hinges. When the plane is to be loaded the whole tail section will be swung to one side. It then will be possible to back a truck up to the two sections and load even bulky articles with ease.

Will Seek New Location.

Temporarily the company will remain at its present quarters, but later it will seek a new location in Chicago. The company is anxious to find a site on an improved airport, but it does not intend to put its capital into buildings, preferring to rent such structures.

The officers of the corporation also announced yesterday that B. D. DeWeese has been appointed executive vice president and general manager. DeWeese until recently was head of the Stinson Aircraft corporation, a division of the Aviation Manufacturing corporation, the country's largest builder of small personal transport planes.

A special committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce is working with corporation officers to arrange for plant facilities.

Oppose Moves to Abolish Tax Appeals Board

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—There have been recurring rumors that the United States board of tax appeals may be abolished, but it appeared today that the board is in no danger.

A testing of sentiment shows that the taxpayers throughout the country are much in favor of the board. Also, the treasury department, which might have been expected to be a natural leader of opposition to the board, declares that it wants it retained.

The treasury may have reaped more in tax penalties in the days before the board was established in 1924, as a committee on appeals and review—part of the bureau of internal revenue. It then ruled on tax complaints and was subject to favoring the treasury. But the conduct of the board in its semi-judicial capacity has generally been regarded as above reproach.

Field Offices Established.

The renewed reports of possible abolition of the board grow out of the current establishment of field offices of the bureau of internal revenue. This is part of a decentralization process, aimed at facilitating the settlement of income and estate tax cases by making internal revenue officials more accessible to the taxpayers.

Those in favor of removing the board of appeals feel that an increasing number of settlements between the taxpayer and the internal revenue bureau may remove the board's usefulness.

However, treasury officials said today that this is not so. They reported that results on the Pacific coast, where branch offices have been in operation longest—have shown a tendency toward reducing the number of cases that go to the board of appeals. But, they said, the effect of this was to remove the minor cases, and probably increase the board's importance. "We hope only key cases will get to it," they added.

In Operation in Chicago.

At present there are fourteen field offices and the ultimate goal is forty in ten zones throughout the country. In the middle west, offices are already in operation in Chicago, Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Detroit, and St. Louis.

The board of tax appeals now conducts 95 per cent of its cases away from Washington. There is an average of about 5,000 proceedings filed with the board for review every year. But an average of not more than one-third of the cases petitioned is ever tried by the board. This means that settlements are made between the bureau of internal revenue and the taxpayer before the case comes up for hearing.

The board's work has had a favorable reception. In the years from 1926 to 1937, inclusive, only 17 per cent of the board's cases subject to appeal were appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals or to the United States Supreme court.

Of the boards' decisions appealed, about two-thirds were upheld and only one-third modified or reversed. In other words, about 95 per cent of the decisions of the board remain in force. The opinions of the board are written and may be appealed either by the government or the taxpayer.

Furniture Market Buyers Registration Sets Record

A total of 3,556 buyers registered at the Merchandise Mart during the first two days of the wholesale furniture and home furnishings market, which is being held there and at the American Furniture Mart, officials said yesterday. The registrations represented an all time high mark. The two week exposition opened Monday.

FIFTY CHICAGO BANKS' ANNUAL MEETINGS HELD

American National Elects Stern.

Stockholders of fifty banks in Chicago and Cook county held their annual meetings yesterday and elected directors for 1939. Subsequently the new directors of a majority of the banks met to choose officers for the new year.

Lawrence Stern elected bank executive.

Important changes in bank personnel were few, although a number of minor shifts were made. In many instances all incumbent directors and officers were reëlected.

Two banks—the American National Bank and Trust company of Chicago and the Drovers National bank—announced action on dividends.

Shareholders of American National elected Lawrence F. Stern, Chicago investment banker, to the board of directors. At the directors' meeting which followed, Stern was elected chairman of the bank's executive committee. Active in investment banking here for twenty years, Stern headed his own firm, Lawrence Stern & Co. He said he plans to devote much of his time to his new duties.

Promotions Are Voted.

Directors also promoted Benjamin G. Kilpatrick, assistant secretary, and Louis W. Fischer, assistant secretary and assistant trust officer, to positions as assistant vice presidents in the trust department. All directors and officers were reëlected.

Dividends totaling $3 were declared for the final six months of 1938. The dividend rate on the bank's stock was raised to $6 per share annually, from $4. Stockholders of record Jan. 14 will receive $1.50 Jan. 16, and those of record April 14 will be paid a similar amount April 15.

All directors of the First National Bank of Chicago were reëlected by stockholders at their annual meeting. The shareholders' meeting, as usual, was presided over by Edwy Logan Reeves, an attorney and the oldest stockholder of the bank. Reeves, although neither a director

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 10.—The stock market closed irregularly higher today, putting a halt to four successive sessions of declining prices. Changes were mostly fractional and traders showed little interest.

Growing uncertainty as to the fate of desired congressional legislation made for considerable caution among traders. Wall street's desire to wait for President Roosevelt's armament message also made for studied commitments.

Stocks opened firm and continued to improve until top gains in the leaders reached two points. They dipped from their highs in the late trading.

A feature of the day was the revival of interest in aircraft issues, reputedly on hopes that the President's message would be favorable. Douglas touched 72¼ at one time, but closed at 71½ for a gain of 1⅞ points. Sperry, United Aircraft, and Glenn Martin gained substantial fractions. Boeing, North American Aviation, and Consolidated Aircraft netted minor amounts.

Steels, motors, rubbers and copper shares ruled fractionally higher. United States Steel, United States Rubber, General Motors, Anaconda and Bethlehem were pace makers.

The rail group was featured by a jump of 2¼ points in Union Pacific on a few sales. Other rails pursued a narrow, mixed course. Public utility issues behaved in similar fashion.

New York Bonds.

New York, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The bond market moved forward today. Despite some last hour selling, numerous gains of fractions to a point or more were distributed through the list at the finish.

Strongly supported were the low priced rails. Peak prices lately established among United States government loans brought in fairly heavy offerings and closing quotations mostly showed losses ranging up to 4-32ds of a point. Some Italian and Japanese issues eased. German issues tended higher.

Chicago Stocks.

Chicago stocks advanced slightly yesterday. Trading was light, only 28,000 shares changing hands. The Tribune average of 20 stocks closed at 11.49, compared with 11.43 Monday.

Volume leaders were mostly higher. Marshall Field climbed ¾ point to 13¾. Quaker Oats gained a like fraction to reach a new high of 153. Gains of ⅛ point were recorded by Commonwealth Edison, Butler Bros., Bendix Aviation, and Central & Southwest Utilities. Chicago corporation preferred and Central Illinois Securities declined.

Bank Stocks.

Most Chicago bank stocks were stationary yesterday in slack trading, dealers reported. Shares of the First National bank declined $1. Other stocks were unchanged.

NLRB ORDERS SWIFT CO. TO PUT STRIKERS ON JOBS

C. I. O. Union Is Named Bargaining Union.

Sioux City, Ia., Jan. 10.—[Special.]—The national labor relations board today ordered the Swift & Co. packing plant here to rehire 154 employés who were discharged after they engaged in a C. I. O. sitdown strike and permitted more than $10,000 worth of meat to spoil.

The company had held that the question at issue was whether an employer must continue to employ workers who wilfully and deliberately destroyed property they were paid to preserve, and whether the employés were to be excused of responsibility for such misconduct and for an orgy of strike destruction that followed.

500 Workers Walk Out.

The strike, called over a minor dispute that involved neither wages nor hours, has been in progress since Sept. 29. About 500 men took part in the walkout.

The labor dispute was accompanied by violence that reached such proportions that National Guard troops were called out to preserve order, and 65 strikers and sympathizers were indicted for criminal actions. On numerous occasions the strikers disregarded a court injunction, at one time nearly 1,000 of them and their sympathizers rioted near the plant.

In the labor board ruling returned in Minneapolis today, the company was ordered to recognize and negotiate with the C. I. O. affiliated United Packing House Workers union, whose leaders allegedly were responsible for the reign of violence that prevailed throughout the strike.

Supports C. I. O. Union.

The C. I. O. union was named by the NLRB as the exclusive representative of the company's production and maintenance employés for bargaining in respect to rates of pay, wages, hours of employment, and other working conditions.

Trial Examiner W. P. Webb, who held hearings at the Woodbury county court house here from Oct. 17 to Nov. 10, held that the dismissal of 154 employés on Sept. 29 was of no effect because a strike already had begun, and therefore those men still are employés.

The examiner's report said the company should offer, upon their application, their former jobs to all such employés who went on strike and were discharged, dismissing if necessary all persons hired since Dec. 29, to perform the work of the dismissed employés.

U. S. Currency Circulation $6,851,199,897; Set Record

Washington, D. C., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The treasury announced today that a record total of $6,851,199,897 of coin and currency was in circulation in the United States at the beginning of 1939. This was equal to $52.42 for every man, woman and child in the country. The per capita figure was not a record because it was figured on a slightly larger population than some of the other peak circulation totals.

Investors' Guide

Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1939.

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Dividend Accumulations.

Investors' Guide: I am interested in speculating in some preferred stocks with dividend accumulations. Can you tell me what the arrears are on the preferred of American Locomotive, American Woolen, Curtis Publishing, Republic Steel convertible, and Warner Brothers? I am told that these have substantial arrearages. If that is correct I think an investor stands a chance of making a good gain if these companies ever pay up.—L. N.

Answer: Dividend accumulations on Dec. 19, 1938, were as follows: American Locomotive, $32; American Woolen, $71; Curtis Publishing, $12.25; Republic Steel convertible, $18, and Warner Brothers, $25.99.

Auburn Products.

Investors' Guide: What products is Auburn making now? They used to make pleasure automobiles, but I understand they have quit this line and are making something else now.—U. D.

Answer: Auburn Automobile company abandoned automobile manufacturing in 1937. It is now engaged chiefly in production of sheet metal articles, such as washing machine cabinets, kitchen cabinet equipment, pressed steel sinks, heaters, and a variety of metal stampings. The company recently announced it would make refrigerated store display cases for a Chicago concern. Auburn also said it planned, through Pak-Age Car corporation, a subsidiary, to produce package cars for use in deliveries.

Earnings and Dividends.

Investors' Guide: Taking the rubber and tire industry as a whole, the more I follow the market prices of stocks of the leading companies in this field the more I become confused. Why does Goodyear stock sell at 38, Firestone and Goodrich at 24, U. S. Rubber at 51, and Lee at 30? Last year Goodyear, Goodrich, and U. S. Rubber paid no dividend. As a matter of fact, U. S. Rubber paid nothing for many years on either the common or preferred. On the other hand, in 1938 Lee declared a dividend of $2.50 and Firestone $1.25. It seems to me there is no sensible relationship between the earning capacity of stocks and the valuations put on them.—M. G. L.

Answer: Stock quotations are usually based, first of all, on earnings or prospective earnings. Other factors, including dividends, enter into the market price also. While we do not attempt to say why a certain stock is selling at a specific price, it appears you are placing too much emphasis on dividends.

FIFTY CHICAGO BANKS ANNUAL MEETINGS HELD

American National Elects Lawrence Stern.

nor officer, has headed the stockholders' meetings for more than twenty-five years.

Approve Officers' Actions.

Stockholders of First National unanimously adopted a resolution approving the actions of directors and officers in 1938. Proxies for 224,307 of the bank's 300,000 shares were cast. Persons attending the meeting cast 334 votes.

At the conclusion of the directors' meeting, held later in the day, President Edward E. Brown announced the promotion of five officers. Louis H. Northrop and Vernard S. Higby, assistant cashiers, were elected assistant vice presidents. Robert G. Cullins, assistant secretary, was elected an assistant vice president. Charles Z. Meyer, auditor, was elected controler. Edmund Burke was promoted from assistant auditor to auditor.

Five new assistant cashiers were named. They were Charles A. Aspinwall Jr., Leslie H. Dreyer, Ellerton A. Lodge, R. Kenneth Newhall, and Edward H. Callies.

Northern Trust Makes Changes.

Several promotions also were announced by the Northern Trust company following the annual directors' meeting. Shareholders of the company met Monday and reëlected all directors.

Those promoted were: Carl H. Zeiss, from general attorney to vice president and general attorney; Frank M. Wallace, from second vice president to secretary and second vice president, and Clifford A. Zoll, from real estate department manager to second vice president. The retirement of Harold H. Rockwell, vice president and secretary, and William H. Mooney, assistant cashier, was announced. All other officers were reelected. Charles W. Riedel and Walter H. Damon were appointed assistant cashiers, and Robert Andrew Brown was named assistant secretary.

All directors and officers of the City National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago were reëlected.

Drovers National Dividend.

Directors of the Drovers National bank ordered payment of dividends totaling 3 per cent on the bank's stock. A payment of 1½ per cent will be made April 1 to stockholders of record March 31. The remaining 1½ per cent will be distributed July 1 to holders of record June 30. All directors and officers of the bank were reëlected.

Frederick L. Regnery, a partner in the Western Shade Cloth company, was elected a member of the board of the Central National bank in Chicago. All other directors were reelected. They will meet this afternoon to choose the bank's officers for 1939.

PRICES OF PORK DROP IN CANADA ON U. S. EXPORTS

There was a severe collapse of pork and hog markets throughout Canada yesterday as a result of the heavy selling of pork over the border by American packers since the first of the year, when tarif rates on exports to Canada were cut in half. In the reciprocal trade agreement which became effective Jan. 1 the duty on fresh pork from this country was reduced to $1.25 a hundred pounds. It had been $2.50.

Markets in Canada where hogs had been selling from $9.50 to $10.00 just prior to the tarif reduction, reported $8.00 to $8.75 for hogs yesterday, with a corresponding decline in pork prices. The decline wiped out profits on exports from this country.

Top hog prices at the leading packing centers in the United States yesterday ranged from $7.40 to $8.35, making it impossible temporarily to export pork with any hope of profit. Just before the cut in duties the range was $7.30 to $8.60.

N. Y. BANK CHIEFS OPTIMISTIC BUT HIT U. S. POLICIES

New York, Jan. 10.—[Special.]—Several of the nation's leading bankers expressed restrained optimism about the country's business future at annual stockholders' meetings today. Conflicting opinions were advanced, however, about government fiscal policies. Personnel changes also were announced.

One of the outstanding developments of the day was the retirement of Jackson E. Reynolds as chairman of the First National bank of New York. Reynolds' decision leaves Leon Fraser, president and one of the youngest Wall street banking executives, in full charge.

Cornelius Vanderbilt, who has been in ill health for some time, retired as a director of the Chase National bank.

HOG SLAUGHTER UNUSUALLY BIG FOR DECEMBER

Slaughtering of hogs in the United States during last month was the second largest for any December since 1933, and one of the largest for that month in seven years. The department of agriculture reported yesterday that packers under federal inspection in this country killed 4,346,079 hogs during the month. This compared with 3,958,456 during December, 1937.

During the twelve months of 1938 packers slaughtered 36,186,410 head, compared with 31,642,140 in 1937. This was the largest twelve months' total in four years.

GERMAN PEOPLE PAY HEAVILY FOR TRADE JUGGLING

Nazi Trickery Abroad Is Boomerang.

England and other countries are also tied up. The Nazis resort to their old game of expropriating the free exchange and paying the manufacturer in paper marks.

Near Bottom of Reserves.

In forcing German holders to sell their investments abroad, Germany is scraping close to the bottom of her reserve tanks. Yet she finds this practice necessary to hold up her foreign trade and at the same time continue to arm and feed her people.

Germany's industrial capacity is limited and her production is leveling off. She can buy needed raw materials only by shipping finished goods. To buy more goods, she must either cut down on armaments—and weaken the basis of Hitler's military program in Europe—or cut down on the people's use of goods at home. The belt tightening at home has already deprived German citizens of many necessities.

Germany's trade with the Balkans and Latin America, moreover, is not large enough to make her independent of other parts of the world. It is estimated that countries of southeastern Europe could supply only 20 per cent of Nazi import requirements if they shipped all of their exports to Germany.

Needs to Buy from U. S.

Germany needs to buy from the United States, the British empire, and France. She has clearing agreements with Britain and France, but has antagonized them by her trade policies. British traders, incensed by the body blows Nazis have landed on British sales in South America by ruthless underselling, are looking elsewhere than Germany for places to buy and sell goods. France has been similarly aroused.

In the United States—where Germany would like to buy much cotton, copper, iron, and wheat—the Nazis have the least prospect of doing much business. Germany is the only country on our blacklist. This means that when the United States makes a reciprocal trade agreement with another nation—as it has done with England—the lower tarifs granted on imports from such a nation will not be granted on the same products from Germany. Under the "most favored nation" clause in such treaties all nations get the benefit of such tarif concessions except those on the blacklist.

Schemes React on Germany.

Germany's clever schemes of clearing agreements and export subsidies have thus doubled back on her to her disadvantage in many cases.

These agreements can be successful only with countries that have exchange restrictions. Only such countries can decide that their exporters will sell as much as their importers buy. Thus, Germany and Italy are leaning more and more on each other in trade, although each lacks many goods the other needs.

WHEAT AND CORN PRICES DECLINE IN QUIET TRADE

CHICAGO GRAIN PRICES

Closing prices on the May delivery of principal grains on the Chicago Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Monday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$ .68⅞	$ .69	$ .96
Corn	.52⅝	.52⅞	.61⅛
Oats	.29¾	.30	.32⅝
Rye	.47	.47¼	.76¾
Soy beans	.83¼	.83¼	1.00

Wheat and corn futures declined about ½ cent a bushel in the early trading on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday. Buying on resting orders checked the recession, and a moderate rally from the low point followed. Wheat closed ⅛ cent a bushel lower. That grain has closed lower for six consecutive days. Corn futures finished ¼ cent lower.

Outside interest in grain markets yesterday was unusually quiet. Trading was restricted by a disposition to await the outcome of an international wheat conference, which assembled in London yesterday, and fears that a department of agriculture estimate on farm reserves to be issued after the close might be materially out of line with expectations of brokers.

Court Will Decide Fidelity Association Contest Today

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Federal Judge William E. Baker announced today at the conclusion of attorneys' arguments he would give a decision tomorrow in receivership proceedings against the Fidelity Investment association, nation-wide investment loan firm.

USED AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE.

PRICES TALK

That is why we advertise our prices so prominently.

We honestly believe that we sell better used cars at lower prices than you will find elsewhere. We can only prove that statement by asking you to visit one of our stores and see for yourself the condition of the cars we offer for sale and their low prices.

You will learn a lot about used cars by reading our free booklet, "What Every Used Car Buyer Should Know."

Here are a few examples of the many excellent bargains we have to offer.

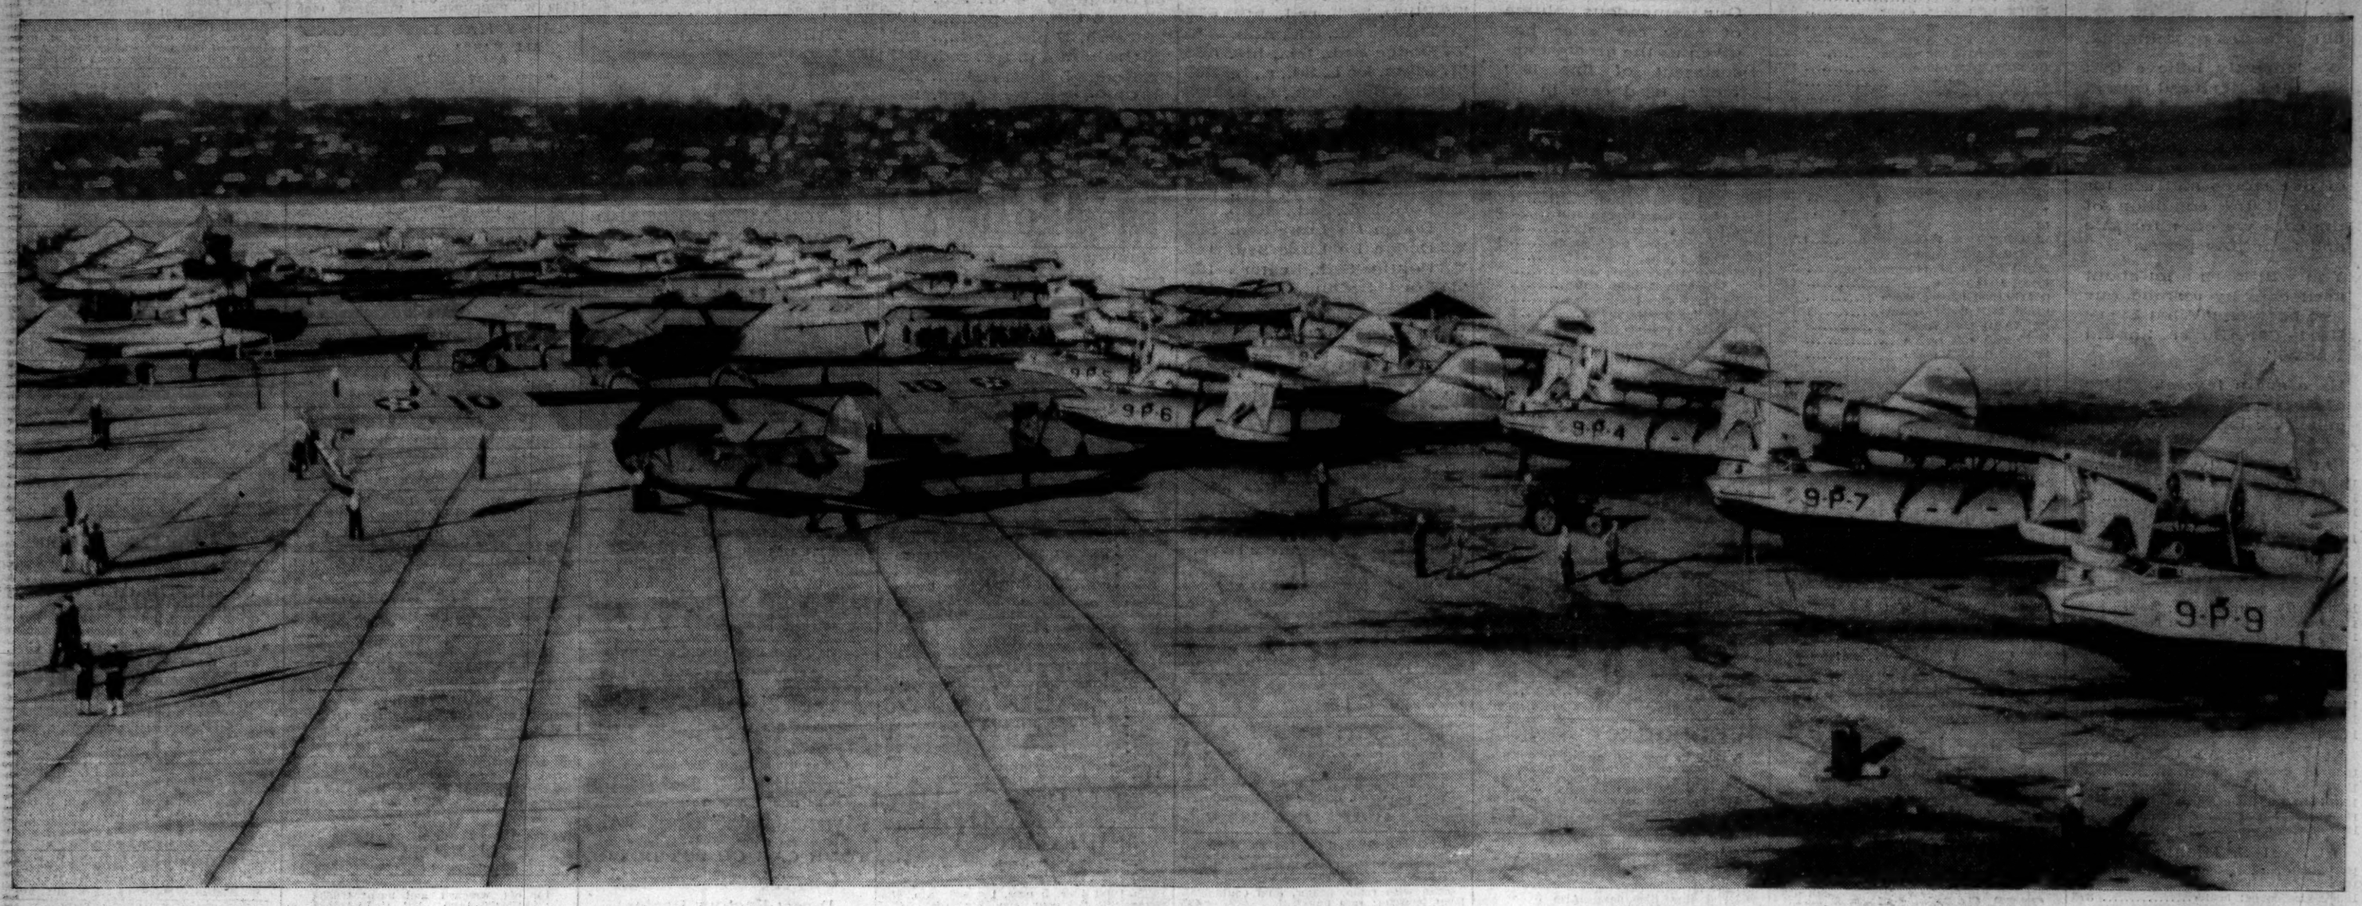
Sixty-six Navy Planes Begin Mass Flights to War Games—U. S. Jury Indicts Jack Benny on Smuggling Charge



[Associated Press Wirephoto.]
